PREFACE TO VOLUME II.

THE present volume contains the Statutes affecting Railway Companies up to the close of 1888, frequent references being provided to the pages at which the various sections and the decisions upon them are dealt with in the Second Volume. The Statutes are followed by the Rules and Orders made under them, with the exception of the Board of Trade Rules under section 24 of the Act of 1888, the volume having been delayed up to the present time in order that it might include the Orders of the Railway and Canal Commission, in connection with which the Editor would direct special attention to the "interim injunction" newly provided by Rule 34, and the provision for joint applications made by Rule 13.

The Board of Trade Rules under section 24 of the Act of 1888 having been printed, with annotations, in the Appendix to the First Volume, it has been deemed unnecessary to repeat them. It has been stated that some prolongation of the short period (eight weeks) allowed by Rule 11 for transmitting objections has been asked for from many quarters, and the Editor would venture to express the opinion that some prolongation would be reasonable.

The full reprint of the Standing Orders of both Houses of Parliament (of which a summary is given in the First Volume), and of the extracts from the Model Railway Bill, as most recently revised, which follows the Rules and Orders, will, it is hoped, render the work more useful to practitioners before Parliamentary Committees. Particular attention is directed to the recent Standing Orders which allow interest to be paid on calls (L. S. O. 128 ; C. S. O. 167) and to the Standing Order of the House of Commons (C. S. O. 133A) which allows Chambers of Commerce or Agriculture, on petition against an extension bill, to be heard against rates and fares authorized by any existing Act of the company promoting it.

A collection of the rather important cases decided since the publication of the First Volume will be found after the Table of Contents, and it will be found that the High Court has issued a prohibition in the Distington case.

An Act for the Payment of Constables for keeping the Peace near Public Works. [10th August, 1838.]

Whereas great mischiefs have arisen by the outrageous and unlawful behaviour of labourers and others employed on railroads, canals, and other public works, by reason whereof the appointment of special constables is often necessary for keeping the peace, and for the protection of the inhabitants and security of the property in the neighbourhood of such public works, whereby great expenses have been cast upon the public rates of counties and other districts chargeable with such expenses; be it therefore enacted, That after the passing of this act, whenever any special constables shall be appointed under the authority of an act passed in the second year of the reign of his late Majesty, intituled "An Act for amending the Laws relative to the Appointment of Special Constables, and for the better Preservation of the Peace (c), or under the authority of an act passed in the sixth year of the reign of his late Majesty, intituled "An Act for enlarging the Powers of Magistrates in the Appointment of Special Constables (d), and it shall be made to appear to any two or more justices of the peace of any county, riding, or division having a separate commission of the peace, or of any liberty, franchise, city, town, or borough, in England or Wales, on the oath of three or more credible witnesses, that the appointment of such special constables has been occasioned by the behaviour, or by reasonable apprehension of the behaviour, of the persons employed upon any railway, canal, or other public work made or carried on under the authority of Parliament within the district or division for which such justices usually act, it shall be lawful for such justices as aforesaid, at any time not exceeding one calendar month next after such appointment to make orders from time to time upon the treasurer or other officer who shall have the control or custody of the funds of any company making or carrying on such railroad, canal, or other public work, for the payment of such reasonable allowances for their trouble, loss of time and expenses to such special constables who shall have so served or be then serving as to the said justices shall seem proper; and a copy of every such order shall be sent by the justices to one of her Majesty's principal Secretaries of State, and such order, if allowed by the Secretary of State, shall be binding on such company, and on every such treasurer and officer thereof : provided always, that nothing herein contained shall empower any such justices to order any allowance for any such special constables at the rate of more than five shillings daily to be paid to each special constable employed for the purposes aforesaid.

Secretary of State may reduce excessive orders.

2. And be it enacted, that if it shall appear to the Secretary of State that there was no need for the appointment of such special constables, or that a greater number of special constables was appointed than was needed by reason of the behaviour, or reasonable apprehension of the behaviour, of the persons employed on such railroad, canal, or other public work as aforesaid, the Secretary of State shall have power to disallow any such order, or to reduce the amount ordered to be paid by any such order, in such manner as to him shall seem just according to the circumstances of each case ; and in such case the order shall be of no force, or shall be of force for such reduced amount only, as the case may be ; and the whole of such expenses in case the whole shall be disallowed, or so much thereof as shall exceed such reduced amount if a part shall be allowed, shall be defrayed out of the public rates of such county, riding, or division, liberty, franchise, city, town, or borough, as if this act had not been made.

3. And be it enacted, that in all cases where such treasurer or other officer as aforesaid shall refuse or neglect, during three weeks next after demand thereof, to pay such sum of money as shall have been ordered by such justices, and allowed by the Secretary of State as aforesaid, it shall be lawful for such justices to cause the same to be levied by distress upon the goods and chattels belonging to such company.

2. That it shall be lawful for the Postmaster-General (if he shall see fit) to require that the whole of the inside of any carriage used on any railway for the conveyance of mails or post letter-bags shall be exclusively appropriated for the purpose of carrying the mails.

3. That the company of proprietors of any such railway shall, on being required so to do by the Postmaster-General, provide and furnish (in addition to the carriages aforesaid) a separate carriage or separate carriages, fitted up as the Postmaster-General, or such person as he shall nominate in that behalf, shall direct, for the purpose of sorting letters therein, and shall forward the same carriage or carriages by their railway, at such hours or times, and subject to all such reasonable regulations as aforesaid, as the Postmaster-General shall in that behalf order or direct; and such company of proprietors shall receive, take up, carry and convey in any such last-mentioned carriage or carriages, all such post letter-bags and officers of the Post Office as the Postmaster-General shall reasonably require, and shall deliver and leave any post letter-bags and officers of the Post Office at such places on the line of the railway as the Postmaster-General shall in that behalf from time to time reasonably order and direct.

4. That, in case the Postmaster-General shall at any time be desirous of sending by any such railway any of her Majesty's mail coaches or mail carts, with the mails or post letter-bags and guards thereof, and carriages for sorting letters, with any officers of the Post Office therein, instead of sending the said mails or post letter-bags, guards and officers of the Post Office by carriages to be provided by such railway company as aforesaid, then and in any such case such railway company shall, at the request of the Postmaster-General, signified by such notice as aforesaid, cause such mail coaches or mail carts, with the mails or post letter-bags and guards thereof, and carriages for sorting letters, with any officers of the Post Office therein, to be conveyed by the usual or proper trucks or frames on their said railway, subject to such regulations and restrictions of the Postmaster-General as hereinbefore mentioned.

5. That for the greater security of the mails or post letter-bags so to be carried or conveyed by railways, the company of proprietors of such respective railways along which such mails or post letter-bags, mail coaches or Remuneration to railway companies for conveyance of mails.

6. That every company of proprietors of any railway along which such mails or post letter-bags, mail coaches, carts or carriages shall be so required by the Postmaster-General to be conveyed, shall be entitled to such reasonable remuneration to be paid by the Postmaster-General to any such company of proprietors for the conveyance of such mails, post letter-bags, mail guards, and other officers of the Post Office, mail coaches, carts and carriages in manner required by such Postmaster-General, or by such officer of the Post Office as he shall in that behalf nominate as aforesaid, as shall (either prior to or after the commencement of such service) be fixed and agreed on between the Postmaster-General and such company of proprietors, or in case of difference of opinion between them, then as shall be determined by arbitration as hereinafter provided, but so that the services which may be required by the Postmaster-General, or by such officer of the Post Office as he in that behalf shall nominate as aforesaid, to be performed by any such company of proprietors, be not suspended, postponed or deferred by reason of such remuneration not having been then fixed or agreed on between the said Postmaster-General and such company of proprietors, or by reason of the award on any reference to arbitration to determine the remuneration not having been then made.

Agreements between Postmaster-General and railway companies as to amount of remuneration, &c., may be altered.

7. That, notwithstanding any agreement entered into between the Postmaster-General and any such company, or any award to be made on any such reference as aforesaid, fixing the amount of remuneration to be paid to such company for any services to be rendered by them as aforesaid, it shall be lawful and competent to and for the Postmaster-General, by notice in writing, to require, from and after the day to be named in any such notice, not being less than twenty-eight days from the delivery thereof, any addition to be made to the services in respect of which such agreement shall be entered into or award made; and in any such case, and also in case of a discontinuance of any part of such services as hereinafter provided, a fresh agreement shall be entered into between the Postmaster-General and such company, regulating the future amount of remuneration to be paid by the Postmaster-General to such company for such increased or diminished services, as the case may be; or if the parties cannot agree on such amount, the same shall be referred to arbitration in like manner as hereinbefore is mentioned and hereinafter provided as to any original agreement; and such arbitrators shall have power to award any compensation they may consider reasonable to be paid to any railway company for any loss that may have been occasioned to them by the discontinuance or alteration of the services previously agreed to be performed by them by any train or carriage specially required by the Postmaster-General to be forwarded for the conveyance of the mails, but so that nevertheless such increased or diminished services shall not be suspended, postponed or deferred by reason of the amount of such increased or diminished remuneration not having been then fixed or agreed on between the Postmaster-General and such company of proprietors, or by reason of the award on any reference to arbitration to determine the amount of such increased or diminished remuneration not having been then made.

8. That it shall be lawful for the Postmaster-General, and he is hereby authorised, at any time during the continuance of the services of any company of proprietors as aforesaid, to give to such company, by writing under his (i) hand, six calendar months' previous notice that such services, or any part thereof, shall cease and determine; and thereupon, at the expiration of such six calendar months' notice, the said services, or such part thereof as aforesaid, and the remuneration for the same, shall cease and determine.

Postmaster-General may terminate services of railway companies on notice;

9. That it shall be lawful for the Postmaster-General at any time during the continuance of the services of any company of proprietors as aforesaid, by notice in writing under his (i) hand, absolutely to determine and put an end to the same or any part thereof, without giving any previous notice, or on giving any notice less than six calendar months in respect thereof, and thereupon the said services shall cease and determine accordingly: provided, nevertheless, that in case the Postmaster-General shall, without giving six calendar months' notice as aforesaid, at any time determine the services to be required by the Postmaster-General of any company of proprietors, or any part of such services, without any cause whatever, or for any cause other than the default by such company of proprietors in the performance of any of the services to be required of them by the Postmaster-General, or the breach by such company of proprietors of any of their engagements with the Postmaster-General, then and in any such case the Postmaster-General shall make to such company a full and fair compensation for all loss thereby occasioned; the amount whereof, in case the parties differ about the same, shall be ascertained by arbitration as hereinafter mentioned.

or without notice, subject to payment of a compensation.

10. That on all carriages to be provided for the service of the Post Office on any such railway there shall on the outside be painted the royal arms, in lieu of the name of the owner and of the number of the carriage, and of all other requisites, if any, prescribed by law in respect of carriages passing on any such railway; but the want of such royal arms on any carriage belonging to or used by the Post Office shall not form an objection to such carriage running on any railway, anything to the contrary notwithstanding.

Royal arms to be painted on engines or carriages provided for Post Office.

11. That it shall not be competent or lawful to or for the company of proprietors of any railway to make any bye-laws, orders, rules or regulations which shall militate against or be contrary or repugnant to any of the enactments herein contained; and that if any company of proprietors shall make or shall have made any such bye-laws, orders, rules, or regulations, either prior or subsequently to the Postmaster-General signifying to the said company his intention that the mails or post letter-bags, mail coaches, carts, or carriages shall be conveyed by such railway, all such bye-laws, orders, rules and regulations, so far as they shall militate against or be contrary or repugnant to any of the enactments herein contained, shall Postmaster-General may require railway companies to give security by bond.

13. That it shall be lawful for the Postmaster-General, if he shall so think fit, to require the company of proprietors of any railway already made, or in progress, or to be hereafter made within the United Kingdom, to give security by bond to her Majesty, her heirs and successors, conditioned to be void if such company shall from time to time carry or convey, or cause to be carried or conveyed, all such mails or post letter-bags, mail guards and other officers of the Post Office, mail coaches, carts, and carriages, in manner hereinbefore mentioned, when thereunto required by the Postmaster-General or any officer of the Post Office duly authorized for that purpose, and shall receive, take up, deliver, and leave all such mails or post letter-bags, guards, and officers, mail coaches, carts, and carriages, at such places, at such times, on such days, and subject to such regulations and restrictions as to speed of travelling, places, times, and duration of stoppages, as hereinbefore mentioned, and shall obey, observe and perform all such regulations respecting the same as the Postmaster-General shall reasonably make, and shall well and truly do and perform, and cause to be done and performed, all such other acts, matters and things as by this act are required or directed to be done or performed by or on the part or behalf of such company, their officers, servants and agents; and every such bond shall be taken in such sum and in such form as the Postmaster-General shall think proper; and every such security shall be renewed from time to time, whenever and so often as such bond shall be forfeited, and also whenever and so often as the Postmaster-General shall in his discretion require the same to be renewed; and if any company of proprietors of any such railway as aforesaid shall when so required as aforesaid, refuse or neglect, for the space of one calendar month next after the delivery of any notice for such purpose to them given by or from the Postmaster-General, to execute to her Majesty, her heirs and successors, such bond to the effect and in manner aforesaid, or shall at any time refuse or neglect to renew such bond, whenever and so often as the same shall, by or in pursuance of Provided always, That in all cases in which any railway, or part of a railway, may previous to the passing of this act have been demised or let by the company of proprietors thereof, the body corporate or company, or other persons to whom the same shall have been so demised or let, their successors, executors, administrators, or assigns, shall during the continuance of such lease be liable to all the provisions of this act, for or in respect of such railway or part of a railway, in lieu of such company of proprietors; but so that such lessees (not being a body corporate or company), their executors, administrators or assigns, shall not be required in respect of any such railway or part of a railway, to give security under the foregoing enactment to any amount in any one bond exceeding the sum of one thousand pounds, and shall not in any one year be liable in damages to be recovered upon any bonds which they may have given to any amount exceeding the sum of one thousand pounds and costs of suit.

Lessees of railway, not being a body corporate or company, not to be required to give security by bond above 1,000*l*.

15. That all notices under the provisions of this act, by or on behalf of the Postmaster-General to any company of proprietors of any railway as aforesaid, shall be considered as duly served on any company of proprietors in case the same shall be given or delivered to any one or more of the directors of such company, or to the secretary or clerk of such company, or be left at any station belonging to such company.

Service of notices.

16. That in all cases in which the Postmaster-General and any company of proprietors of any railway shall not be able to agree on the amount of remuneration or compensation to be paid by the Postmaster-General to such company of proprietors for any services performed, or to be performed by them as hereinbefore mentioned, the same shall be referred to the award of two persons, one to be named by the Postmaster-General and the other by such company; and if such two persons cannot agree on the amount of such remuneration or compensation, then to the umpirage of some third person, to be appointed by such two first-named persons previously to their entering upon the inquiry; and the said award or umpirage, as the case may be, shall be binding and conclusive on the said parties, and their respective successors and assigns.

Arbitration as to amount of compensation.

17. That after any contract entered into or award made under the authority of this act shall have continued in operation for a period of three years, it shall be competent for any railway company who may consider themselves aggrieved by the terms of remuneration fixed by such contract or award, by notice under their common seal, to require that it shall be referred to arbitrators to determine whether any and what alteration ought to be made therein; and thereupon such arbitrators or umpire, to be appointed as hereinbefore mentioned, shall proceed to inquire into the circumstances and make their award therein, as in the case of an original agreement; provided always, that the services performed by such railway company for the Post Office shall in nowise be interrupted or impeded thereby.

Arbitration as to alteration of terms.

18. That in all references to be made under the authority of this act, the Postmaster-General, or the railway company, as the case may be, shall nominate his or their arbitrator within fourteen days after notice from the other party, or in default, it shall be lawful for the arbitrator appointed by the party giving notice to name the other arbitrator; and such arbitrators shall proceed forthwith in the reference, and make their award therein within twenty-eight days after their appointment, or otherwise the matter shall be left to be determined by the umpire; and if such umpire shall

19. That whenever the term "company of proprietors," or "railway company," or "company," is used in this act, the same shall extend to and be construed to include the proprietors for the time being of any railway, whether a body corporate or individuals, and also (during the continuance of any demise or lease as aforesaid) any person, whether a body corporate, or company, or individuals, to whom any railway or part of a railway may, previous to the passing of this act, have been demised or let, and their successors, executors, administrators and assigns, unless the subject or context be otherwise repugnant to such construction: and that the provisions of this act shall be construed according to the respective interpretations of the terms and expressions contained in an act passed in the first year of the reign of her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for consolidating the Laws relative to Offences against the Post Office of the United Kingdom, and for regulating the Judicial Administration of the Post Office Laws, and for explaining certain Terms and Expressions employed in those Laws," so far as those interpretations are not repugnant to the subject or inconsistent with the context of such provisions; and that this present act shall be deemed and construed to be a Post Office act, within the intent and meaning of the said last-mentioned act; and the pecuniary penalties hereby imposed shall be recovered and recoverable in the manner and form therein particularly mentioned and expressed with reference to the pecuniary penalties imposed by the Post Office acts: provided, nevertheless, that any justice of the peace having jurisdiction for any county through which any railway shall pass in respect of which any penalty or forfeiture under this act shall have been incurred, shall and may hear and determine any offence against this act which may subject any company to a pecuniary penalty not exceeding twenty pounds; and a summons issued under the Post Office acts by any such justice against any railway company for the recovery of any such penalty shall be deemed to be sufficiently served in case either the summons or a copy thereof be delivered to any officer, servant, or agent of such company, or be left at any station belonging to such company.

Repeal of provisions in special acts empowering justices to decide disputes as to proper places for openings in ledges or flanches.

18. And whereas many railway companies are bound, by the provisions of the acts of Parliament by which they are incorporated or regulated, to make, at the expense of the owner or occupier of lands adjoining the railway, openings in the ledges or flanches thereof (except at certain places on such railway in the said act specified), for effecting communications between such railway and any collateral or branch railway to be laid down over such lands, and any disagreement or difference which shall arise as to the proper places for making any such openings in the ledges or flanches is by such acts directed to be referred to the decision of any two justices of the peace within their respective jurisdictions; and whereas it is expedient that so much of every clause, provision and enactment in any act of Parliament heretofore passed, as gives to any justice or justices the power of hearing or deciding upon any such disagreement or difference as to the proper places for any such openings in the ledges or flanches of any railway, should be repealed: be it therefore enacted, That so much of every such clause, provision and enactment as aforesaid shall be repealed.

Board of Trade to determine such disputes in future.

19. That in case any disagreement or difference shall arise between any such owner or occupier, or other persons, and any railway company, as to the proper places for any such openings in the ledges or flanches of any railway, (except at such places as aforesaid,) for the purpose of such com-

20. [Communications to Board of Trade to be left at their office. Notices, &c. by the Board duly signed to be deemed authentic, and service on a director, &c. to be good service on company: Repealed 31 & 32 Vict. c. 119, s. 17; see now s. 39 of that act, post.]

21. That wherever the word "railway" is used in this act it shall be construed to extend to all railways constructed under the powers of any act of Parliament, and intended for (g) the conveyance of passengers in or upon carriages drawn or impelled by the power of steam or by any other mechanical power; and wherever the word "company" is used in this act, it shall be construed to extend to and include the proprietors for the time being of any such railway, whether a body corporate or individuals, and their lessees, executors, administrators and assigns, unless the subject or context be repugnant to such construction.

Whereas by an act passed in the third and fourth years of the reign of her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for regulating Railways," provision was made for the supervision of railways; and whereas it is expedient for the safety of the public to make further provision for that purpose; be it enacted,

6. That if the officer or officers appointed by the Lords of the said committee to inspect any such railway or portion of railway shall, after inspection thereof, report in writing to the Lords of the said committee that, in his or their opinion, the opening of the same would be attended with danger to the public using the same, by reason of the incompleteness of the works or permanent way, or the insufficiency of the establishment for working such railway, together with the grounds of such opinion, it shall be lawful for the Lords of the said committee, and so from time to time, as often as such officers shall, after further inspection thereof, so report, to order and direct the company to whom such railway shall belong, to postpone such opening for any period not exceeding one calendar month at any one time, until it shall appear to the Lords of the said committee that such opening may take place without danger to the public; and if any such railway, or any portion thereof, shall be opened contrary to any such order and direction of the Lords of the said committee, the company to whom such railway shall belong shall forfeit to her Majesty the sum of twenty pounds for every day during which the same shall continue open contrary to such order and direction; and any such penalty may be recovered in any of her Majesty's courts of record, or in the Court of Session, or in any of the sheriffs' courts in Scotland: Provided always, that no such order as aforesaid shall be binding upon any railway company unless therewith shall be delivered to the said company a copy of the report of the officer or officers on which such order shall be founded (t).

Gates at level crossings to be kept closed across the road.
[See vol. I.
ch. IX, sect. 4.]

9. And whereas by an act passed in the second and third years of her present Majesty and intituled "An Act to amend an Act of the Fifth and Sixth Years of his late Majesty King William the Fourth, relating to Highways," it was enacted, that whenever a railway crosses, or shall hereafter cross, any turnpike road, or any other highway or statute labour road for carts or carriages in Great Britain, the proprietors or directors of the said railway shall make and maintain good and sufficient gates across each end of such turnpike or other road at each end of the said crossings, and shall employ good and proper persons to open and shut such gates, so that the persons, carts or carriages passing along such turnpike or other road shall not be exposed to any danger or damage by the passing of any carriages or engines along the said railway: And whereas by the acts relating to certain railways it is provided that such gates shall be kept constantly closed across the railway, except during the time when carriages or engines passing along the railway shall have to cross such turnpike or other road; and whereas experience has shown that it is more conducive to safety that such gates should be kept closed across the turnpike or other road instead of across the railway: be it therefore enacted, That, notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in any act of Parliament heretofore passed such gates shall be kept constantly closed across each end of such turnpike or other roads, in lieu of across the railway, except during the time when horses, cattle, carts or carriages, passing along such turnpike or other road, shall have to cross such railway: and such gates shall be of such dimensions, and so constructed as, when closed across the ends of such turnpike or other roads, to fence in the railway, and prevent cattle or horses passing along the road from entering upon the railway while the gates are closed:

(t) See also 34 & 35 Vict. c. 78, s. 5, and 36 & 37 Vict. c. 76, s. 6, post.

Provided always, that it shall be lawful for the Lords of the said committee, in any case in which they are satisfied that it will be more conducive for the public safety that the gates at any level crossing over any such turnpike or other road should be kept closed across the railway, to order and direct that such gates shall be kept so closed, instead of across the road; and such order of the Lords of the said committee shall be a sufficient authority for the directors or proprietors of any railway company to whom such order is addressed, for keeping such gates closed, in the manner directed by the Lords of the said committee (t).

Board of Trade may order gates to be kept closed across railway

10. And whereas it is expedient that further provision be made for the safety of the public in respect of the fences of railways (t): be it enacted, That all railway companies shall be under the same liability of obligation to erect, and to maintain and repair, good and sufficient fences throughout the whole of their respective lines, as they would have been if every part of such fences had been originally ordered to be made under an order of justices, by virtue of the provisions to that effect in the acts of Parliament relating to such railways respectively (u).

11. Where two or more railway companies whose railways have a common terminus or a portion of the same line of rails in common, or which form separate portions of one continued line of railway communication, shall not be able to agree upon arrangements for conducting at such common terminus, or at the point of junction between them, their joint traffic with safety to the public, it shall be lawful for the Lords of the said committee, upon the application of either of the parties, to decide the questions in dispute between them, so far as the same relate to the safety of the public, and to order and determine whether the whole or what proportion of the expenses attending on such arrangements shall be borne by either of the parties respectively; and if any railway company shall refuse or wilfully neglect to obey any such order made upon or against such company by the Lords of the said committee pursuant to this provision, such company shall forfeit to her Majesty the sum of twenty pounds per day for every day during which such refusal or neglect shall continue; and every such penalty may be recovered in any of her Majesty's courts of record, or in the Court of Session, or in any of the sheriffs' courts in Scotland.

Disputes between connecting railways to be decided by the Board of Trade.

12. And whereas powers of laying down branch lines opening into the ledges or flanches of main lines of railway, and of entering upon and passing along such main lines with carriages and waggons drawn by locomotive engines, or by other mechanical or animal power, and also powers to form roads or railways across existing railways on a level, have been given by various acts relative to railways, to the owners or occupiers of lands adjoining the railway, and to other persons with their consent; and whereas experience has shown that the exercise of such powers without limitation would in many cases be attended with danger to the public using such railway: be it therefore enacted, That if, in the case of any railway on which passengers are conveyed by steam or other mechanical power, it shall appear to the Lords of the said committee that such power as aforesaid cannot be so exercised without seriously endangering the public safety, and that an arrangement may be made with a due regard to existing rights of property, it shall be lawful for the Lords of the said committee to order and direct that such powers shall only be exercised subject to such conditions as the Lords of the said committee shall direct: Provided always, that no railway shall be considered a passenger railway if two-thirds or more of the gross annual revenue of such railway shall be derived from the carriage thereon of coals, ironstone, or other metals or minerals.

Powers of making branch communication with railways, and of entering upon them with locomotive engines, to be regulated by the Board of Trade.

Board of Trade
may authorise substitution of bridge for level crossing.

[See 1 pl. I.
ch. IX, sect. 4.]

13. And whereas in many cases railways have been made to cross turnpike roads, highways and private roads and tramways on the level, and the companies to whom such railways belong would in some cases be willing, at their own expense, to carry such roads and tramways over or under such railways by means of a bridge or archway for the greater safety of the public, but have no authority so to do : And whereas it would promote the public safety if railway companies were enabled, under the sanction and authority of the Lords of the said committee, to substitute bridges or archways for such level crossings as aforesaid : be it therefore enacted, That in all cases where any railway company shall be willing, at their own expense, to carry any turnpike road, highway or private road or tramway over or under their railway by means of a bridge or arch in lieu of crossing the same on the level, it shall be lawful for the Lords of the said committee, on the application of the said company, and after hearing the several parties interested, if it shall appear to the Lords of the said committee that such level crossing endangers the public safety, and that the proposal of the company does not involve any violation of existing rights or interests without adequate compensation, to give the said company full power and authority for removing the danger at their own expense, either by building a bridge or by such other arrangement as the nature of the case shall require, subject to such conditions as the Lords of the said committee shall direct (x).

Board of Trade
may authorize railway companies to enter upon adjoining lands to repair accidents.

14. And whereas it is essential for the public safety, and also for the proper maintenance of railways in a state of efficiency for the public service, that railway companies should have the power, in case of accidents or slips happening, or being apprehended, to their cuttings and embankments or other works, to enter upon the lands adjoining their respective railways, for the purpose of repairing or renewing the same, and to do such works as may be necessary for the purpose : be it therefore enacted, That it shall be lawful for the Lords of the said committee to empower any railway company, in case of any accident or slip happening or being apprehended to any cutting, embankment or other work belonging to them, to enter upon any lands adjoining their railway for the purpose of repairing or preventing such accident, and to do such works as may be necessary for the purpose : Provided always, that in case of necessity, it shall be lawful for any railway company to enter upon such lands, and do such works as aforesaid, without having obtained the previous sanction of the Lords of the said committee ; but in every such case such railway company shall, within forty-eight hours after such entry, make a report to the Lords of the said committee, specifying the nature of such accident or apprehended accident, and of the works necessary to be done ; and such powers shall cease and determine if the Lords of the said committee shall, after considering the said report, certify that their exercise is not necessary for the public safety : Provided also, that such works shall be as little injurious to the said adjoining lands as the nature of the accident, or apprehended accident, will admit of, and shall be executed with all possible despatch ; and full compensation shall be made to the owners and occupiers of such lands for the loss, or injury, or inconvenience sustained by them respectively by reason of such works ; the amount of which compensation, in case of any dispute about the same, shall be settled in the same manner as cases of disputed compensation are directed to be settled by the acts relating to the railway on which such works may become necessary : Provided always, that no land shall be taken permanently by any railway company for such works, without a certificate from the Lords of the said committee, as hereinafter described.

Compensation
to owners, &c.

(x) See also 26 & 27 Vict. c. 92, ss. 6, 7, 8, 10, post.

15. And whereas, by various acts relating to railways, compulsory powers are given to railway companies of purchasing and taking lands for the construction of such railways, and it is provided, that such compulsory powers shall not be exercised after the expiration of certain limited periods from the passing of the said acts (y) : and whereas it is sometimes found necessary for the public safety that additional land shall be taken after the expiration of such periods, for the purpose of giving increased width to the embankments and inclination to the slopes of railways, or for making approaches to bridges or archways, or for doing such works for the repair or prevention of accidents as are hereinbefore described : be it therefore enacted, That in every case in which the Lords of the said committee shall certify that the public safety requires additional land to be taken by any railway company for such purposes as aforesaid, the compulsory powers of purchasing and taking land contained in the act or acts of such railway company, together with all the clauses and provisions relative thereto, shall, as regards such portion or portions of land as are mentioned in the certificate of the Lords of the said committee, revive and be in full force for such further period as shall be mentioned in such certificate ; provided always, that any railway company applying to the Lords of the said committee for any such certificate shall give fourteen days' notice in writing, in the manner prescribed by the act or acts of such company for serving notices on land-owners, of their intention to make such application to all the parties interested in such lands, or such of them as shall be known to the company, and shall state in such notice the particulars of the lands required : and if any of such parties interested shall apply within the said period of fourteen days to the Lords of the said committee, such party shall be heard by them before any such certificate is given : provided also, that where any such application shall have been made by any railway company to the Lords of the said committee, upon which application any such certificate shall have been refused, the directors of such railway company shall, if required by the Lords of the said committee, repay to the party resisting such application any expenses which he or they may have incurred in resisting such application.

Board of Trade may authorize extension of compulsory powers of taking lands.

Notice to owners, &c.

16. And whereas, by various acts relating to railways, it is enacted, that no carriage or waggon shall carry or bear at any one time, upon the railway (including the weight of such carriage) more than four tons ; and experience has shown that it is in many cases more conducive to safety to use a heavier description of carriage or waggon upon railways than was originally contemplated : be it therefore enacted, That every provision contained in any such act or acts respectively limiting the weight to be carried or borne at any one time in any carriage or waggon upon any railway (including the weight of such carriage or waggon) to four tons, shall be and the same is hereby repealed ; and that, notwithstanding anything in any act contained, it shall be lawful for any railway company to use, and to permit to be used, upon any railway carriages or waggons carrying or bearing (including the weight of such carriage) a greater weight than four tons, subject to such regulations as may from time to time be made and be in force pursuant to any act or acts of Parliament already or hereafter to be passed in that behalf.

Carriages of greater weight than four tons may be used on railways.

17. And whereas by the said recited act for regulating railways (z), provision is made for the punishment of servants of railway companies guilty of misconduct, and it is expedient to extend such provision (a) ; be it enacted, That it shall be lawful for any officer or agent of any railway company, or

Railway servant guilty of misconduct may be taken without warrant before justice of the peace.

7 & 8 VICT. CAP. 85.

An Act to attach certain Conditions to the Construction of future Railways authorized, or to be authorized, by any Act of the present or succeeding Sessions of Parliament; and for other Purposes in relation to Railways (k). [9th August, 1844.]

Whereas it is expedient that the concession of powers for the establishment of new lines of railway should be subjected to such conditions as are hereinafter contained for the benefit of the public, be it enacted, That if at any time after the end of twenty-one years from and after the first day of January, next after the passing of any act of the present or of any future session of Parliament, for the construction of any new line of passenger railway, whether such new line be a trunk, branch or junction line, and whether such new line be constructed by a new company incorporated for the purpose, or by any existing company, the clear annual profits divisible upon the subscribed and paid-up capital stock of the said railway, upon the average of the three then last preceding years, shall equal or exceed the rate of ten pounds (l) for every hundred pounds of such paid-up capital stock, it shall be lawful for the Lords Commissioners of her Majesty's Treasury, subject to the provisions hereinafter contained, upon giving to the said company three calendar months' notice in writing of their intention so to do, to revise the scale of tolls, fares and charges limited by the act or acts relating to the said railway, and to fix such new scale of tolls, fares and charges applicable to such different classes and kinds of passengers, goods and other traffic on such railway, as in the judgment of the said Lords Commissioners, assuming the same quantities and kinds of traffic to continue, shall be likely to reduce the said divisible profits to the said rate of ten pounds in the hundred: Provided always, that no such revised scale shall take effect, unless accompanied by a guarantee to subsist as long as any such revised scale of tolls, fares and charges shall be in force, that the said divisible profits, in case of any deficiency therein, shall be annually

If, after 21 years from the passing of any future passenger railway act, the profits come to 10*l*. per cent., the Treasury may revise the scale of tolls and fix a new scale.

[See vol. I. ch. XII. sect. 1.]

(Guarantee of profits.—No further revision for 21 years.)

(k) This act was amended as to furnishing accounts by railway companies in Ireland by 30 & 31 Vict. c. 104, post. It is frequently termed the "Cheap Trains Act:" see s. 6.

(l) In a few special acts, the power conferred on the government of reducing the rate of tolls at the end of 21 years has been extended to a lower rate of profit than 10 per cent. Thus, the Great Western Amalgamation Act, 26 & 27 Vict. c. cxcviii. s. 64, limits the rate to 6 per cent.

made good to the said rate of ten pounds for every hundred pounds of such capital stock : Provided also, that such revised scale shall not be again revised or such guarantee withdrawn, otherwise than with the consent of the company, for the further period of twenty-one years.

Option of purchase of future railways, 21 years after then special acts.

Terms, 25 years' purchase or more.

2. Whatever may be the rate of divisible profits on any such railway, it shall be lawful for the said Lords Commissioners, if they shall think fit, subject to the provisions hereinafter contained, at any time after the expiration of the said term of twenty-one years, to purchase any such railway, with all its hereditaments, stock and appurtenances, in the name and on behalf of her Majesty, upon giving to the said company three calendar months' notice in writing of their intention, and upon payment of a sum equal to twenty-five years' purchase of the said annual divisible profits, estimated on the average of the three then next preceding years : Provided, that if the average rate of profits for the said three years shall be less than the rate of ten pounds in the hundred, it shall be lawful for the company, if they shall be of opinion that the said rate of twenty-five years' purchase of the said average profits is an inadequate rate of purchase of such railway, reference being had to the prospects thereof, to require that it shall be left to arbitration, in case of difference, to determine what (if any) additional amount of purchase-money shall be paid to the said company : Provided also, that such option of purchase shall not be exercised, except with the consent of the company, while any such revised scale of tolls, fares and charges shall be in force.

Saving for existing railways.

3. Provided always, That the option of revision or purchase shall not be applied to any railway made or authorized to be made by any act previous to the present session ; and that no branch or extension of less than five miles in length of any such line of railway shall be taken to be a new railway within the provisions of this act ; and that the said option of purchase shall not be exercised as regards any branch or extension of any railway, without including such railway in the purchase, in case the proprietors thereof shall require that the same be so included.

Reservation to future parliament of the consideration of policy in regard to the said options.

4. And whereas it is expedient, that the policy of revision or purchase should in no manner be prejudged by the provisions of this act, but should remain for the future consideration of the legislature, upon grounds of general and national policy : And whereas it is not the intention of this act that, under the said powers of revision or purchase, if called into use, the public resources should be employed to sustain an undue competition against any independent company or companies : be it enacted, That no such notice as hereinbefore mentioned, whether of revision or purchase, shall be given until provision shall have been made by Parliament, by an act or acts to be passed in that behalf, for authorizing the guarantee or the levy of the purchase-money hereinbefore mentioned, as the case may be, and for determining, subject to the conditions hereinbefore mentioned, the manner in which the said options or either of them shall be exercised ; and that no bill for giving powers to exercise the said options, or either of them, shall be received in either house of Parliament, unless it be recited in the preamble to such bill, that three months' notice of the intention to apply to Parliament for such powers has been given by the said Lords Commissioners to the company or companies to be affected thereby.

Accounts to be kept, and to be open to inspection

5. From and after the commencement of the period of three years next preceding the period at which the option of revision or purchase becomes available, full and true accounts shall be kept of all sums of money received and paid on account of any railway within the provisions hereinbefore contained (distinguishing, if the said railway shall be a branch railway or one worked in common with other railways, the receipts, and giving an estimate of the expenses on account of the said railway, from those on account of the trunk line or other railways), by the directors of the company to whom such railway belongs, or by whom the same may be worked; and every such railway company shall once in every half-year during the said period of three years cause a half-yearly account in abstract to be prepared, showing the total receipt and expenditure on account of the said railway for the half-year ending the thirtieth day of June and the thirty-first day of December respectively, or such other convenient days as shall in each case be directed by the said Lords Commissioners, under distinct heads of receipt and expenditure, with a statement of the balance of such account, duly audited and certified under the hands of two or more directors of the said railway company, and shall send a copy of the said account to the said Lords Commissioners on or before the last days of August and February respectively, or such other days as shall in each case be directed by the said Lords Commissioners in each year; and it shall be lawful for the said Lords Commissioners, if and when they shall think fit, to appoint any proper person or persons to inspect the accounts and books of the said company during the said period of three years; and it shall be lawful for any person so authorized, at all reasonable times, upon producing his authority, to examine the books, accounts, vouchers and other documents of the company, at the principal office or place of business of the company, and to take copies or extracts therefrom (m).

6. And whereas it is expedient to secure to the poorer class of travellers the means of travelling by railway at moderate fares, and in carriages in which they may be protected from the weather; be it enacted, That on and after the several days hereinafter specified, all passenger railway companies which shall have been incorporated by any act of the present session, or which shall be hereafter incorporated, or which by any act of the present or any future session have obtained or shall obtain, directly or indirectly, any extension or amendment of the powers conferred on them respectively by their previous acts, or have been or shall be authorized to do any act unauthorized by the provisions of such previous acts, shall, by means of one train at the least, to travel along their railway from one end to the other of each trunk, branch or junction line belonging to or leased by them, so long as they shall continue to carry other passengers over such trunk, branch, or junction line, once at the least each way on every week day, except Christmas-day and Good Friday (such exception not to extend to Scotland), provide for the conveyance of third-class passengers to and from the terminal and other ordinary passenger stations of the railway, under the obligations contained in their several acts of Parliament, and with the immunities applicable by law to carriers of passengers by railway; and also under the following conditions; (that is to say,)

Cheap trains.

Such train shall start at an hour to be from time to time fixed by the directors, subject to the approval of the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade and Plantations:

Conditions as to speed, stoppages and fare, &c.

Such train shall travel at an average rate of speed not less than twelve miles an hour for the whole distance travelled on the railway, including stoppages:

Such train shall, if required, take up and set down passengers at every passenger station which it shall pass on the line:

The carriages in which passengers shall be conveyed by such train shall be provided with seats, and shall be protected from the weather, in a manner satisfactory to the Lords of the said committee:

The fare or charge for each third-class passenger by such train shall not exceed one penny for each mile travelled.

Each passenger by such train shall be allowed to take with him half-a hundred weight of luggage, not being merchandize or other articles carried for hire or profit, without extra charge; and any excess of luggage shall be charged by weight, at a rate not exceeding the lowest rate of charge for passengers' luggage by other trains :

Children under three years of age, accompanying passengers by such train, shall be taken without any charge; and children of three years and upwards, but under twelve years of age, at half the charge for an adult passenger :

And with respect to all railways subject to these obligations, which shall be open on or before the first day of November next, these obligations shall come into force on the said first day of November: and with respect to all other railways subject to these obligations, they shall come into force on the day of opening of the railway, or the day after the last day of the session in which the act shall be passed by reason of which the company will become subject thereto, which shall first happen. [This section, with sects. 7, 8, 9, 10 and 12, is repealed, except as to Ireland, by the Cheap Trains Act, 1883, s. 10, and schedule. See that act, post.]

Penalty for not providing cheap train.

7. That if any railway company shall refuse or wilfully neglect to comply with the provisions of this act as to the said cheap trains within a reasonable time, or shall attempt to evade the operation of such order, such company shall forfeit to her Majesty a sum not exceeding twenty pounds for every day during which such refusal, neglect or evasion shall continue. [Repealed, except as to Ireland. See supra.]

Board of Trade to have discretionary power of allowing alternative arrangements.

8. Provided always, and be it enacted, That, except as to the amount of fare or charge for each passenger by such cheap trains, which shall in no case exceed the rates hereinbefore in such case provided, the Lords of the said committee shall have a discretionary power, upon the application of any railway company, of dispensing with any of the conditions hereinbefore required in regard to the conveyance of passengers by such cheap trains as aforesaid, in consideration of such other arrangements, either in regard to speed, covering from the weather, seats or other particulars, as to the Lords of the said committee shall appear more beneficial and convenient for the passengers by such cheap trains under the circumstances of the case, and shall be sanctioned by them accordingly; and any railway company which shall conform to such other conditions as shall be so sanctioned by the Lords of the said committee shall not be liable to any penalty for not observing the conditions which shall have been so dispensed with by the Lords of the said committee, in regard to the said cheap trains and the passengers conveyed thereby.

No tax.

9. That no tax shall be levied upon the receipts of any railway company from the conveyance of passengers at fares not exceeding one penny for each mile by any such cheap train as aforesaid. [Repealed, except as to Ireland. See supra.]

Sunday cheap trains.

10. That whenever any railway company subject to the hereinbefore-mentioned obligation of running cheap trains shall, from and after the days hereinbefore specified on which the said obligation is to accrue, run any train or trains on Sundays for the conveyance of passengers, it shall, under the obligations contained in its act or acts of Parliament, and with the immunities applicable by law to carriers of passengers by railway, by such train each way, on every Sunday, as shall stop at the greatest number of stations, provide sufficient carriages for the conveyance of third-class passengers at the terminal and other stations, at which such Sunday train may ordinarily stop; and the fare or charge for each third-class passenger by such train shall not exceed one penny for each mile travelled. [Repealed, except as to Ireland. See supra.]

11. And whereas by an act passed in the second year of the reign of her Majesty, intituled "An Act to provide for the Conveyance of the Mails by Railways," provision was made for the transmission of the mails by railway, and it is expedient that such provision should be extended; be it enacted, That it shall be lawful for the Postmaster-General to require, in the manner and subject to the conditions as to payment for service performed prescribed by the said act, that the mails be forwarded upon any such railway as is hereinbefore last mentioned at any rate of speed which the Inspector-General of Railways for the time being shall certify to be safe, not exceeding twenty-seven miles in the hour, including stoppages; and it shall be also lawful for the Postmaster-General to send any mail-guard with bags not exceeding the weight of luggage allowed to any other passenger (or subject to the general rules of the company for any excess of that weight) by any trains other than a mail train, upon the same conditions as any other passenger: Provided, that in such last-mentioned case nothing herein or in the last-recited act contained shall be construed to authorize the Postmaster-General to require the conversion of a regular mail train into an ordinary train, or to exercise any control over the company in respect of any ordinary train, nor shall the company be responsible for the safe custody or delivery of any mail bags so sent.

12. And whereas by an act passed in the sixth year of the reign of her Majesty, intituled, "An Act for the better Regulation of Railways, and for the Conveyance of Troops,"* it was among other things enacted, that, whenever it shall be necessary to move any of the officers or soldiers of her Majesty's forces of the line, ordnance corps, marines, militia, or the police force, by any railway, the directors thereof shall and are hereby required to permit such forces respectively, with their baggage, stores, arms, ammunition and other necessaries and things, to be conveyed at the usual hours of starting, at such prices, or upon such conditions as may from time to time be contracted for between the Secretary-at-War and such railway companies for the conveyance of such forces, on the production of a route or order for their conveyance, signed by the proper authorities; and whereas it is expedient to amend such provision in regard to the prices and conditions of conveyance by any new railway, or any railway obtaining new powers from Parliament: be it enacted, That all railway companies which have been, or shall be incorporated by any act of the present or any future session, or which by any act of the present or any future session shall have obtained or shall obtain any extension or amendment of the powers conferred by their previous acts, or any of them, or have been or shall be authorized to do any act unauthorized by the provisions of such previous acts shall be bound to provide such conveyance as aforesaid for the said military, marine and police forces, at fares not exceeding two-pence per mile for each commissioned officer proceeding on duty, such officer being entitled to conveyance in a first-class carriage, and not exceeding one penny for each mile for each soldier, marine or private of the militia or police force, and also for each wife, widow, or child above twelve years of age of a soldier entitled by act of Parliament, or by competent authority, to be sent to their destination at the public expense, children under three years of age so entitled being taken free of charge, and children of three years of age or upwards, but under twelve years of age, so entitled, being taken at half the price of an adult; and such soldiers, marines and privates of the militia or police force, and their wives, widows and children so entitled, being conveyed in carriages which shall be provided with seats, with sufficient space for the reasonable accommodation of the persons conveyed, and which shall be protected against the weather; provided, that every officer conveyed shall be entitled to take with him one hundred weight of personal luggage without extra charge, and every soldier, marine, private, wife, or widow, shall be entitled to take with him or her half-a-hundred weight of personal luggage without extra charge, all excess of the above weights of personal luggage being paid for at the rate of not more than one halfpenny per pound, and all public baggage, stores, arms, ammunition and other necessaries and things (except gunpowder and other combustible matters, which the company shall only be bound to convey at such prices and upon such conditions as may be from time to time contracted for between the Secretary-at-War and the company), shall be conveyed at charges not exceeding two-pence per ton per mile, the assistance of the military or other forces being given in loading and unloading such goods (n). Companies to allow telegraphs to be established

13. And whereas electrical telegraphs have been established on certain railways, and may be more extensively established hereafter, and it is expedient to provide for their due regulation: be it enacted, That every railway company, on being required so to do by the Lords of the said committee, shall be bound to allow any person or persons authorized by the Lords of the said committee, with servants and workmen, at all reasonable times to enter into or upon their lands, and to establish and lay down upon such lands adjoining the line of such railway, a line of electrical telegraph for her Majesty's service, and to give to him and them every reasonable facility for laying down the same, and for using the same for the purpose of receiving and sending messages on her Majesty's service subject to such reasonable remuneration to the company as may be agreed upon between the company and the Lords of the said committee, or in case of disagreement as may be settled by arbitration: Provided always, that, subject to a prior right of use thereof for the purposes of her Majesty, such telegraph may be used by the company for the purposes of the railway, upon such terms as may be agreed upon between the parties, or, in the event of difference, as may be settled by arbitration.

14 (o). That where a line of electrical telegraph shall have been established upon any railway by the company to whom such railway belongs, or by any company, partnership, person or persons, otherwise than exclusively for her Majesty's service, or exclusively for the purposes of the railway, or jointly for both, the use of such electrical telegraph, for the purpose of receiving and sending messages, shall, subject to the prior right of use thereof for the service of her Majesty and for the purposes of the company, and subject also to such equal charges and to such reasonable regulations as may be from time to time made by the said railway company, be open for the sending and receiving of messages by all persons alike, without favour or preference.

(n) By 16 & 17 Vict. c. 69, s. 18, whenever it shall be necessary to move any of the officers or men in her Majesty's navy, or belonging to any naval coast volunteers, or any other officers or men under the command or government of the Admiralty, every railway company shall, upon the production of a route or order for the conveyance of such officers or men, signed by any officer or person authorized by the Lord High Admiral or Commissioners for executing the office of Lord High Admiral in that behalf, be bound to provide conveyance for such officers or men, and their personal luggage, and also any public baggage, stores, arms, ammunition and other necessaries and things, by the railway of such company, at the usual hours of starting, in like manner, and at the like fares and rates of charge, and upon the like conditions, as under 7 & 8 Vict. c. 85, or any other act applicable to such company, such company would be bound to provide such conveyance for the officers and men of her Majesty's forces of the line, ordnance corps, marines, militia and police force, and their personal luggage, and any public baggage, stores, arms, ammunition and other necessaries and things of the said forces; but this section also is repealed by the Cheap Trains Act, 1883, except as to Ireland, and as to companies who lose the benefit of that act.

16. [Repeal of 3 & 4 Vict. c. 97, s. 11, as to prosecutions by Board of Trade: See s. 17, infra.]

17. Whenever it shall appear to the Lords of the said committee that any of the provisions of the several acts of Parliament regulating any railway company, or the provisions of this act or of any general act relating to railways, have not been complied with on the part of any railway company or any of its officers, or that any railway company has acted or is acting in a manner unauthorized by the provisions of the act or acts of Parliament relating to such railway, or in excess of the powers given and objects defined by the said act or acts, and it shall also appear to the Lords of the said committee that it would be for the public advantage that the company should be restrained from so acting, the Lords of the said committee shall certify the same to her Majesty's Attorney-General for England or Ireland, or to the Lord Advocate for Scotland, as the case may require; and thereupon the said Attorney-General or Lord Advocate shall, in case such default of the railway company shall consist of non-compliance with the provisions of the act or acts relating thereto or of this act, or of any general act relating to railways, proceed by information, or by action, bill, plaint, suit at law or in equity, or other legal proceeding, as the case may require, to recover such penalties and forfeitures, or otherwise to enforce the due performance of the said provisions, by such means as any person aggrieved by such non-compliance, or otherwise authorized to sue for such penalties, might employ under the provisions of the said acts; and in case the default of the railway company shall consist in the commission of some act or acts unauthorized by law, then the said Attorney-General or Lord Advocate, upon receiving such certificate as aforesaid, shall proceed by suit in equity, or such other legal proceeding as the nature of the case may require, to obtain an injunction or order (which the judge in equity or other judge to whom the application is made shall be authorized and required to grant, if he shall be of opinion that the act or acts of the railway company complained of is or are not authorized by law) to restrain the company from acting in such illegal manner, or to give such other relief as the nature of the case may require.

18. Provided always, That no such certificate as aforesaid shall be given by the Lords of the said committee until twenty-one days after they shall have given notice to the company against or in relation to whom they shall intend to give such certificate of their intention to give such certificate; and that no legal proceedings shall be commenced under the authority of the Lords of the said committee against any railway company for any offence against any of the several acts relating to railways or this act, or any general act relating to railways, except upon such certificate of the Lords of the said committee as aforesaid, and within one year after such offence shall have been committed.

19. And whereas many railway companies have borrowed money in a manner unauthorized by their acts of incorporation or other acts of Parliament relating to the said companies, upon the security of loan notes, or other instruments purporting to give a security for the repayment of the principal sums borrowed at certain dates, and for the payment of interest thereon in the meantime: And whereas such loan notes or other securities issued otherwise than under the provision of some act or acts of Parliament have no legal validity, and it is expedient that the issue of such illegal securities should be stopped; but such loan notes or other securities having been issued and received in good faith as between the borrower and lender, and for the most part for the lawful purposes of the undertaking, and in ignorance of their legal invalidity, it is expedient to confirm such as have been already issued : be it enacted, That from and after the passing of this act any railway company issuing any loan note or other negotiable or assignable instrument purporting to bind the company as a legal security for money advanced to the said railway company otherwise than under the provisions of some act or acts of Parliament authorizing the said railway company to raise such money and to issue such security, shall for every such offence forfeit to her Majesty a sum equal to the sum for which such loan note or other instrument purports to be such security. Register of loan notes.

21. A register of all such loan notes or other instruments shall be kept by the secretary ; and such register shall be open, without fee or reward, at all reasonable times, to the inspection of any shareholder or auditor of the undertaking, and of every person interested in any such loan note or other instrument, desirous of inspecting the same.

Remedy for recovery of tithe-rent charged on railway land.

22. And whereas the remedies now in force for the recovery of tithe commutation rent-charges are in many instances ineffectual for such parts thereof as are charged upon lands taken for the purposes of a railway, and it is therefore expedient to extend the said remedies when the said rent-charges may have been duly apportioned : be it enacted, That in all cases in which any such rent-charge, or part of any rent-charge, has been or hereafter shall be duly apportioned under the provisions of the acts for the commutation of tithes in England and Wales upon lands taken or purchased by any railway company for the purposes of such company, or upon any part of such lands, it shall be lawful for every person entitled to the said rent-charge or parts of such rent-charge, in case the same has been or shall be in arrear and unpaid for the space of twenty-one days next after any half-yearly day fixed for the payment thereof, to distrain for all arrears of the said rent-charge upon the goods, chattels and effects of the said company, whether on the land charged therewith, or any other lands, premises or hereditaments of such company, whether situated in the same parish or elsewhere, and to dispose of the distress when taken, and otherwise to demean himself in relation thereto, as any landlord may for arrears of rent reserved on a lease for years : Provided always, that nothing herein contained shall give or be construed to give a legal right to such rent-charge, when but for this act such rent-charge was not or could not be duly apportioned.

Penalties.

24. All penalties under this act for the application of which no special provision is made shall be recovered in the name and for the use of her Majesty, and may be recovered in any of her Majesty's courts of record or in the Court of Session or in any of the sheriff courts in Scotland.

Interpretation.

Where the word "railway" is used in this act, it shall be construed to extend to railways constructed under the powers of any act of Parliament ; and when the words "passenger railway" are used in this act, they shall be construed to extend to railways constructed under the powers of any act of Parliament upon which one-third or more of the gross annual revenue is derived from the conveyance of passengers by steam or other mechanical power ; and whenever the word "company" is used in this act, it shall be construed to extend to include the proprietors for the time being of any such railway ; and that where a different sense is not expressly declared, or does not appear by the context, every word importing the singular number or the masculine gender shall be taken to include females

25. If at the time appointed by the company for the payment of any call, any shareholder fail to pay the amount of such call, it shall be lawful for the company to sue such shareholder for the amount thereof in any court of law or equity having competent jurisdiction, and to recover the same, with lawful interest, from the day on which such call was payable.

A declaration in writing, by some credible person not interested in the matter, made before any justice, or before any Master or Master Extraordinary of the High Court of Chancery, that the call in respect of a share was made, and notice thereof given, and that default in payment of the call was made, and that the forfeiture of the share was declared and confirmed in manner hereinbefore required, shall be sufficient evidence of the facts therein stated; and such declaration, and the receipt of the treasurer of the company for the price of such share, shall constitute a good title to such share; and a certificate of proprietorship shall be delivered to such purchaser, and thereupon he shall be deemed the holder of such share, discharged from all calls due prior to such purchase; and he shall not be bound to see to the application of the purchase-money, nor shall his title to such share be affected by any irregularity in the proceedings in reference to such sale.

Evidence as to forfeiture of shares.

34. The company shall not sell or transfer more of the shares of any such defaulter than will be sufficient, as nearly as can be ascertained at the time of such sale, to pay the arrears then due from such defaulter on account of any calls, together with interest, and the expenses attending such sale and declaration of forfeiture; and if the money produced by the sale of any such forfeited shares be more than sufficient to pay all arrears of calls and interest thereon due at the time of such sale, and the expenses attending the declaration of forfeiture and sale thereof, the surplus shall, on demand, be paid to the defaulter.

No more shares to be sold than sufficient for payment of calls.

35. If payment of such arrears of calls and interest and expenses be made before any share so forfeited and vested in the company shall have been sold, such share shall revert to the party to whom the same belonged before such forfeiture, in such manner as if such calls had been duly paid.

141. (a) And be it enacted, That, if any party shall have committed any irregularity, trespass or other wrongful proceeding in the execution of this or the special act, or by virtue of any power or authority thereby given, and if, before action brought in respect thereof, such party make tender of sufficient amends to the party injured, such last-mentioned party shall not recover in any such action; and if no such tender shall have been made it shall be lawful for the defendant, by leave of the court where such action shall be pending, at any time before issue joined, to pay into court such sum of money as he shall think fit; and thereupon such proceedings shall be had as in other cases where defendants are allowed to pay money into court.

Compensation to absent parties to be determined by surveyor.

58. The purchase-money or compensation to be paid for any lands to be purchased or taken by the promoters of the undertaking from any party who, by reason of absence from the kingdom, is prevented from treating, or who cannot after diligent inquiry be found, or who shall not appear at the time appointed for the inquiry before the jury as hereinbefore provided for, after due notice thereof, and the compensation to be paid for any permanent injury to such lands, shall be such as shall be determined by the valuation of such able practical surveyor as two justices shall nominate for that purpose as hereinafter mentioned.

Justices to nominate surveyor.

59. Upon application by the promoters of the undertaking to two justices, and upon such proof as shall be satisfactory to them that any such party is, by reason of absence from the kingdom, prevented from treating, or cannot after diligent inquiry be found, or that any such party failed to appear on such inquiry before a jury as aforesaid, after due notice to him for that purpose, such justices shall, by writing under their hands, nominate an able practical surveyor for determining such compensation as aforesaid, and such surveyor shall determine the same accordingly, and shall annex to his valuation a declaration in writing subscribed by him of the correctness thereof.

Declaration by surveyor.

60. Before such surveyor shall enter upon the duty of making such valuation as aforesaid, he shall, in the presence of such justices or one of them, make and subscribe the declaration following at the foot of such nomination ; (that is to say),

“I, A. B., do solemnly and sincerely declare, That I will faithfully, impartially and honestly, according to the best of my skill and ability, execute the duty of making the valuation hereby referred to me. A. B.

“Made and subscribed in the presence of _____.”

And if any surveyor shall corruptly make such declaration, or having made such declaration shall wilfully act contrary thereto, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Nomination, &c., to be preserved and produced, if required.

61. The said nomination and declaration shall be annexed to the valuation to be made by such surveyor, and shall be preserved together therewith by the promoters of the undertaking, and they shall at all times produce the said valuation and other documents, on demand, to the owner of the lands comprised in such valuation, and to all other parties interested therein.

62. All the expenses of and incident to every such valuation shall be borne by the promoters of the undertaking.

Expenses of valuation.

63. In estimating the purchase-money or compensation to be paid by the promoters of the undertaking, in any of the cases aforesaid, regard shall be had by the justices, arbitrators or surveyors, as the case may be, not only to the value of the land to be purchased or taken by the promoters of the undertaking, but also to the damage, if any, to be sustained by the owner of the lands by reason of the severing of the lands taken from the other lands of such owner, or otherwise injuriously affecting such other lands by the exercise of the powers of this or the special act, or any act incorporated therewith.

Damage by severance to be regarded.
See also sect. 40, and vol. I, p. 209.

64. When the compensation payable in respect of any lands, or any interest therein, shall have been ascertained by the valuation of a surveyor, and deposited in the Bank under the provisions herein contained, by reason that the owner of, or party entitled to convey, such lands or such interest therein as aforesaid, could not be found or was absent from the kingdom, if such owner or party shall be dissatisfied with such valuation, it shall be lawful for him, before he shall have applied to the Court of Chancery for payment or investment of the monies so deposited under the provisions herein contained, by notice in writing to the promoters of the undertaking, to require the question of such compensation to be submitted to arbitration, and thereupon the same shall be so submitted accordingly, in the same manner as in other cases of disputed compensation hereinbefore authorized or required to be submitted to arbitration.

Where compensation to absent party determined by surveyor, party may have arbitration.

65. The question to be submitted to the arbitrators in the case last aforesaid shall be, whether the said sum so deposited as aforesaid by the promoters of the undertaking was a sufficient sum, or whether any and what further sum ought to be paid or deposited by them.

Question for arbitrators.

66. If the arbitrators shall award that a further sum ought to be paid or deposited by the promoters of the undertaking, they shall pay or deposit, as the case may require, such further sum within fourteen days after the making of such award, or, in default thereof, the same may be enforced by attachment, or recovered with costs by action or suit in any of the superior courts.

If further sum awarded, promoters to pay within 14 days.

67. If the arbitrators shall determine that the sum so deposited was sufficient, the costs of and incident to such arbitration, to be determined by the arbitrators, shall be in the discretion of the arbitrators; but, if the arbitrators shall determine that a further sum ought to be paid or deposited by the promoters of the undertaking, all the costs of and incident to the arbitration shall be borne by the promoters of the undertaking.

Costs of the arbitration.

68. If any party shall be entitled to any compensation in respect of any lands, or of any interest therein, which shall have been taken for or injuriously affected by the execution of the works, and for which the promoters of the undertaking shall not have made satisfaction under the provisions of this or the special act, or any act incorporated therewith, and if the compensation claimed in such case shall exceed the sum of fifty pounds, such party may have the same settled either by arbitration or by the verdict of a jury, as he shall think fit; and if such party desire to have the same settled by arbitration, it shall be lawful for him to give notice in writing to the promoters of the undertaking of such his desire, stating in such notice the nature of the interest in such lands in respect of which he claims compensation, and the amount of the compensation so claimed therein; and unless the promoters of the undertaking be willing to pay the amount of compensation so claimed, and shall enter into a

82. The costs of all such conveyances shall be borne by the promoters of the undertaking, and such costs shall include all charges and expenses incurred, on the part as well of the seller as of the purchaser, of all conveyances and assurances of any such lands, and of any outstanding terms or interests therein, and of deducing, evidencing, and verifying the title to such lands, terms or interests, and of making out and furnishing such abstracts and attested copies as the promoters of the undertaking may require, and all other reasonable expenses incident to the investigation, deduction and verification of such title.

Taxation of costs of conveyances.

83. If the promoters of the undertaking and the party entitled to any such costs shall not agree as to the amount thereof, such costs shall be taxed by one of the taxing masters of the Court of Chancery, or by a master in chancery in Ireland, upon an order of the same court, to be obtained upon petition in a summary way by either of the parties ; and the promoters of the undertaking shall pay what the said master shall certify to be due in respect of such costs to the party entitled thereto, or, in default thereof, the same may be recovered in the same way as any other costs payable under an order of the said court, or the same may be recovered by

And with respect to the Entry upon Lands by the promoters of the undertaking, be it enacted as follows:—

84. purposes of the special act, without such consent as aforesaid, or without having made such payment for the benefit of the parties interested in the lands, or such deposit by way of security as aforesaid, the promoters of the undertaking shall forfeit to the party in possession of such lands the sum of ten pounds over and above the amount of any damage done to such lands by reason of such entry and taking possession as aforesaid, such penalty and damage respectively to be recovered before two justices; and if the promoters of the undertaking, or their contractors, shall, after conviction in such penalty as aforesaid, continue in unlawful possession of any such lands, the promoters of the undertaking shall be liable to forfeit the sum of twenty-five pounds for every day they or their contractors shall so remain in possession as aforesaid, such penalty to be recoverable by the party in possession of such lands with costs, by action in any of the superior courts: Provided always, that nothing herein contained shall be held to subject the promoters of the undertaking to the payment of any such penalties as aforesaid, if they shall bonâ fide, and without collusion, have paid the compensation agreed or awarded to be paid in respect of the said lands to any person whom the promoters of the undertaking may have reasonably believed to be entitled thereto, or shall have deposited the same in the Bank for the benefit of the parties interested in the lands, or made such deposit, by way of security, in respect thereof, as hereinbefore mentioned, although such person may not have been legally entitled thereto.

90. On the trial of any action for any such penalty as aforesaid, the decision of the justices under the provisions hereinbefore contained shall not be held conclusive as to the right of entry on any such lands by the promoters of the undertaking.

Decision of justices not conclusive as to right of entry.

91. If in any case in which, according to the provisions of this or the special act, or any act incorporated therewith, the promoters of the undertaking are authorized to enter upon and take possession of any lands required for the purposes of the undertaking, the owner or occupier of any such lands, or any other person, refuse to give up the possession thereof, or hinder the promoters of the undertaking from entering upon or taking possession of the same, it shall be lawful for the promoters of the undertaking to issue their warrant to the sheriff to deliver possession of the same to the person appointed in such warrant to receive the same; and, upon the receipt of such warrant, the sheriff shall deliver possession of any such lands accordingly, and the costs accruing by reason of the issuing and execution of such warrant, to be settled by the sheriff, shall be paid by the person refusing to give possession, and the amount of such costs shall be deducted and retained by the promoters of the undertaking from the compensation, if any, then payable by them to such party; or, if no such compensation be payable to such party, or if the same be less than the amount of such costs, then such costs, or the excess thereof beyond such compensation, if not paid on demand, shall be levied by distress, and, upon application to any justice for that purpose, he shall issue his warrant accordingly.

92. And be it enacted, that no party shall at any time be required to sell or convey to the promoters of the undertaking a part only of any house, or other building or manufactory, if such party be willing and able to sell and convey the whole thereof.

And with respect to small Portions of intersected Land, be it enacted as follows:—

Intersected Lands.

93. If any lands, not being situate in a town or built upon shall be so cut through and divided by the works as to leave, either on both sides or on one side thereof, a less quantity of land than half a statute acre, and if the owner of such small parcel of land require the promoters of the undertaking to purchase the same along with the other land required for the purposes of the special act, the promoters of the undertaking shall purchase the same accordingly, unless the owner thereof have other land adjoining to that so left into which the same can be thrown, so as to be conveniently occupied therewith; and if such owner have any other land so adjoining, the promoters of the undertaking shall, if so required by the owner, at their own expense, throw the piece of land so left into such adjoining land, by removing the fences and levelling the sites thereof, and by soiling the same in a sufficient and workmanlike manner.

Owners of intersected lands may insist on sale.

Promoters may insist on purchase where expense of bridges, &c., exceeds value.

94. If any such land shall be so cut through and divided as to leave on either side of the works a piece of land of less extent than half a statute acre, or of less value than the expense of making a bridge, culvert, or such other communication between the land so divided as the promoters of the undertaking are, under the provisions of this or the special act, or any act incorporated therewith, compellable to make, and if the owner of such lands have not other lands adjoining such piece of land, and require the promoters of the undertaking to make such communication, then the promoters of the undertaking may require such owner to sell to them such piece of land, and any dispute as to the value of such piece of land, or as to what would be the expense of making such communication, shall be ascertained as herein provided for cases of disputed compensation; and on the occasion of ascertaining the value of the land required to be taken for the purposes of the works, the jury or the arbitrators, as the case may be, shall, if required by either party, ascertain, by their verdict or award, the value of any such severed piece of land, and also what would be the expense of making such communication.

Copyhold.

Conveyance of copyhold lands to be inrolled.

Fees of steward.

And with respect to Copyhold Lands, be it enacted as follows:—

95. Every conveyance, to the promoters of the undertaking, of any lands which shall be of copyhold or customary tenure, or of the nature thereof, shall be entered on the rolls of the manor of which the same shall be held or parcel; and on payment to the steward of such manor of such fees as would be due to him on the surrender of the same lands to the use of a purchaser thereof, he shall make such inrolment; and every such conveyance, when so inrolled, shall have the like effect, in respect of such copyhold or customary lands, as if the same had been of freehold tenure; nevertheless, until such lands shall have been enfranchised by virtue of the powers hereinafter contained, they shall continue subject to the same fines, rents, heriots and services as were theretofore payable and of right accustomed.

Copyhold lands to be enfranchised.

96. Within three months after the inrolment of the conveyance of any such copyhold or customary lands, or within one month after the promoters of the undertaking shall enter upon and make use of the same for the purposes of the works, whichever shall first happen, or if more than one parcel of such lands holden of the same manor shall have been taken by them, then, within one month after the last of such parcels shall have been so taken or entered on by them, the promoters of the undertaking shall procure the whole of the lands holden of such manor so taken by them to be enfranchised, and for that purpose shall apply to the lord of the manor whereof such lands are holden to enfranchise the same, and shall pay to him such compensation in respect thereof as shall be agreed upon between them and him; and if the parties fail to agree respecting the amount of the compensation to be paid for such enfranchisement, the same shall be determined as in other cases of disputed compensation; and in estimating such compensation, the loss in respect to the fines, heriots, and other services payable on death, descent or alienation, or any other matters which would be lost by the vesting of such copyhold or customary lands in the promoters of the undertaking, or by the enfranchisement of the same, shall be allowed for.

97. Upon payment or tender of the compensation so agreed upon or determined, or on deposit thereof in the Bank, in any of the cases hereinbefore in that behalf provided, the lord of the manor whereof such copyhold or customary lands shall be holden shall enfranchise such lands, and the lands so enfranchised shall for ever thereafter be held in free and common socage; and in default of such enfranchisement by the lord of the manor, or if he fail to adduce a good title thereto to the satisfaction of the promoters of the undertaking, it shall be lawful for them, if they think fit, to execute a deed-poll, duly stamped, in the manner hereinbefore provided in the case of the purchase of lands by them, and thereupon the lands in respect of the enfranchisement whereof such compensation shall have been deposited as aforesaid shall be deemed to be enfranchised, and shall be for ever thereafter held in free and common socage.

Lord of the manor to enfranchise on payment of compensation.

98. If any such copyhold or customary lands be subject to any customary or other rent, and part only of the land, subject to any such rent, be required to be taken for the purposes of the special act, the apportionment of such rent may be settled by agreement between the owner of the lands and the lord of the manor, on the one part, and the promoters of the undertaking on the other part, and if such apportionment be not so settled by agreement, then the same shall be settled by two justices; and the enfranchisement of any copyhold or customary lands, taken by virtue of this or the special act, or the apportionment of such rents, shall not affect in other respects any custom by or under which any such copyhold or customary lands not taken for such purposes shall be held; and if any of the lands so required be released from any portion of the rents to which they were subject jointly with any other lands, such last-mentioned lands shall be charged with the remainder only of such rents; and with reference to any such apportioned rents, the lord of the manor shall have all the same rights and remedies over the lands to which such apportioned rent shall have been assigned or attributed as he had previously over the whole of the lands subject to such rents for the whole of such rents.

Apportionment of copyhold rents.

And with respect to any such lands being Common or Waste Lands, be it enacted as follows:—

Common Lands

99. The compensation in respect of the right in the soil of any lands subject to any right of common shall be paid to the lord of the manor, in case he shall be entitled to the same, or to such party, other than the commoners, as shall be entitled to such right in the soil; and the compensation in respect of all other commonable and other rights in or over such lands, including therein any commonable or other rights, to which the lord of the manor may be entitled, other than his right in the soil of such lands, shall be determined and paid and applied in manner hereinafter provided with respect to common lands, the right in the soil of which shall belong to the commoners; and upon payment or deposit in the Bank of the compensation so determined, all such commonable and other rights shall cease and be extinguished.

Compensation for common lands, where held of a manor, &c., how to be paid.

100. Upon payment or tender to the lord of the manor, or such other party as aforesaid, of the compensation which shall have been agreed upon or determined in respect of the right in the soil of any such lands, or on deposit thereof in the Bank in any of the cases hereinbefore in that behalf provided, such lord of the manor, or such other party as aforesaid, shall convey such lands to the promoters of the undertaking, and such conveyance shall have the effect of vesting such lands in the promoters of the undertaking, in like manner as if such lord of the manor, or such other party as aforesaid, had been seised in fee-simple of such lands at the time of executing such conveyance ; and, in default of such conveyance, it shall be lawful for the promoters of the undertaking, if they think fit, to execute a deed-poll, duly stamped, in the manner hereinbefore provided in the case of the purchase of lands by them, and thereupon the lands in respect whereof such last-mentioned compensation shall have been deposited as aforesaid shall vest absolutely in the promoters of the undertaking, and they shall be entitled to immediate possession thereof, subject, nevertheless, to the commonable and other rights theretofore affecting the same, until such rights shall have been extinguished by payment or deposit of the compensation for the same in manner hereinafter provided.

Compensation for common lands which not held of a manor, how to be ascertained.

101. The compensation to be paid with respect to any such lands, being common lands, or in the nature thereof, the right to the soil of which shall belong to the commoners, as well as the compensation to be paid for the commonable and other rights in or over common lands the right in the soil whereof shall not belong to the commoners, other than the compensation to the lord of the manor, or other party entitled to the soil thereof, in respect of his right in the soil thereof, shall be determined by agreement between the promoters of the undertaking and a committee of the parties entitled to commonable or other rights in such lands, to be appointed as next hereinafter mentioned.

A meeting of the parties interested to be convened.

102. It shall be lawful for the promoters of the undertaking to convene a meeting of the parties entitled to commonable or other rights over or in such lands to be held at some convenient place in the neighbourhood of the lands for the purpose of their appointing a committee to treat with the promoters of the undertaking for the compensation to be paid for the extinction of such commonable or other rights ; and every such meeting shall be called by public advertisement, to be inserted once at least in two consecutive weeks in some newspaper circulating in the county or in the respective counties and in the neighbourhood in which such lands shall be situate, the last of such insertions being not more than fourteen nor less than seven days prior to any such meeting ; and notice of such meeting shall also, not less than seven days previous to the holding thereof, be affixed upon the door of the parish church where such meeting is intended to be held, or if there be no such church, some other place in the neighbourhood to which notices are usually affixed ; and if such lands be parcel or holden of a manor, a like notice shall be given to the lord of such manor.

Meeting to appoint a committee.

103. It shall be lawful for the meeting so called to appoint a committee, not exceeding five in number, of the parties entitled to any such rights ; and at such meeting the decision of the majority of the persons entitled to commonable rights present shall bind the minority and all absent parties.

Committee to agree with the promoters of the undertaking.

104. It shall be lawful for the committee so chosen to enter into an agreement with the promoters of the undertaking for the compensation to be paid for the extinction of such commonable and other rights, and all matters relating thereto, for and on behalf of themselves and all other parties interested therein ; and all such parties shall be bound by such agreement ; and it shall be lawful for such committee to receive the compensation so agreed to be paid, and the receipt of such committee, or of any three of them, for such compensation, shall be an effectual discharge for the same ; and such compensation, when received, shall be apportioned by the committee among the several persons interested therein, according to their respective interests (b) ; but the promoters of the undertaking shall not be bound to see to the apportionment or to the application of such compensation, nor shall they be liable for the misapplication or non-application thereof.

(b) See further 17 & 18 Vict. c. 97, ss. 15—20, post.

105. If, upon such committee being appointed, they shall fail to agree with the promoters of the undertaking as to the amount of the compensation to be paid as aforesaid, the same shall be determined as in other cases of disputed compensation.

Disputes to be settled as in other cases.

106. If, upon being duly convened by the promoters of the undertaking, no effectual meeting of the parties entitled to such commonable or other rights shall take place, or, if taking place, such meeting fail to appoint such committee, the amount of such compensation shall be determined by a surveyor, to be appointed by two justices, as hereinbefore provided in the case of parties who cannot be found.

If no committee be appointed, the amount to be determined by a surveyor.

107. Upon payment or tender to such committee, or any three of them, or, if there shall be no such committee, then upon deposit in the Bank, in the manner provided in the like case, of the compensation which shall have been agreed upon or determined in respect of such commonable or other rights, it shall be lawful for the promoters of the undertaking, if they think fit, to execute a deed-poll, duly stamped, in the manner hereinbefore provided in the case of the purchase of lands by them, and thereupon the lands in respect of which such compensation shall have been so paid or deposited shall vest in the promoters of the undertaking, freed and discharged from all such commonable or other rights, and they shall be entitled to immediate possession thereof: and it shall be lawful for the Court of Chancery in England or the Court of Exchequer in Ireland, by an order to be made upon petition, to order payment of the money so deposited to a committee to be appointed as aforesaid, or to make such other order in respect thereof, for the benefit of the parties interested, as it shall think fit.

Upon payment of compensation payable to commoners, the lands to vest.

Lands in Mortgage.

108. It shall be lawful for the promoters of the undertaking to purchase or redeem the interest of the mortgagee of any such lands which may be required for the purposes of the special act, and that whether they shall have previously purchased the equity of redemption of such lands or not, and whether the mortgagee thereof be entitled thereto in his own right or in trust for any other party, and whether he be in possession of such lands by virtue of such mortgage or not, and whether such mortgage affect such lands solely, or jointly with any other lands not required for the purposes of the special act; and, in order thereto, the promoters of the undertaking may pay or tender to such mortgagee the principal and interest due on such mortgage, together with his costs and charges, if any, and also six months' additional interest; and thereupon such mortgagee shall immediately convey his interest in the lands comprised in such mortgage to the promoters of the undertaking, or as they shall direct, or the promoters of the undertaking may give notice in writing to such mortgagee that they will pay off the principal and interest due on such mortgage at the end of six months, computed from the day of giving such notice; and if they shall have given any such notice, or if the party entitled to the equity of redemption of any such lands shall have given six months' notice of his intention to redeem the same, then, at the expiration of either of such notices, or at any intermediate period, upon payment or tender by the promoters of the undertaking to the mortgagee of the principal money due on such mortgage, and the interest which would become due at the end of six months from the time of giving either of such notices, together with his costs and expenses, if any, such mortgagee shall convey or release his interest in the lands comprised in such mortgage to the promoters of the undertaking, or as they shall direct.

Deposit of mortgage money in Bank on refusal to accept.

Vesting of mortgagee's interest by deed-poll.

Sums to be paid when mortgage exceeds the value of the lands.

Deposit of compensation in Bank upon failure of mortgages to convey.

Deed-poll.

Sum to be paid where part only of mortgaged lands taken.

109. If, in either of the cases aforesaid, upon such payment or tender, any mortgagee shall fail to convey or release his interest in such mortgage as directed by the promoters of the undertaking, or if he fail to adduce a good title thereto to their satisfaction, then it shall be lawful for the promoters of the undertaking to deposit in the Bank, in the manner provided by this act in like cases, the principal and interest, together with the costs, if any, due on such mortgage, and also, if such payment be made before the expiration of six months' notice as aforesaid, such further interest as would at that time become due; and it shall be lawful for them, if they think fit, to execute a deed-poll, duly stamped, in the manner hereinbefore provided in the case of the purchase of lands by them; and thereupon, as well as upon such conveyance by the mortgagee, if any such be made, all the estate and interest of such mortgagee, and of all persons in trust for him, or for whom he may be a trustee, in such lands, shall vest in the promoters of the undertaking, and they shall be entitled to immediate possession thereof in case such mortgagee were himself entitled to such possession.

110. If any such mortgaged lands shall be of less value than the principal, interest and costs secured thereon, the value of such lands, or the compensation to be made by the promoters of the undertaking in respect thereof, shall be settled by agreement between the mortgagee of such lands and the party entitled to the equity of redemption thereof on the one part, and the promoters of the undertaking on the other part, and if the parties aforesaid fail to agree respecting the amount of such value or compensation, the same shall be determined as in other cases of disputed compensation; and the amount of such value or compensation, being so agreed upon or determined, shall be paid by the promoters of the undertaking to the mortgagee in satisfaction of his mortgage-debt, so far as the same will extend; and, upon payment or tender thereof, the mortgagee shall convey or release all his interest in such mortgaged lands to the promoters of the undertaking, or as they shall direct.

111. If, upon such payment or tender as aforesaid being made, any such mortgagee fail so to convey his interest in such mortgage, or to adduce a good title thereto, to the satisfaction of the promoters of the undertaking, it shall be lawful for them to deposit the amount of such value or compensation in the Bank, in the manner provided by this act in like cases, and every such payment or deposit shall be accepted by the mortgagee in satisfaction of his mortgage-debt, so far as the same will extend, and shall be a full discharge of such mortgaged lands from all money due thereon; and it shall be lawful for the promoters of the undertaking, if they think fit, to execute a deed-poll, duly stamped, in the manner hereinbefore provided in the case of the purchase of lands by them; and thereupon such lands, as to all such estate and interest as were then vested in the mortgagee, or any person in trust for him, shall become absolutely vested in the promoters of the undertaking, and they shall be entitled to immediate possession thereof in case such mortgagee were himself entitled to such possession; nevertheless, all rights and remedies possessed by the mortgagee against the mortgagor, by virtue of any bond or covenant or other obligation, other than the right to such lands, shall remain in force in respect of so much of the mortgage-debt as shall not have been satisfied by such payment or deposit.

112. If a part only of any such mortgaged lands be required for the purposes of the special act, and if the part so required be of less value than the principal money, interest and costs secured on such lands, and the mortgagee shall not consider the remaining part of such lands a sufficient security for the money charged thereon, or be not willing to release the part so required, then the value of such part, and also the compensation (if any) to be paid in respect of the severance thereof or otherwise, shall be settled by agreement between the mortgagee and the party entitled to the equity of redemption of such lands on the one part, and the promoters of the undertaking on the other, and if the parties aforesaid fail to agree respecting the amount of such value or compensation, the same shall be determined as in other cases of disputed compensation; and the amount of such value or compensation, being so agreed upon or determined, shall be paid by the promoters of the undertaking to such mortgagee in satisfaction of his mortgage-debt, so far as the same will extend; and thereupon such mortgagee shall convey or release to them, or as they shall direct, all his interest in such mortgaged lands the value whereof shall have been so paid: and a memorandum of what shall have been so paid shall be indorsed on the deed creating such mortgage, and shall be signed by the mortgagee; and a copy of such memorandum shall at the same time (if required) be furnished by the promoters of the undertaking at their expense, to the party entitled to the equity of redemption of the land comprised in such mortgage deed.

113. If, upon payment or tender to any such mortgagee of the amount of the value or compensation so agreed upon or determined, such mortgagee shall fail to convey or release to the promoters of the undertaking, or as they shall direct, his interest in the lands in respect of which such compensation shall so have been paid or tendered, or, if he shall fail to adduce a good title thereto to the satisfaction of the promoters of the undertaking, it shall be lawful for the promoters of the undertaking to pay the amount of such value or compensation into the Bank, in the manner provided by this act in the case of monies required to be deposited in such Bank, and such payment or deposit shall be accepted by such mortgagee in satisfaction of his mortgage-debt, so far as the same will extend, and shall be a full discharge of the portion of the mortgaged lands so required from all money due thereon; and it shall be lawful for the promoters of the undertaking, if they think fit, to execute a deed-poll, duly stamped, in the manner hereinbefore provided in the case of the purchase of lands by them; and thereupon such lands shall become absolutely vested in the promoters of the undertaking, as to all such estate and interest as were then vested in the mortgagee, or any person in trust for him, and, in case such mortgagee were himself entitled to such possession, they shall be entitled to immediate possession thereof; nevertheless, every such mortgagee shall have the same powers and remedies for recovering or compelling payment of the mortgage money, or the residue thereof, (as the case may be,) and the interest thereof respectively, upon and out of the residue of such mortgaged lands, or the portion thereof not required for the purposes of the special act, as he would otherwise have had or been entitled to for recovering or compelling payment thereof upon or out of the whole of the lands originally comprised in such mortgage.

114. Provided always, That, in any of the cases hereinbefore provided with respect to lands subject to mortgage, if in the mortgage deed a time shall have been limited for payment of the principal money thereby secured, and, under the provisions hereinbefore contained, the mortgagee shall have been required to accept payment of his mortgage money, or of part thereof, at a time earlier than the time so limited, the promoters of the undertaking shall pay to such mortgagee, in addition to the sum which shall have been so paid off, all such costs and expenses as shall be incurred by such mortgagee in respect of, or which shall be incidental to, the reinvestment of the sum so paid off, such costs, in case of difference, to be taxed and payment thereof enforced in the manner herein provided with respect to the costs of conveyances; and if the rate of interest secured by such mortgage be higher than at the time of the same being so paid off can reasonably be expected to be obtained on reinvesting the same, regard being had to the then current rate of interest, such mortgagee shall be entitled to receive from the promoters of the undertaking in addition to the principal and interest heretofore provided for, compensation in respect of the loss to be sustained by him by reason of his mortgage money being so prematurely paid off, the amount of such compensation to be ascertained, in case of difference, as in other cases of disputed compensation; and until payment or tender of such compensation as aforesaid, the promoters of the undertaking shall not be entitled, as against such mortgagee, to possession of the mortgaged lands under the provisions heretofore contained.

Rent-charges.

And with respect to Lands charged with any Rent-service, Rent-charge, or chief or other rent, or other payment or incumbrance not heretofore provided for, be it enacted as follows:—

Release of lands
charge.

115. If any difference shall arise between the promoters of the undertaking and the party entitled to any such charge upon any lands required to be taken for the purposes of the special act, respecting the consideration to be paid for the release of such lands therefrom, or from the portion thereof affecting the lands required for the purposes of the special act, the same shall be determined as in other cases of disputed compensation.

Release of part of lands from charge.

116. If part only of the lands charged with any such rent-service, rent-charge, chief or other rent, payment or incumbrance, be required to be taken for the purposes of the special act, the apportionment of any such charge may be settled by agreement between the party entitled to such charge and the owner of the lands on the one part, and the promoters of the undertaking on the other part, and, if such apportionment be not so settled by agreement, the same shall be settled by two justices; but if the remaining part of the lands so jointly subject be a sufficient security for such charge, then, with consent of the owner of the lands so jointly subject, it shall be lawful for the party entitled to such charge to release therefrom the lands required, on condition or in consideration of such other lands remaining exclusively subject to the whole thereof.

Deposit of compensation in Bank in case of refusal to release.

117. Upon payment or tender of the compensation so agreed upon or determined to the party entitled to any such charge as aforesaid, such party shall execute to the promoters of the undertaking a release of such charge; and if he fail so to do, or if he fail to adduce good title to such charge, to the satisfaction of the promoters of the undertaking, it shall be lawful for them to deposit the amount of such compensation in the Bank in the manner heretofore provided in like cases, and also, if they think fit, to execute a deed-poll, duly stamped, in the manner heretofore provided in the case of the purchase of lands by them; and thereupon the rent-service, rent-charge, chief or other rent, payment or incumbrance, or the portion thereof in respect whereof such compensation shall so have been paid, shall cease and be extinguished.

Deed-poll.

Charge to continue on lands not taken.

118. If any such lands be so released from any such charge or incumbrance, or portion thereof, to which they were subject jointly with other lands, such last-mentioned lands shall alone be charged with the whole of such charge, or with the remainder thereof, as the case may be, and the party entitled to the charge shall have all the same rights and remedies over such last-mentioned lands, for the whole or for the remainder of the charge, as the case may be, as he had previously over the whole of the lands subject to such charge; and if, upon any such charge or portion of charge being so released, the deed or instrument creating or transferring such charge be tendered to the promoters of the undertaking for the purpose, they or two of them shall subscribe, or, if they be a corporation, shall affix their common seal to a memorandum of such release indorsed on such deed or instrument, declaring what part of the lands originally subject to such charge shall have been purchased by virtue of the special act, and, if the lands be released from part of such charge, what proportion of such charge shall have been released, and how much thereof continues payable, or, if the lands so required shall have been released from the whole of such charge, then that the remaining lands are thenceforward to remain exclusively charged therewith; and such memorandum shall be made and executed at the expense of the promoters of the undertaking, and shall be evidence in all courts and elsewhere of the facts therein stated, but not so as to exclude any other evidence of the same facts.

And with respect to lands subject to leases,* be it enacted as follows:—

119. If any lands shall be comprised in a lease for a term of years unexpired, part only of which lands shall be required for the purposes of the special act, the rent payable in respect of the lands comprised in such lease shall be apportioned between the lands so required and the residue of such lands; and such apportionment may be settled by agreement between the lessor and lessee of such lands on the one part, and the promoters of the undertaking on the other part, and if such apportionment be not so settled by agreement between the parties, such apportionment shall be settled by two justices; and after such apportionment the lessee of such lands shall, as to all future accruing rent, be liable only to so much of the rent as shall be so apportioned in respect of the lands not required for the purposes of the special act; and as to the lands not so required, and as against the lessee, the lessor shall have all the same rights and remedies for the recovery of such portion of rent as previously to such apportionment he had for the recovery of the whole rent reserved by such lease; and all the covenants, conditions and agreements of such lease, except as to the amount of rent to be paid, shall remain in force with regard to that part of the land which shall not be required for the purposes of the special act, in the same manner as they would have done in case such part only of the land had been included in the lease.

120. Every such lessee as last aforesaid shall be entitled to receive from the promoters of the undertaking compensation for the damage done to him in his tenancy by reason of the severance of the lands required from those not required, or otherwise by reason of the execution of the works.

121. If any such lands shall be in the possession of any person having no greater interest therein than as a tenant for a year or from year to year, and if such person be required to give up possession of any lands so occupied by him before the expiration of his term or interest therein, he shall be entitled to compensation for the value of his unexpired term or interest in such lands, and for any just allowance which ought to be made to him by an incoming tenant, and for any loss or injury he may sustain, or, if a part only of such lands be required, compensation for the damage done to him in his tenancy by severing the lands held by him, or otherwise injuriously affecting the same; and the amount of such compensation shall be determined by two justices, in case the parties differ about the same; and upon payment or tender of the amount of such compensation, all such persons shall respectively deliver up to the promoters of the undertaking, or to the person appointed by them to take possession thereof, any such lands in their possession required for the purposes of the special act.

Tenants.

Where part only of lands taken, rent to be apportioned by agreement, or by justices.

Damage by severance.

[See ss. 49 and 63.]

Compensation to tenants from year to year.

Production of lease.

122. If any party, having a greater interest than as tenant at will, claim compensation in respect of any unexpired term or interest under any lease or grant of any such lands, the promoters of the undertaking may require such party to produce the lease or grant in respect of which such claim shall be made, or the best evidence thereof in his power; and if, after demand made in writing by the promoters of the undertaking, such lease or grant, or such best evidence thereof, be not produced within twenty-one days, the party so claiming compensation shall be considered as a tenant holding only from year to year and be entitled to compensation accordingly.

Limit of time for compulsory purchase.

123. And be it enacted, that the powers of the promoters of the undertaking for the compulsory purchase or taking of lands for the purposes of the special act shall not be exercised after the expiration of the prescribed period, and, if no period be prescribed, not after the expiration of three years from the passing of the special act.

Interests omitted to be purchased.

And with respect to interests in lands which have by mistake been omitted to be purchased, be it enacted as follows:—

Promoters may omitted to be purchased, on condition of purchasing them.

124. If, at any time after the promoters of the undertaking shall have entered upon any lands which, under the provisions of this or the special act, or any act incorporated therewith, they were authorized to purchase, and which shall be permanently required for the purposes of the special act, any party shall appear to be entitled to any estate, right or interest in or charge affecting such lands which the promoters of the undertaking shall, through mistake or inadvertence, have failed or omitted duly to purchase or to pay compensation for, then, whether the period allowed for the purchase of lands shall have expired or not, the promoters of the undertaking shall remain in the undisturbed possession of such lands, provided, within six months after notice of such estate, right, interest or charge, in case the same shall not be disputed by the promoters of the undertaking, or, in case the same shall be disputed, then, within six months after the right thereto shall have been finally established by law in favour of the party claiming the same, the promoters of the undertaking shall purchase or pay compensation for the same, and shall also pay to such party, or to any other party who may establish a right thereto, full compensation for the mesne profits or interest which would have accrued to such parties respectively in respect thereof during the interval between the entry of the promoters of the undertaking thereon and the time of the payment of such purchase-money or compensation by the promoters of the undertaking, so far as such mesne profits or interest may be recoverable in law or equity; and such purchase-money or compensation shall be agreed on or awarded and paid in like manner as, according to the provisions of this act, the same respectively would have been agreed on or awarded and paid in case the promoters of the undertaking had purchased such estate, right, interest or charge before their entering upon such land, or as near thereto as circumstances will admit.

Mesne profits.

Value of such lands to be estimated as at time of entry

125. In estimating the compensation to be given for any such last-mentioned lands, or any estate or interest in the same, or for any mesne profits thereof, the jury, or arbitrators, or justices, (as the case may be,) shall assess the same according to what they shall find to have been the value of such lands, estate or interest, and profits, at the time such lands were entered upon by the promoters of the undertaking, and without regard to any improvements or works made in the said lands by the promoters of the undertaking, and as though the works had not been constructed.

126. In addition to the said purchase-money, compensation or satisfaction, and before the promoters of the undertaking shall become absolutely entitled to any such estate, interest or charge, or to have the same merged or extinguished for their benefit, they shall, when the right to any such estate, interest or charge shall have been disputed by the company, and determined in favour of the party claiming the same, pay the full costs and expenses of any proceedings at law or in equity for the determination or recovery of the same to the parties with whom any such litigation in respect thereof shall have taken place; and such costs and expenses shall, in case the same shall be disputed, be settled by the proper officer of the court in which such litigation took place.

Promoters to pay costs of adverse litigation as to such lands.

And with respect to lands acquired by the promoters of the undertaking under the provisions of this or the special act, or any act incorporated therewith, but which shall not be required for the purposes thereof, be it enacted as follows.—

Superfluous Lands.

[See vol. I. ch. VIII. s. 2.]

127. Within the prescribed period, or if no period be prescribed, within ten years after the expiration of the time limited by the special act for the completion of the works, the promoters of the undertaking shall absolutely sell and dispose of all such superfluous lands, and apply the purchase-money arising from such sales to the purposes of the special act; and, in default thereof, all such superfluous lands remaining unsold at the expiration of such period shall thereupon vest in and become the property of the owners of the lands adjoining thereto, in proportion to the extent of their lands respectively adjoining the same.

Lands not wanted to be sold, or, in default, to vest in owners of adjoining lands.

128. Before the promoters of the undertaking dispose of any such superfluous lands, they shall, unless such lands be situate within a town, or be lands built upon or used for building purposes, first offer to sell the same to the person then entitled to the lands (if any) from which the same were originally severed; or, if such person refuse to purchase the same, or cannot after diligent inquiry be found, then the like offer shall be made to the person or to the several persons whose lands shall immediately adjoin the lands so proposed to be sold, such persons being capable of entering into a contract for the purchase of such lands; and where more than one such person shall be entitled to such right of pre-emption, such offer shall be made to such persons in succession, one after another, in such order as the promoters of the undertaking shall think fit.

Superfluous lands to be offered to owners of lands from which they were originally taken or to adjoining owners.

129. If any such person be desirous of purchasing such lands, then, within six weeks after such offer of sale, they shall signify their desire in that behalf to the promoters of the undertaking, or if they decline such offer, or if for six weeks they neglect to signify their desire to purchase such lands, the right of pre-emption of every such person so declining or neglecting in respect of the lands included in such offer shall cease; and a declaration in writing made before a justice by some person not interested in the matter in question, stating that such offer was made and was refused, or not accepted within six weeks from the time of making the same, or that the person or all the persons entitled to the right of pre-emption were out of the country, or could not after diligent inquiry be found, or were not capable of entering into a contract for the purchase of such lands, shall in all courts be sufficient evidence of the facts therein stated.

Right of pre-emption to be claimed within six weeks.

130. If any person entitled to such pre-emption be desirous of purchasing any such lands, and such person and the promoters of the undertaking do not agree as to the price thereof, then such price shall be ascertained by arbitration (c), and the costs of such arbitration shall be in the discretion of the arbitrators.

Differences as to price to be settled by arbitration.

(c) See sect. 25, ante.

Lands to be conveyed to the purchasers.

131. Upon payment or tender to the promoters of the undertaking of the purchase-money so agreed upon or determined as aforesaid, they shall convey such lands to the purchasers thereof by deed under the common seal of the promoters of the undertaking, if they be a corporation, or, if not a corporation, under the hands and seals of the promoters of the undertaking, or any two of the directors or managers thereof acting by the authority of the body; and a deed so executed shall be effectual to vest the lands comprised therein in the purchaser of such lands for the estate which shall so have been purchased by him: and a receipt under such common seal, or under the hands of two of the directors or managers of the undertaking as aforesaid, shall be a sufficient discharge to the purchaser of any such lands for the purchase-money in such receipt expressed to be received.

"Grant," in conveyances, to operate as covenants for.

132. In every conveyance of lands to be made by the promoters of the undertaking under this or the special act, the word "grant" shall operate as express covenants by the promoters of the undertaking, for themselves and their successors, or for themselves, their heirs, executors, administrators and assigns, as the case may be, with the respective grantees therein named, and the successors, heirs, executors, administrators and assigns of such grantees, according to the quality or nature of such grants, and of the estate or interest therein expressed to be thereby conveyed as follows, except so far as the same shall be restrained or limited by express words contained in any such conveyance; (that is to say,)—

Freedom from incumbrances.

A covenant that, notwithstanding any act or default done by the promoters of the undertaking, they were at the time of the execution of such conveyance seised or possessed of the lands or premises thereby granted for an indefeasible estate of inheritance in fee simple, free from all incumbrances done or occasioned by them, or otherwise for such estate or interest as therein expressed to be thereby granted, free from incumbrances done or occasioned by them;

Quiet enjoyment.

A covenant that the grantee of such lands, his heirs, successors, executors, administrators and assigns (as the case may be), shall quietly enjoy the same against the promoters of the undertaking, and their successors, and all other persons claiming under them, and be indemnified and saved harmless by the promoters of the undertaking and their successors from all incumbrances created by the promoters of the undertaking;

Further assurance.

A covenant for further assurance of such lands, at the expense of such grantee, his heirs, successors, executors, administrators or assigns (as the case may be), by the promoters of the undertaking, or their successors, and all other persons claiming under them;

And all such grantees, and their several successors, heirs, executors, administrators and assigns respectively, according to their respective quality or nature, and the estate or interest in such conveyance expressed to be conveyed, may in all actions brought by them assign breaches of covenants, as they might do if such covenants were expressly inserted in such conveyances.

Land tax and poor's rate to be made good. [See vol I., ch. XVII., s. 1.]

133. And be it enacted, That, if the promoters of the undertaking become possessed by virtue of this or the special act, or any act incorporated therewith, of any lands charged with the land tax, or liable to be assessed to the poor's rate, they shall, from time to time, until the works shall be completed and assessed to such land tax or poor's rate, be liable to make good the deficiency in the several assessments for land tax and poor's rate by reason of such lands having been taken or used for the purposes of the works, and such deficiency shall be computed according to the rental at which such lands, with any building thereon, were valued or rated at the time of the passing of the special act; and on demand of such deficiency, the promoters of the undertaking, or their treasurer, shall pay all such deficiencies to the collector of the said assessments respectively; nevertheless, if at any time the promoters of the undertaking think fit to redeem such land tax, they may do so in accordance with the powers in that behalf given by the acts for the redemption of the land tax.

134. And be it enacted, That any summons or notice, or any writ or other proceeding at law or in equity, requiring to be served upon the promoters of the undertaking, may be served by the same being left at or transmitted through the post directed to the principal office of the promoters of the undertaking, or one of the principal offices where there shall be more than one, or being given or transmitted through the post directed to the secretary, or, in case there be no secretary, the solicitor of the said promoters (cc).

Service of notices upon company.

135. And be it enacted, That, if any party shall have committed any irregularity, trespass or other wrongful proceeding in the execution of this or the special act, or any act incorporated therewith, or by virtue of any power or authority thereby given, and if, before action brought in respect thereof, such party make tender of sufficient amends to the party injured, such last-mentioned party shall not recover in any such action; and if no such tender shall have been made, it shall be lawful for the defendant by leave of the court where such action shall be pending, at any time before issue joined, to pay into court such sum of money as he shall think fit, and thereupon such proceedings shall be had as in other cases where defendants are allowed to pay money into court (d).

Tender of amends.

And with respect to the recovery of forfeitures, penalties and costs, be it enacted as follows (e):—

Recovery of Penalties.

136. Every penalty or forfeiture imposed by this or the special act, or by any bye-law made in pursuance thereof, the recovery of which is not otherwise provided for, may be recovered by summary proceeding before two justices.

Penalties to be summarily recovered before two justices.

[137. Penalties to be levied by distress: Repealed as to England by Summary Jurisdiction Act, 1884.]

138. Where in this or the special act, or any act incorporated therewith, any sum of money, whether in the nature of penalty, costs or otherwise, is directed to be levied by distress, such sum of money shall be levied by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the party liable to pay the same; and the overplus arising from the sale of such goods and chattels, after satisfying such sum of money and the expenses of the distress and sale, shall be returned, on demand, to the party whose goods shall have been distrained.

Distress how to be levied.

139. The justices by whom any such penalty or forfeiture shall be imposed may, where the application thereof is not otherwise provided for, award not more than one-half thereof to the informer, and shall award the remainder to the overseers of the poor of the parish in which the offence shall have been committed, to be applied in aid of the poor's rate of such parish: or if the place wherein the offence shall have been committed shall be extra-parochial, then such justices shall direct such remainder to be applied in aid of the poor's rate of such extra-parochial place, or, if there shall not be any

If any such sum shall be payable by the promoters of the undertaking, and if sufficient goods of the said promoters cannot be found whereon to levy the same, it may, if the amount thereof do not exceed twenty pounds, be recovered by distress of the goods of the treasurer of the said promoters, and the justices aforesaid, or either of them, on application shall issue their or his warrant accordingly; but no such distress shall issue against the goods of such treasurer unless seven days' previous notice in writing, stating the amount so due, and demanding payment thereof, have been given to such treasurer, or left at his residence; and if such treasurer pay any money under such distress as aforesaid, he may retain the amount so paid by him, and all costs and expenses occasioned thereby, out of any money belonging to the promoters of the undertaking coming into his custody or control, or he may sue them for the same.

Distress not unlawful for want of form.

141. No distress levied by virtue of this or the special act, or any act incorporated therewith, shall be deemed unlawful, nor shall any party making the same be deemed a trespasser on account of any defect or want of form in the summons, conviction, warrant of distress, or other proceeding relating thereto, nor shall such party be deemed a trespasser ab initio on account of any irregularity afterwards committed by him, but all persons aggrieved by such defect or irregularity may recover full satisfaction for the special damage, in an action upon the case.

Whereas it is expedient to comprise in one general act sundry provisions usually introduced into acts of parliament authorizing the construction of railways, and that, as well for the purpose of avoiding the necessity of repeating such provisions in each of the several acts relating to such undertakings, as for ensuring a greater uniformity in the provisions themselves; and whereas a bill is now pending in parliament, intituled "An Act for consolidating in one Act certain Provisions usually inserted in Acts authorizing the taking of lands for undertakings of a Public Nature," and which is intended to be called "The Lands Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845:" May it therefore please your Majesty that it may be enacted: and be it enacted by (&c., &c.), That this act shall apply to every railway which shall, by an act which shall hereafter be passed, be authorized to be constructed, and this act shall be incorporated with such act; and all the clauses and provisions of this act, save so far as they shall be expressly varied or excepted by any such act, shall apply to the undertaking authorized thereby, so far as the same shall be applicable to such undertaking, and shall, as well as the clauses and provisions of every other act which shall be incorporated with such act, form part of such act (l), and be construed together therewith as forming one act.

Alteration of water and gas pipes, &c.

19. Provided always, that it shall not be lawful for the company to remove or displace any of the mains or pipes (other than private service pipes, syphons, plugs or other works belonging to any such company or society, or to do anything to impede the passage of water or gas into or through such mains or pipes, until good and sufficient mains or pipes, syphons, plugs and all other works necessary or proper for continuing the supply of water or gas as sufficiently as the same was supplied by the mains or pipes proposed to be removed or displaced, shall, at the expense of the company, have been first made and laid down in lieu thereof, and be ready for use, in a position as little varying from that of the pipes or mains proposed to be removed or displaced as may be consistent with the construction of the railway, and to the satisfaction of the surveyor or engineer of such water or gas company or society, or, in case of disagreement between such surveyor or engineer and the company, as a justice shall direct.

Drainage of Lands (Ireland).

1 & 2 Will. IV. c. 57.

5 & 6 Vict. c. 89.

And whereas there are large tracts of land in Ireland subject to flood and injury by water, and the rivers, streams and watercourses are in many places obstructed by shoals, insufficient bridges, culverts, weirs and other works, whereby the waters thereof are elevated above their natural level: and whereas an act of Parliament was passed in the second year of the reign of his late Majesty King William the Fourth, intituled "An Act to empower Landed Proprietors in Ireland to sink, embank and remove Obstructions in Rivers:" and whereas another act was passed in the sixth year of the reign of her present Majesty, intituled "An Act to promote the Drainage of Lands, and Improvement of Navigation and Water Power in connection with such Drainage in Ireland;" and by the said last-mentioned act public commissioners were appointed to carry the said last-recited act into execution; and whereas it is essential, for carrying into effect the purposes of the said acts, and for the improvement of agriculture, that ample provision be made in all railway works in Ireland, for the free and uninterrupted passage of the waters at such level as will be sufficient not only for the present but all future discharge of the waters from lands crossed by or being on either side of such works, and that the bridges of railways crossing all watercourses, rivers, lakes or estuaries which are or hereafter may be made navigable, shall be so constructed as to admit of the commodious navigation of the same; therefore, with respect to the provision to be made for the drainage of land in Ireland which may be crossed by the railway, and for the protection of the navigation connected therewith, be it enacted as follows:

Company to submit to Drainage Commissioners in Ireland, plans, &c., of the portion of the railway which they are about to execute.

25. If the special act shall authorize the construction of a railway in Ireland (x), the company shall and they are hereby required, from time to time, before proceeding to construct any portion of the railway, to submit to the commissioners acting in execution of the said act of the sixth year of her present Majesty, or any act amending the same, such plans, sections and surveys as shall be necessary to enable the said commissioners to decide upon the number and adequacy of the waterways of all bridges, culverts, tunnels, watercourses and other works across the line of such portion as aforesaid of the railway, for the free and uninterrupted discharge of the waters from all lands crossed by or lying on either side of or near the railway, at such a level as shall, in the opinion of the said commissioners, be sufficient for the present and prospective drainage and improvement of such lands, and (in cases of rivers, lakes, estuaries or watercourses which are now or may be capable of being made navigable) upon the height and adequacy of all bridges and works crossing the same for the commodious navigation thereof.

26. The said commissioners shall, and they are hereby required, without any unnecessary delay, to investigate, by such means as to them shall seem fit, the adequacy of all such works for such purposes as aforesaid, and to decide and certify, by a writing under their hands, or the hands of any two of them, the number, situation and least possible dimensions as to breadth, depth and height of the several openings of such bridges, culverts, tunnels, or other works connected with such portion of the railway as aforesaid, which shall be necessary for the passage of water or for navigation under or across such railway; and it shall not be lawful for the company to proceed with the execution of any of the works connected with any portion of the railway without having first obtained such certificate as aforesaid respecting such portion of the railway, under the hands of the said commissioners, or any two of them as aforesaid; nor shall the company be at liberty to deviate from such certificate in respect to such works, nor to execute the same otherwise than in conformity therewith, without the previous approbation in writing of the said commissioners.

Commissioners to decide on works necessary for drainage.

Certificate.

27. It shall be lawful for the said commissioners to apply by petition in a summary way to the Court of Chancery, complaining of any omission on the part of the company to submit such plans, sections and surveys to the said commissioners as aforesaid, or of the omission to construct any such bridge, culvert, tunnel or other works for the passage of water, in such manner as shall be so certified by the said commissioners; and thereupon it shall be lawful for the said court to direct such works to be made or constructed by the company in such manner as shall be conformable to the certificate of the said commissioners, and to the said court shall seem necessary or proper, and to make from time to time such further or other order for restraining the company or any other persons from proceeding with any of the works connected with such portion of railway, except in conformity with the certificate of the said commissioners, and to issue any writ of injunction for the purpose aforesaid; and such court shall have power to award costs to be paid by such company or persons.

Commissioners may apply to Court of Chancery to enforce the execution of such works.

28. Nothing in this or the special act shall extend or be construed to prejudice or affect the powers or authorities of the commissioners acting in execution of the said act of the sixth year of her present Majesty, but all such powers shall be in full force as to the formation of any cut, river or watercourse across the railway; but such powers shall not be exercised so as to prevent or obstruct the working or using of the railway.

Saving of powers of Commissioners.

29. And whereas it is expedient to encourage the establishment of manufacturing purposes to be worked by water power in Ireland: be it therefore enacted, That whenever it may be requisite for the formation of a watercourse for manufacturing purposes to construct an arch, culvert, tunnel or watercourse beneath, or an aqueduct above, any railway in Ireland, and that differences shall have arisen between the directors of such railway and the person interested in obtaining the water power, either as to the manner in which such works shall be executed, or the amount of compensation which should be paid, it shall be lawful to refer the questions in issue to the commissioners acting under the said recited act of the fifth and sixth years of the reign of her Majesty Queen Victoria, and their decision thereon shall be final and conclusive; and if the said commissioners shall be of opinion that the proposed works can be executed without injury to the railway, and if they shall think proper so to do, they may undertake the execution of so much of the said works as shall be in connection with such railway, at the expense of the parties for whose benefit the watercourse shall be made, with the same

Power to owners to object that Power to take

[See vol. I.
ch. IV. s. 10.]

And with respect to the temporary occupation of lands near the railway during the construction thereof, be it enacted as follows :—

30. Subject to the provisions herein and in the special act contained, it shall be lawful for the company, at any time before the expiration of the period by the special act limited for the completion of the railway, to enter upon and use any existing private road, being a road gravelled or formed with stones or other hard materials, and not being an avenue or a planted or ornamental road, or an approach to any mansion-house, within the prescribed limits, if any, or, if no limits be prescribed, not being more than five hundred yards distant from the centre of the railway as delineated on the plans; but, before the company shall enter upon or use any such existing road, they shall give three weeks' notice of their intention to the owners and occupiers of such road, and of the lands over which the same shall pass, and shall in such notice state the time during which, and the purposes for which, they intend to occupy such road, and shall pay to the owners and occupiers of such road, and of the lands through which the same shall pass, such compensation for the use and occupation of such road, either in a gross sum of money or by half-yearly instalments, as shall be agreed upon between such owners and occupiers respectively and the company, or, in case they differ about the compensation, the same shall be settled by two justices, in the same manner as any compensation not exceeding fifty pounds is directed to be settled by the said Lands Clauses Consolidation Act.

31. It shall be lawful for the owners and occupiers of any such road, and of the lands over which the same passes, within ten days after the service of the aforesaid notice, by notice in writing to the company to object to the company making use of such road, on the ground that other roads, such as the company are hereinbefore authorized to use for the purposes aforesaid, or that some public road would be more fitting to be used for the same; and, upon the objection being so made, such proceedings may be had as are hereinafter mentioned with respect to lands temporarily occupied by the company, in respect of which three weeks' notice is hereinafter required to be given, and in the same manner as if, in the provisions relative to such proceedings, the word "road" or "roads," or the words "road and the land over which the same passes," as the case may require, had been substituted in such provisions for the word "lands."

32. Subject to the provisions herein and in the special act contained, it shall be lawful for the company at any time before the expiration of the period by the special act limited for the completion of the railway, without making any previous payment, tender or deposit, to enter upon any lands within the prescribed limits, or if no limits be prescribed, not being more than two hundred yards distant from the centre of the railway as delineated on the plans, and not being a garden, orchard or plantation attached or belonging to a house, nor a park, planted walk, avenue or ground ornamentally planted, and not being nearer to the mansion-house of the owner of any such lands than the prescribed distance, or if no distance be prescribed, then not nearer than five hundred yards therefrom, and to occupy the said lands so long as may be necessary for the construction or repair of that portion of the railway, or of the accommodation works connected therewith, hereinafter mentioned, and to use the same for any of the following purposes: (that is to say),

For the purpose of taking earth or soil by side cuttings therefrom;

For the purpose of depositing spoil thereon;

For the purpose of obtaining materials therefrom for the construction or repair of the railway or such accommodation works as aforesaid; or

For the purpose of forming roads thereon to or from or by the side of the railway :

And in exercise of the powers aforesaid it shall be lawful for the company to deposit, and also to manufacture and work upon such lands materials of every kind used in constructing the railway, and also to dig and take from out of any such lands any clay, stone, gravel, sand or other things that may be found therein useful or proper for constructing the railway or any such roads as aforesaid, and for the purposes aforesaid to erect thereon workshops, sheds and other buildings of a temporary nature : Provided always, that nothing in this act contained shall exempt the company from an action for nuisance or other injury, if any, done in the exercise of the powers hereinbefore given, to the lands or habitations of any party other than the party whose lands shall be so taken or used for any of the purposes aforesaid : Provided also, that no stone or slate quarry, brick field or other like place, which, at the time of the passing of the special act, shall be commonly worked or used for getting materials therefrom for the purpose of selling or disposing of the same, shall be taken or used by the company, either wholly or in part, for any of the purposes lastly hereinbefore mentioned.

Action for nuisance by party whose land not taken.

33. In case any such lands shall be required for spoil banks or for side cuttings, or for obtaining materials for the construction or repair of the railway, the company shall, before entering thereon (except in the case of accident to the railway requiring immediate repair) give three weeks' notice in writing to the owners and occupiers of such lands of their intention to enter upon the same for such purposes ; and in case the said lands are required for any of the other purposes hereinbefore mentioned, the company shall (except in the cases aforesaid) give ten days' like notice thereof, and the company shall, in such notices respectively, state the substance of the provisions hereinafter contained respecting the right of such owner or occupier to require the company to purchase any such lands, or to receive compensation for the temporary occupation thereof, as the case may be.

Company to give notice previous to such temporary possession.

34. The said notice shall either be served personally on such owners and occupiers, or left at their last usual place of abode, if any such can after diligent inquiry be found, and in case any such owner shall be absent from the United Kingdom, or cannot be found after diligent inquiry, shall also be left with the occupier of such lands, or if there be no such occupier, shall be affixed upon some conspicuous part of such lands.

Service of notices on owners.

35. In any case in which a notice of three weeks is hereinbefore required to be given (y) it shall be lawful for the owner or occupier of the lands therein referred to, within ten days after the service of such notice, by notice in writing to the company, to object to the company making use of such lands, either on the ground that the lands proposed to be taken for the purposes aforesaid, or some part thereof, or of the materials contained therein, are essential to be retained by such owner, in order to the beneficial enjoyment of other neighbouring lands belonging to him, or on the ground that other lands lying contiguous or near to those proposed to be taken would be more fitting to be used for such purposes by the company ; and upon objection being so made such proceedings may be had as herein-after mentioned.

Power to owner to object that other lands should be taken.

Power to two justices to order that the lands and materials shall not be taken

36. If the objection so made be on the ground that the lands proposed to be taken, or some part thereof, or of the materials contained therein, are essential to be retained by the owner in order to the beneficial enjoyment of other neighbouring lands belonging to him, it shall be lawful for any justice, on the application of such owner, to summon the company to appear before two justices at a time and place to be named in the summons, such time not being later than the expiration of the said twenty-one days' notice; and on the appearance of the company, or in their absence upon proof of due service of the summons, it shall be lawful for such justices to inquire into the truth of such ground of objection; and if it appear to such justices that for some special reason, to be stated in the order after mentioned, the lands so proposed to be taken, or any part thereof, or of the materials contained therein, are essential to be retained by the owner of such lands in order to the beneficial enjoyment of other neighbouring lands belonging to him, and ought not therefore to be taken or used by the company, it shall be lawful for such justices, by writing under their hands, to order that the lands so proposed to be taken, or some part thereof, or of the materials contained therein, to be specified in such order, shall not be taken or used by the company, and, after service of such order on the company, it shall not be lawful for them to take or use, without the previous consent in writing of the owner thereof, any of the lands or materials which by such order they are ordered not to take or use.

Power to justices to order other lands to be taken.

37. If the objection so made as aforesaid be on the ground that other lands lying contiguous to those proposed to be taken, and being sufficient in quantity, and such as the company are hereinbefore authorized to use for the purposes aforesaid, would be more fitting to be used by the company, and if in such case the company shall refuse to occupy such other lands in lieu of those mentioned in the notice, it shall be lawful for any justice, on the application of such owner or occupier, to summon the company and the owners and occupiers of such other lands to appear before two justices at a time and place to be named in such summons, such time not being more than fourteen days after such application, nor less than seven days from the service of such summons; and on the appearance of the parties, or in the absence of any of them, upon proof of due service of the summons, it shall be lawful for such justices to determine summarily which of the said lands shall be used by the company for the purposes aforesaid, and to authorize the company to occupy and use the same accordingly.

Power to the justices to summon other owners before them.

38. If in the case last mentioned it shall appear to such justices, upon the inquiry before them, that the lands of any other party not summoned before them, being sufficient in quantity, and such as the company are hereinbefore authorized to take or use for the purposes aforesaid, would be more fitting to be used by the company than the lands of the person who shall have been so summoned as aforesaid, it shall be lawful for the said justices to adjourn such inquiry, and to summon such other person to appear before them at any time, not being more than fourteen days from such inquiry nor less than seven from the service of such summons; and on the appearance of the parties, or, in the absence of any of them, on proof of due service of the summons, it shall be lawful for such justices to determine finally which lands shall be used for the purposes aforesaid, and to authorize the company to occupy and use the same accordingly.

The company to give sureties, if required.

39. Before entering, under the provisions hereinbefore contained, upon any such lands as shall be required for spoil banks or for side cuttings, or for obtaining materials or forming roads as aforesaid, the company shall, if required by the owner or occupier thereof, seven days at least before the expiration of the notice to take such lands as hereinbefore mentioned, find two sufficient persons, to be approved of by a justice, in case the parties differ, who shall enter into a bond to such owner or occupier, in a penalty of such amount as shall be approved of by such justice, in case the parties differ, conditioned for the payment of such compensation as may become payable in respect of the same in manner herein mentioned.

40. Before the company shall use any such lands for any of the purposes aforesaid, they shall, if required so to do by the owner or occupier thereof, separate the same by a sufficient fence from the lands adjoining thereto, with such gates as may be required by the said owner or occupier for the convenient occupation of such lands, and shall also, to all private roads used by them as aforesaid, put up fences and gates in like manner, in all cases where the same may be necessary to prevent the straying of cattle from or upon the lands traversed by such roads, and in case of any difference between the owners or occupiers of such roads and lands and the company as to the necessity for such fences and gates, such fences and gates as any two magistrates shall deem necessary for the purposes aforesaid, on application being made to them in like manner as hereinbefore is provided in respect to the use of such roads.

Company to separate the lands before using them.

Fences.

41. That, if any land shall be taken or used by the company, under the provisions of this or the special act, for the purpose of getting materials therefrom for the construction or repair of the railway, or the accommodation works connected therewith, they shall work the same in such manner as the surveyor or agent of the owner of such lands shall direct, or, in case of disagreement between such surveyor or agent and the company, in such manner as any justice shall direct, on the application of either party, after notice of the hearing the application shall have been given to the other party.

Lands taken for getting materials, &c., to be worked as surveyor of owner may direct.

42. In all cases in which the company shall, in exercise of the powers aforesaid, enter upon any lands for the purpose of making spoil banks or side cuttings thereon, or for obtaining therefrom materials for the construction or repair of the railway, it shall be lawful for the owners or occupiers of such lands, or parties having such estates or interests therein as, under the provisions in the said Lands Clauses Consolidation Act mentioned, would enable them to sell or convey lands to the company, at any time during the possession of any such lands by the company, and before such owners or occupiers shall have accepted compensation from the company in respect of such temporary occupation, to serve a notice in writing on the company requiring them to purchase the said lands, or the estates and interests therein capable of being sold and conveyed by them respectively; and in such notice such owners or occupiers shall set forth the particulars of such their estate or interest in such lands and the amount of their claim in respect thereof; and the company shall thereupon be bound to purchase the said lands, or the estate and interest therein capable of being sold and conveyed by the parties serving such notice.

Owners may compel purchase of lands so temporarily occupied.

43. In any of the cases aforesaid, where the company shall not be required to purchase such lands, and in all other cases where they shall take temporary possession of lands by virtue of the powers herein or in the special act granted, it shall be incumbent on the company, within one month after their entry upon such lands, upon being required so to do, to pay to the occupier of the said lands the value of any crop or dressing that may be thereon, as well as full compensation for any other damage of a temporary nature which he may sustain by reason of their so taking possession of his lands, and shall also from time to time, during their occupation of the said lands, pay half-yearly to such occupier or to the owner of the lands as the case may require, a rent to be fixed by two justices, in case the parties differ, and shall also within six months after they shall have ceased to occupy the said lands, and not later than six months after the expiration of the time by the special act limited for the completion of the railway, pay to such owner and occupier, or deposit in the Bank for the benefit of all parties interested, as the case may require, compensation for all permanent or other loss, damage, or injury that may have been sustained by them by reason of the exercise, as regards the said lands, of the powers herein, or in the special act granted, including the full value of all clay, stone, gravel, sand, and other things taken from such lands.

Compensation to be made for temporary occupation.

Compensation to be ascertained under the Lands Clauses Act.
8 Vict. c. 18, ante.

44. The amount and application of the purchase-money and other compensation payable by the company in any of the cases aforesaid shall be determined in the manner provided by the said Lands Clauses Consolidation Act for determining the amount and application of the compensation to be paid for lands taken under the provisions thereof.

Lands for additional Stations.

Land to be taken for additional stations, &c.

[See vol. I ch. IV. s. 2, and s. 12 of L. C. Act, p. 64, ante.]

45. And be it enacted, That it shall be lawful for the company, in addition to the lands authorized to be compulsorily taken by them under the powers of this or the special act, to contract with any party willing to sell the same, for the purchase of any land adjoining or near to the railway, not exceeding in the whole the prescribed number of acres for extraordinary purposes; (that is to say,)

For the purpose of making and providing additional stations, yards, wharfs, and places for the accommodation of passengers, and for receiving, depositing, and loading or unloading goods or cattle to be conveyed upon the railway, and for the erection of weighing-machines, toll-houses, offices, warehouses and other buildings and conveniences;

For the purpose of making convenient roads or ways to the railway, or any other purpose which may be requisite or convenient for the formation or use of the railway.

Crossing of Roads and Construction of Bridges.

Crossing of roads.

And with respect to the Crossing of Roads, or other interference therewith, be it enacted as follows:—

46. If the line of the railway cross any turnpike road or public highway, then (except where otherwise provided by the special act) either such road shall be carried over the railway, or the railway shall be carried over such road, by means of a bridge of the height and width, and with the ascent or descent, by this or the special act in that behalf provided; and such bridge, with the immediate approaches, and all other necessary works connected therewith, shall be executed, and at all times thereafter maintained, at the expense of the company: Provided always, that, with the consent of two or more justices in petty sessions, as after mentioned, it shall be lawful for the company to carry the railway across any highway, other than a public carriage road, on the level.

Level crossings.
Gates to be kept closed across road.

[See vol. I. ch. IX. s. 6.]

47. If the railway cross any turnpike road or public carriage road on a level, the company shall erect and at all times maintain good and sufficient gates across such road, on each side of the railway, where the same shall communicate therewith, and shall employ proper persons to open and shut such gates, and such gates shall be kept constantly closed across such road on both sides of the railway, except during the time when horses, cattle, carts or carriages passing along the same shall have to cross such railway; and such gates shall be of such dimensions and so constructed as when closed to fence in the railway, and prevent cattle or horses passing along the road from entering upon the railway; and the person intrusted with the care of such gates shall cause the same to be closed as soon as such horses, cattle, carts or carriages shall have passed through the same, under a penalty of forty shillings for every default therein: Provided always, that it shall be lawful for the Board of Trade, in any case in which they are satisfied that it will be more conducive to the public safety that the gates on any level crossing over any such road should be kept closed across the railway, to order that such gates shall be kept so closed, instead of across the road, and in such case such gates shall be constantly closed across the railway, except when engines or carriages passing along the railway shall have occasion to cross such road, in the same manner and under the like penalty as above directed with respect to the gates being kept closed across the road.

Board of Trade may order gates to be closed across railway.

48. Where the railway crosses any turnpike road on a level adjoining to a station, all trains on the railway shall be made to slacken their speed before arriving at such turnpike road, and shall not cross the same at any greater rate of speed than four miles an hour; and the company shall be subject to all such rules and regulations, with regard to such crossings, as may from time to time be made by the Board of Trade.

Crossing of turnpike roads near stations.
Speed.

49. Every bridge to be erected for the purpose of carrying the railway over any road shall (except where otherwise provided by the special act) be built in conformity with the following regulations (that is to say),

Bridges over roads.

The width of the arch shall be such as to leave thereunder a clear space of not less than thirty-five feet if the arch be over a turnpike road, and of twenty-five feet if over a public carriage road, and of twelve feet if over a private road;

Width and height of arches, &c.
[See vol. I. ch. IX. s. 4.]

The clear height of the arch from the surface of the road shall not be less than sixteen feet for a space of twelve feet if the arch be over a turnpike road, and fifteen feet for a space of ten feet if over a public carriage road; and in each of such cases the clear height at the springing of the arch shall not be less than twelve feet;

The clear height of the arch for a space of nine feet shall not be less than fourteen feet over a private carriage road;

The descent made in the road in order to carry the same under the bridge shall not be more than one foot in thirty feet if the bridge be over a turnpike road, one foot in twenty feet if over a public carriage road, and one foot in sixteen feet if over a private carriage road, not being a tramroad or railroad, or, if the same be a tramroad or railroad, the descent shall not be greater than the prescribed rate of inclination, and, if no rate be prescribed, the same shall not be greater than as it existed at the passing of the special act.

50. Every bridge erected for carrying any road over the railway shall (except as otherwise provided by the special act) be built in conformity with the following regulations (that is to say),

Bridges over railway.
Fences, &c.

There shall be a good and sufficient fence on each side of the bridge of not less height than four feet, and on each side of the immediate approaches of such bridge of not less than three feet;

The road over the bridge shall have a clear space between the fences thereof of thirty-five feet if the road be a turnpike road, and twenty-five feet if a public carriage road, and twelve feet if a private road;

The ascent shall not be more than one foot in thirty feet if the road be a turnpike road, one foot in twenty feet if a public carriage road, and one foot in sixteen feet if a private carriage road, not being a tramroad or railroad, or, if the same be a tramroad or railroad, the ascent shall not be greater than the prescribed rate of inclination, and, if no rate be prescribed, the same shall not be greater than as it existed at the passing of the special act.

51. Provided always, That, in all cases where the average available width for the passage of carriages of any existing roads within fifty yards of the points of crossing the same is less than the width hereinbefore prescribed for bridges under or over the railway, the width of such bridges need not be greater than such average available width of such roads, but so, nevertheless, that such bridges be not of less width, in the case of a turnpike road, or public carriage road, than twenty feet : Provided also, That, if at any time after the construction of the railway the average available width of any such road shall be increased beyond the width of such bridge on either side thereof, the company shall be bound, at their own expense, to increase the width of the said bridge to such extent as they may be required by the trustees or surveyors of such road, not exceeding the width of such road as so widened, or the maximum width herein or in the special act prescribed for a bridge in the like case over or under the railway.

Existing inclinations of roads crossed or diverted need not be improved.

52. Provided also, That, if the mesne inclination of any road within two hundred and fifty yards of the point of crossing the same, or the inclination of such portion of any road as may require to be altered, or for which another road shall be substituted, shall be steeper than the inclination hereinbefore required to be preserved by the company, then the company may carry any such road over or under the railway, or may construct such altered or substituted road at an inclination not steeper than the said mesne inclination of the road so to be crossed, or of the road so requiring to be altered, or for which another road shall be substituted.

Before roads interfered with, others to be substituted.

53. If, in the exercise of the powers by this or the special act granted, it be found necessary to cross, cut through, raise, sink or use any part of any road, whether carriage road, horse road, tramroad or railway, either public or private, so as to render it impassable for or dangerous or extraordinarily inconvenient to passengers or carriages, or to the persons entitled to the use thereof, the company shall, before the commencement of any such operations, cause a sufficient road to be made instead of the road to be interfered with, and shall at their own expense maintain such substituted road in a state as convenient for passengers and carriages as the road so interfered with, or as nearly so as may be.

Penalty for not substituting a road.

54. If the company do not cause another sufficient road to be so made before they interfere with any such existing road as aforesaid, they shall forfeit twenty pounds for every day during which such substituted road shall not be made after the existing road shall have been interrupted ; and such penalty shall be paid to the trustees, commissioners, surveyor or other person having the management of such road, if a public road, and shall be applied for the purposes thereof, or, in case of a private road, the same shall be paid to the owner thereof, and every such penalty shall be recoverable, with costs, by action in any of the superior courts.

Party suffering special damage from interruption of road may recover by action.

55. If any party, entitled to a right of way over any road so interfered with by the company, shall suffer any special damage by reason that the company shall fail to cause another sufficient road to be made before they interfere with the existing road, it shall be lawful for such party to recover the amount of such special damage from the company, with costs, by action on the case in any of the superior courts, and that, whether any party shall have sued for such penalty as aforesaid or not, and without prejudice to the right of any party to sue for the same.

Period for restoration of roads interfered with.

56. If the road so interfered with can be restored compatibly with the formation and use of the railway, the same shall be restored to as good a condition as the same was in at the time when the same was first interfered with by the company, or as near thereto as may be ; and if such road cannot be restored compatibly with the formation and use of the railway, the company shall cause the new or substituted road, or some other sufficient substituted road, to be put into a permanently substantial condition, equally convenient as the former road, or as near thereto as circumstances will allow; and the former road shall be restored, or the substituted road put into such condition as aforesaid, as the case may be, within the following periods after the first operation on the former road shall have been commenced, unless the trustees or parties having the management of the road to be restored, by writing under their hands, consent to an extension of the period, and in such case, within such extended period; (that is to say,) if the road be a turnpike road, within six months, and, if the road be not a turnpike road, within twelve months.

57. If any such road be not so restored, or the substituted road so completed, as aforesaid, within the periods herein or in the special act fixed for that purpose, the company shall forfeit to the trustees, commissioners, surveyor or other person having the management of the road interfered with by the company, if a public road, or, if a private road, to the owner thereof, five pounds for every day after the expiration of such periods respectively during which such road shall not be so restored, or the substituted road completed; and it shall be lawful for the justices by whom any such penalty is imposed to order the whole, or any part thereof, to be laid out in executing the work in respect whereof such penalty was incurred.

Penalty for failing to restore road.

58. If, in the course of making the railway, the company shall use or interfere with any road, they shall from time to time make good all damage done by them to such road; and if any question shall arise as to the damage done to any such road by the company, or as to the repair thereof by them, such question shall be referred to the determination of two justices; and such justices may direct such repairs to be made in the state of such road, in respect of the damage done by the company, and within such period as they think reasonable, and may impose on the company, for not carrying into effect such repairs, any penalty not exceeding five pounds per day, as to such justices shall seem just; and such penalty shall be paid to the surveyor or other person having the management of the road interfered with by the company, if a public road, and be applied for the purposes of such road, or, if a private road, the same shall be paid to the owner thereof: Provided always, that in determining any such question with regard to a turnpike road, the said justices shall have regard to and shall make full allowance for any tolls that may have been paid by the company on such road in the course of the using thereof.

Company to repair roads used by them.

59. When the company shall intend to apply for the consent of two justices, as hereinbefore provided,* so as to authorize them to carry the railway across any highway other than a public carriage road on the level, they shall, fourteen days at least previous to the holding of the petty sessions at which such application is intended to be made, cause notice of such intended application to be given in some newspaper circulating in the county, and also to be affixed upon the door of the parish church of the parish in which such crossing is intended to be made, or, if there be no such church, some other place to which notices are usually affixed; and if it appear to any two or more justices acting for the district in which such highway, at the proposed crossing thereof, is situate, and assembled in petty sessions, after such notice as aforesaid, that the railway can, consistently with a due regard to the public safety and convenience, be carried across such highway on the level, it shall be lawful for such justices to consent that the same may be so carried accordingly.

Proceedings on application to justices to consent to level crossings of highways and footways.
* Sect. 46.

60. If either party shall feel aggrieved by the determination of such justices upon any such application as aforesaid, it shall be lawful for such party, in like manner, and subject to the like conditions as are hereinafter provided in the case of appeals, in respect of penalties and forfeitures,* to appeal to the quarter sessions of the county or place in which the cause of appeal shall have arisen; and it shall be lawful for the justices in such quarter sessions, upon the hearing of such appeal, either to confirm or quash the determination, or to make such other order in regard to the method of carrying the railway across such highway as aforesaid as to them shall seem fit, and to make such order concerning the costs both of the original application and of the appeal as to them shall seem reasonable.

Appeal to quarter sessions.

* Sect. 157.

Company to make sufficient approaches and fences to bridleways and footways crossing on the level.

61. If the railway shall cross any highway other than a public carriage-way on the level, the company shall at their own expense make and at all times maintain convenient ascents and descents and other convenient approaches, with handrails or other fences, and shall, if such highway be a bridleway, erect and at all times maintain good and sufficient gates, and, if the same shall be a footway, good and sufficient gates or stiles, on each side of the railway where the highway shall communicate therewith.

Justices may order approaches and fences to be made to high-ways crossing on the level.

62. If, where the railway shall cross any highway on the level, the company fail to make convenient ascents and descents or other convenient approaches, and such handrails, fences, gates and stiles as they are hereinbefore required to make, it shall be lawful for two justices, on the application of the surveyor of roads, or of any two householders within the parish or district where such crossing shall be situate, after not less than ten days' notice to the company, to order the company to make such ascent and descent or other approach, or such handrails, fences, gates or stiles as aforesaid, within a period to be limited for that purpose by such justices; and, if the company fail to comply with such order, they shall forfeit five pounds for every day that they fail so to do; and it shall be lawful for the justices by whom any such penalty is imposed to order the whole or any part thereof to be applied, in such manner and by such person as they think fit, in executing the work in respect whereof such penalty was incurred.

Screens for Turnpike Roads.

Screens for roads to be made, if required by Board of Trade.

63. If the commissioners or trustees of any turnpike road, or the surveyor of any highway, apprehend danger to the passengers on such road in consequence of horses being frightened by the sight of the engines or carriages travelling upon the railway, it shall be lawful for such commissioners, or trustees, or surveyor, after giving fourteen days' notice to the company, to apply to the Board of Trade with respect thereto; and if it shall appear to the said Board that such danger might be obviated or lessened by the construction of any works in the nature of a screen near to or adjoining the side of such road, it shall be lawful for them, if they shall think fit, to certify the works necessary or proper to be executed by the company for the purpose of obviating or lessening such danger, and by such certificate to require the company to execute such works within a certain time after the service of such certificate, to be appointed by the said Board.

Penalty for failing to construct screen.

64. Where, by any such certificate as aforesaid, the company shall have been required to execute any such work in the nature of a screen, they shall execute and complete the same within the period appointed for that purpose in such certificate; and, if they fail so to do, they shall forfeit to the said commissioners, or trustees, or surveyor, five pounds for every day during which such works shall remain uncompleted beyond the period so appointed for their completion; and it shall be lawful for the justices by whom any such penalty is imposed to order the whole or any part thereof to be laid out in executing the work in respect whereof such penalty was incurred.

Construction of Bridges.

Justices may order repair of bridges, &c.

65. Where, under the provisions of this or the special act, or any act incorporated therewith, the company are required to maintain or keep in repair any bridge, fence, approach, gate or other work executed by them, it shall be lawful for two justices, on the application of the surveyor of roads, or of any two householders of the parish or district where such work may be situate, complaining that any such work is out of repair, after not less than ten days' notice to the company, to order the company to put such work into complete repair within a period to be limited for that purpose by such justices; and, if the company fail to comply with such order, they shall forfeit five pounds for every day that they fail so to do (2): and it shall be lawful for the justices by whom any such penalty is imposed to order the whole or any part thereof to be applied, in such manner and by such persons as they think fit, in putting such work into repair.

66. And whereas expense might frequently be avoided, and public convenience promoted, by a reference to the Board of Trade upon the construction of public works of an engineering nature connected with the railway, where a strict compliance with the provisions of this or the special act might be impossible, or attended with inconvenience to the company, and without adequate advantage to the public; be it enacted, That, in case any difference in regard to the construction, alteration or restoration of any road or bridge, or other public work of an engineering nature, required by the provisions of this or the special act, shall arise between the company and any trustees, commissioners, surveyors or other persons having the control of or being authorized by law to enforce the construction of such road, bridge or work, it shall be lawful for either party, after giving fourteen days' notice in writing of their intention so to do to the other party, to apply to the Board of Trade to decide upon the proper manner of constructing, altering or restoring such road, bridge or other work; and it shall be lawful for the Board of Trade, if they shall think fit, to decide the same accordingly, and to authorize, by certificate in writing, any arrangement or mode of construction in regard to any such road, bridge or other work which shall appear to them either to be in substantial compliance with the provisions of this and the special act, or to be calculated to afford equal or greater accommodation to the public using such road, bridge or other work; and after any such certificate shall have been given by the Board of Trade, the road, bridge or other work therein mentioned shall be constructed by the company in conformity with the terms of such certificate, and, being so constructed, shall be deemed to be constructed in conformity with the provisions of this and the special act: Provided always, that no such certificate shall be granted by the Board of Trade unless they shall be satisfied that existing private rights or interests will not be injuriously affected thereby.

Board of Trade may modify construction of certain roads, bridges, &c., where strict compliance with act impossible or inconvenient.

67. And be it enacted, That all regulations, certificates, notices, and other documents in writing purporting to be made or issued by or by the authority of the Board of Trade, and signed by some officer appointed for that purpose by the Board of Trade, shall, for the purposes of this and the special act, and any act incorporated therewith, be deemed to have been so made and issued, and that without proof of the authority of the person signing the same, or of the signature thereto, which matters shall be presumed until the contrary be proved; and service of any such document by leaving the same at one of the principal offices of the railway company, or by sending the same by post addressed to the secretary at such office, shall be deemed good service upon the company; and all notices and other documents required by this or the special act to be given to or laid before the Board of Trade shall be delivered at, or sent by post addressed to, the office of the Board of Trade in London.

Authentication of certificates of the Board of Trade, service of notices, &c. a).

And with respect to Works for the Accommodation of lands adjoining the railway, be it enacted as follows:—

68. The company shall make and at all times thereafter maintain the following works for the accommodation of the owners and occupiers of lands adjoining the railway; (that is to say,)

Accommodation Works.

[See vol. I. cli. IX. s. 7.]

(2) See Bristol and Exeter R. Co. v. Tucker, 13 C. B. (N. S.) 207; 7 Law T. 464, where a conviction under this section and sect. 145 was affirmed.

(a) See also 31 & 32 Vict. c. 119, s. 26 post.

Gates, bridges,
&c. ;

Such and so many convenient gates, bridges, arches, culverts and passages over, under or by the sides of or leading to or from the railway as shall be necessary for the purpose of making good any interruptions caused by the railway to the use of the lands through which the railway shall be made ; and such works shall be made forthwith after the part of the railway passing over such lands shall have been laid out or formed, or during the formation thereof ;

fences ;

Also sufficient posts, rails, hedges, ditches, mounds, or other fences for separating the land taken for the use of the railway from the adjoining lands not taken, and protecting such lands from trespass, or the cattle of the owners or occupiers thereof from straying thereout, by reason of the railway, together with all necessary gates made to open towards such adjoining lands, and not towards the railway, and all necessary stiles ; and such posts, rails and other fences shall be made forthwith after the taking of any such lands, if the owners thereof shall so require, and the said other works as soon as conveniently may be ;

drains ;

Also all necessary arches, tunnels, culverts, drains or other passages, either over or under or by the sides of the railway, of such dimensions as will be sufficient at all times to convey the water as clearly from the lands lying near or affected by the railway as before the making of the railway, or as nearly so as may be ; and such works shall be made from time to time as the railway works proceed ;

watering-place

Also proper watering-places for cattle, where, by reason of the railway, the cattle of any person occupying any lands lying near thereto shall be deprived of access to their former watering-places ; and such watering-places shall be so made as to be at all times as sufficiently supplied with water as theretofore, and as if the railway had not been made, or as nearly so as may be ; and the company shall make all necessary watercourses and drains for the purpose of conveying water to the said watering-places ;

Provided always, that the company shall not be required to make such accommodation works in such a manner as would prevent or obstruct the working or using of the railway, nor to make any accommodation works with respect to which the owners and occupiers of the lands shall have agreed to receive and shall have been paid compensation instead of the making them.

Differences as to accommodation works, settled by justices.

69. If any difference arise respecting the kind or number of any such accommodation works, or the dimensions or sufficiency thereof, or respecting the maintaining thereof, the same shall be determined by two justices ; and such justices shall also appoint the time within which such works shall be commenced and executed by the company.

Execution of works by owners on default by the company.

70. If for fourteen days next after the time appointed by such justices for the commencement of any such works the company shall fail to commence such works, or having commenced, shall fail to proceed diligently to execute the same in a sufficient manner, it shall be lawful for the party aggrieved by such failure himself to execute such works or repairs ; and the reasonable expenses thereof shall be repaid by the company to the party by whom the same shall so have been executed ; and, if there be any dispute about such expenses, the same shall be settled by two justices : Provided always, that no such owner or occupier or other person shall obstruct or injure the railway, or any of the works connected therewith, for a longer time, nor use them in any other manner, than is unavoidably necessary for the execution or repair of such accommodation works.

Power to owners of land to make additional accommodation
works.

71. If any of the owners or occupiers of lands affected by such railway shall consider the accommodation works made by the company, or directed by such justices to be made by the company, insufficient for the commodious use of their respective lands, it shall be lawful for any such owner or occupier, at any time, at his own expense, to make such further works for that purpose as he shall think necessary, and as shall be agreed to by the company, or, in case of difference, as shall be authorized by two justices.

72. If the company so desire, all such last-mentioned accommodation works shall be constructed under the superintendence of their engineer, and according to plans and specifications to be submitted to and approved by such engineer; nevertheless the company shall not be entitled to require, either that plans should be adopted which would involve a greater expense than that incurred in the execution of similar works by the company, or that the plans selected should be executed in a more expensive manner than that adopted in similar cases by the company.

73. The company shall not be compelled to make any further or additional accommodation works for the use of owners and occupiers of land adjoining the railway after the expiration of the prescribed period, or, if no period be prescribed, after five years from the completion of the works, and the opening of the railway for public use.

74. Until the company shall have made the bridges or other proper communications which they shall, under the provisions herein, or in the special act, or any act incorporated therewith, contained, have been required to make between lands intersected by the railway, and no longer, the owners and occupiers of such lands, and any other persons whose right of way shall be affected by the want of such communication, and their respective servants, may at all times freely pass and repass, with carriages, horses and other animals, directly (but not otherwise) across the part of the railway made in or through their respective lands, solely for the purpose of occupying the same lands, or for the exercise of such right of way, and so as not to obstruct the passage along the railway, or to damage the same; nevertheless if the owner or occupier of any such lands have in his arrangements with the company received or agreed to receive compensation for or on account of any such communications, instead of the same being formed, such owner or occupier, or those claiming under him, shall not be entitled so to cross the railway.

75. If any person omit to shut and fasten any gate set up at either side of the railway, for the accommodation of the owners or occupiers of the adjoining lands, as soon as he, and the carriage, cattle or other animals, under his care, have passed through the same, he shall forfeit for every such offence any sum not exceeding forty shillings.

76. And be it enacted, That this or the special act shall not prevent the owners or occupiers of lands adjoining to the railway, or any other persons, from laying down, either upon their own lands or upon the lands of other persons, with the consent of such persons, any collateral branches of railway to communicate with the railway, for the purpose of bringing carriages to or from or upon the railway, but under and subject to the provisions and restrictions of 5 & 6 Vict. c. 55*; and the company shall, if required, at the expense of such owners and occupiers and other persons, and subject also to the provisions of the said last-mentioned act, make openings in the rails, and such additional lines of rail as may be necessary for effecting such communication in places where the communication can be made with safety to the public, and without injury to the railway, and without inconvenience to the traffic thereon; and the company shall not take any rate or toll or other monies for the passing of any passengers, goods, or other things, along any branch so to be made by any such owner or occupier or other person; but this enactment shall be subject to the following restrictions and conditions: (that is to say,)

Such works to be constructed under the superintendence of the company's engineer.

Accommodation works not to be required after five years.

Owners may cross railway until accommodation works are made.

Penalty on persons omitting to fasten gates.

Branch Railways

Power to parties to make private branch railways communicating with the railway

* Ante, p. 15.

Restrictions and conditions.

No such branch railway shall run parallel to the railway ;
The company shall not be bound to make any such openings in any place which they shall have set apart for any specific purpose with which such communication would interfere, nor upon any inclined plane or bridge, nor in any tunnel ;

The persons making or using such branch railways shall be subject to all bye-laws and regulations of the company from time to time made with respect to passing upon or crossing the railway, and otherwise ; and the persons making or using such branch railways shall be bound to construct, and from time to time, as need may require, to renew, the offset plates and switches according to the most approved plan adopted by the company, and under the direction of their engineer.

Working of Mines.

Company not entitled to minerals.
[See vol I. ch. V. s 4.]

And with respect to Mines lying under or near the railway, be it enacted as follows :—

77. The company shall not be entitled to any mines of coal, ironstone, slate or other minerals under any land purchased by them, except only such parts thereof as shall be necessary to be dug or carried away or used in the construction of the works, unless the same shall have been expressly purchased ; and all such mines, excepting as aforesaid, shall be deemed to be excepted out of the conveyance of such lands, unless they shall have been expressly named therein and conveyed thereby.

Mines lying near the railway not to be worked if the company willing to purchase them.

78. If the owner, lessee or occupier of any mines or minerals lying under the railway, or any of the works connected therewith, or within the prescribed distance, or where no distance shall be prescribed, forty yards therefrom, be desirous of working the same, such owner, lessee, or occupier shall give to the company notice in writing of his intention so to do thirty days before the commencement of working ; and upon the receipt of such notice it shall be lawful for the company to cause such mines to be inspected by any person appointed by them for the purpose ; and if it appear to the company that the working of such mines or minerals is likely to damage the works of the railway, and if the company be willing to make compensation for such mines or any part thereof to such owner, lessee, or occupier thereof, then he shall not work or get the same ; and if the company, and such owner, lessee, or occupier do not agree as to the amount of such compensation, the same shall be settled as in other cases of disputed compensation.

If company unwilling to purchase owner may work the mines.

79. If before the expiration of such thirty days the company do not state their willingness to treat with such owner, lessee, or occupier for the payment of such compensation, it shall be lawful for him to work the said mines or any part thereof for which the company shall not have agreed to pay compensation, so that the same be done in a manner proper and necessary for the beneficial working thereof, and according to the usual manner of working such mines in the district where the same shall be situate ; and if any damage or obstruction be occasioned to the railway or works by improper working of such mines, the same shall be forthwith repaired or removed, as the case may require, and such damage made good, by the owner, lessee or occupier of such mines or minerals, and at his own expense ; and if such repair or removal be not forthwith done, or, if the company shall so think fit, without waiting for the same to be done by such owner, lessee or occupier, it shall be lawful for the company to execute the same, and recover from such owner, lessee or occupier the expense occasioned thereby, by action in any of the superior courts.

Mining communications.

80. If the working of any such mines under the railway or works, or within the above-mentioned distance therefrom, be prevented as aforesaid by reason of apprehended injury to the railway, it shall be lawful for the respective owners, lessees and occupiers of such mines, and whose mines shall extend so as to lie on both sides of the railway, to cut and make such and so many airways, headways, gateways or water levels through the mines, measures, or strata, the working whereof shall be so prevented, as may be requisite to enable them to ventilate, drain and work their said mines; but no such airway, headway, gateway or water level shall be of greater dimensions or section than the prescribed dimensions and sections, and, where no dimensions shall be described, not greater than eight feet wide and eight feet high, nor shall the same be cut or made upon any part of the railway or works, or so as to injure the same, or to impede the passage thereon.

81. The company shall from time to time pay to the owner, lessee or occupier of any such mines extending so as to lie on both sides of the railway all such additional expenses and losses as shall be incurred by such owner, lessee or occupier by reason of the severance of the lands lying over such mines by the railway, or of the continuous working of such mines being interrupted as aforesaid, or by reason of the same being worked in such manner and under such restrictions as not to prejudice or injure the railway, and for any minerals not purchased by the company which cannot be obtained by reason of making and maintaining the railway; and if any dispute or question shall arise between the company and such owner, lessee or occupier as aforesaid, touching the amount of such losses or expenses, the same shall be settled by arbitration.

Compensation
for injury to mines

82. If any loss or damage be sustained by the owner or occupier of the lands lying over any such mines the working whereof shall have been so prevented as aforesaid (and not being the owner, lessee or occupier of such mines), by reason of the making of any such airway or other work as aforesaid, which or any like work would not have been necessary to be made but for the working of such mines having been so prevented as aforesaid, the company shall make full compensation to such owner or occupier of the surface lands for the loss or damage so sustained by him.

Compensation for airway or other work made necessary by railway.

83. For better ascertaining whether any such mines are being worked or have been worked so as to damage the railway or works, it shall be lawful for the company, after giving twenty-four hours' notice in writing, to enter upon any lands through or near which the railway passes wherein any such mines are being worked or are supposed so to be, and to enter into and return from any such mines or the works connected therewith; and for that purpose it shall be lawful for them to make use of any apparatus or machinery belonging to the owner, lessee or occupier of such mines, and to use all necessary means for discovering the distance from the railway to the parts of such mines which are being worked or about so to be.

Power to company to enter and inspect the working of mines.

84. If any such owner, lessee or occupier of any such mine shall refuse to allow any person appointed by the company for that purpose to enter into and inspect any such mines or works in manner aforesaid, every person so offending shall for every such refusal forfeit to the company a sum not exceeding twenty pounds.

Penalty for refusal to inspect.

85. If it appear that any such mines have been worked contrary to the provisions of this or the special act, the company may, if they think fit, give notice to the owner, lessee or occupier thereof to construct such works and to adopt such means as may be necessary or proper for making safe the railway, and preventing injury thereto; and if after such notice any such owner, lessee or occupier do not forthwith proceed to construct the works necessary for making safe the railway, the company may themselves construct such works, and recover the expense thereof from such owner, lessee or occupier, by action in any of the superior courts.

If mines worked contrary to act, company may require works for safety of other companies.

[See vol. I.
ch. XIV. sect. 1.]

Contracts not to affect persons not parties thereto.

Company not to than common carriers.

Power to vary tolls.

"[Qualify clause."
[See vol. I.
ch. XII. s. 5.]

And with respect to the carrying of Passengers and Goods upon the railway, and the Tolls to be taken thereon, be it enacted as follows:—

86 It shall be lawful for the company to use and employ locomotive engines or other moving power, and carriages and waggons to be drawn or propelled thereby, and to carry and convey upon the railway all such passengers and goods as shall be offered to them for that purpose, and to make such reasonable charges in respect thereof as they may from time to time determine upon, not exceeding the tolls by the special act authorized to be taken by them.

87. It shall be lawful for the company from time to time to enter into any contract with any other company, being the owners or lessees or in possession of any other railway, for the passage over or along the railway by the special act authorized to be made of any engines, coaches, waggons or other carriages of any other company, or which shall pass over any other line of railway, or for the passage over any other line of railway of any engines, coaches, waggons or other carriages of the company, or which shall pass over their line of railway, upon the payment of such tolls and under such conditions and restrictions as may be mutually agreed upon; and for the purpose aforesaid it shall be lawful for the respective parties to enter into any contract for the division or apportionment of the tolls to be taken upon their respective railways.

88. Provided always, That no such contract as aforesaid shall in any manner alter, affect, increase or diminish any of the tolls which the respective companies, parties to such contracts, shall for the time being be respectively authorized and entitled to demand or receive from any person or any other company, but that all other persons and companies shall, notwithstanding any such contract, be entitled to the use and benefit of any of the said railways, upon the same terms and conditions, and on payment of the same tolls as they would have been in case no such contract had been entered into.

89. Nothing in this or the special act contained shall extend to charge or make liable the company further or in any other case than where, according to the laws of the realm, stage-coach proprietors and common carriers would be liable, nor shall extend in any degree to deprive the company of any protection or privilege which common carriers or stage-coach proprietors may be entitled to; but, on the contrary, the company shall at all times be entitled to the benefit of every such protection and privilege.

90. And whereas it is expedient that the company should be enabled to vary the tolls upon the railway so as to accommodate them to the circumstances of the traffic, but that such power of varying should not be used for the purpose of prejudicing or favouring particular parties, or for the purpose of collusively and unfairly creating a monopoly, either in the hands of the company or of particular parties: it shall be lawful, therefore, for the company, subject to the provisions and limitations herein and in the special act contained, from time to time to alter or vary the tolls by the special act authorised to be taken, either upon the whole or upon any particular portions of the railway, as they shall think fit: Provided that all such tolls be at all times charged equally (b) to all persons, and after the same rate, whether per ton per mile or otherwise, in respect of all passengers and of all goods or carriages of the same description, and conveyed or propelled by a like carriage or engine, passing only over the same portion of the line of railway under the same circumstances: and no reduction or advance in any such tolls shall be made either directly or indirectly in favour of or against any particular company or person travelling upon or using the railway.

91. And whereas authority has been given by various acts of Parliament to railway companies to demand tolls for the conveyance of passengers and goods, and for other services, over the fraction of a mile equal to the toll which they are authorized to demand for one mile; therefore, in cases in which any railway shall be amalgamated with any other adjoining railway or railways, such tolls shall be calculated and imposed at such rates as if such amalgamated railways had originally formed one line of railway.

92. It shall not be lawful for the company at any time to demand or take a greater amount of toll, or make any greater charge for the carriage of passengers or goods, than they are by this and the special act authorized to demand; and upon payment of the tolls from time to time demandable, all companies and persons shall be entitled to use the railway, with engines and carriages properly constructed as by this and the special act directed, subject nevertheless to the provisions and restrictions of the said act of the sixth year of her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the better regulation of Railways, and for the Conveyance of Troops,"* and to the regulations to be from time to time made by the company by virtue of the powers in that behalf hereby and by the special act conferred upon them.

93. A list of all the tolls authorised by the special act to be taken, and which shall be exacted by the company, shall be published by the same being painted upon one toll-board or more, in distinct black letters on a white ground, or white letters on a black ground, or by the same being printed in legible characters on paper affixed to such board, and by such board being exhibited in some conspicuous place on the stations or places where such tolls shall be made payable (it).

94. The company shall cause the length of the railway to be measured, and milestones, posts or other conspicuous objects to be set up and maintained along the whole line thereof, at the distance of one quarter of a mile from each other, with numbers or marks inscribed thereon denoting such distances.

95. No tolls shall be demanded or taken by the company for the use of the railway during any time at which the boards hereinbefore directed to be exhibited shall not be so exhibited, or at which the milestones hereinbefore directed to be set up and maintained shall not be so set up and maintained; and if any person wilfully pull down, deface or destroy any such board or milestone he shall forfeit a sum not exceeding five pounds for every such offence.

96. The tolls shall be paid to such persons and at such places upon or near to the railway, and in such manner and under such regulations, as the company shall by notice to be annexed to the list of tolls, appoint.

97. If, on demand, any person fail to pay the tolls due in respect of any carriage or goods, it shall be lawful for the company to detain and sell such carriage, or all or any part of such goods, or if the same shall have been removed from the premises of the company, to detain and sell any other carriages or goods within such premises belonging to the party liable to pay such tolls, and out of the monies arising from such sale to retain the tolls payable as aforesaid, and all charges and expenses of such detention and sale, rendering the overplus, if any, of the monies arising by such sale, and such of the carriages or goods as shall remain unsold, to the person entitled thereto; or it shall be lawful for the company to recover any such tolls by action at law.

Act of 1873, 36 & 37 Vict. c. 48, s. 14, post.

Account of lading, &c.,
to be given.

98. Every person being the owner or having the care of any carriage or goods passing or being upon the railway shall, on demand, give to the collector of tolls, at the places where he attends for the purpose of receiving goods or of collecting tolls for the part of the railway on which such carriage or goods may have travelled, or be about to travel, an exact account in writing, signed by him, of the number or quantity of goods conveyed by any such carriage, and of the point on the railway from which such carriage or goods have set out, or are about to be set out, and at what point the same are intended to be unloaded or taken off the railway; and if the goods conveyed by any such carriage, or brought for conveyance as aforesaid, be liable to the payment of different tolls, then such owner or other person shall specify the respective numbers or quantities thereof liable to each or any of such tolls.

Penalty for not giving account of lading.

99. If any such owner or other such person fail to give such account, or to produce his way-bill or bill of lading, to such collector or other officer or servant of the company demanding the same, or if he give a false account, or if he unload or take off any part of his lading or goods at any other place than shall be mentioned in such account, with intent to avoid the payment of any tolls payable in respect thereof, he shall for every such offence forfeit to the company a sum not exceeding ten pounds for every ton of goods, or for any parcel not exceeding one hundred weight, and so in proportion for any less quantity of goods than one ton, or for any parcel exceeding one hundred weight (as the case may be) which shall be upon any such carriage; and such penalty shall be in addition to the toll to which such goods may be liable.

amount of tolls.

100. If any dispute arise concerning the amount of the tolls due to the company, or concerning the charges occasioned by any detention or sale thereof under the provisions herein or in the special act contained, the same shall be settled by a justice; and it shall be lawful for the company in the meanwhile to detain the goods, or (if the case so require) the proceeds of the sale thereof.

Differences as to weights, &c.

101. If any difference arise between any toll-collector or other officer or servant of the company and any owner of or person having the charge of any carriage passing or being upon the railway, or of any goods conveyed or to be conveyed by such carriage, respecting the weight, quantity, quality or nature of such goods, such collector or other officer may lawfully detain such carriage or goods, and examine, weigh, gauge or otherwise measure the same; and if upon such measuring or examination such goods appear to be of greater weight or quantity, or of other nature than shall have been stated in the account given thereof, then the person who shall have given such account shall pay, and the owner of such carriage, or the respective owners of such goods, shall also, at the option of the company, be liable to pay the costs of such measuring and examining; but if such goods appear to be of the same or less weight or quantity than, and of the same nature as shall have been stated in such account, then the company shall pay such costs, and they shall also pay to such owner of or person having charge of such carriage, and to the respective owners of such goods, such damage (if any) as shall appear to any justice, on a summary application to him for that purpose, to have arisen from such detention.

Toll-collector to be liable for wrongful detention of goods.

102. If at any time it be made to appear to any justice, upon the complaint of the company, that any such detention, measuring or examining of any carriage or goods, as hereinbefore mentioned, was without reasonable ground, or that it was vexatious on the part of such collector or other officer, then the collector or other officer shall himself pay the costs of such detention and measuring, and the damage occasioned thereby; and in default of immediate payment of any such costs or damage, the same may he recovered by distress of the goods of such collector, and such justice shall issue his warrant accordingly.

103. If any person travel or attempt to travel in any carriage of the company, or of any other company or party using the railway, without having previously paid his fare, and with intent to avoid payment thereof, or if any person, having paid his fare for a certain distance, knowingly and wilfully proceed in any such carriage beyond such distance, without previously paying the additional fare for the additional distance, and with intent to avoid payment thereof, or if any person knowingly and wilfully refuse or neglect on arriving at the point to which he has paid his fare, to quit such carriage, every such person shall for every such offence forfeit to the company a sum not exceeding forty shillings.

Penalty for eluding payment of fare.
[See vol. I.
ch. XII. s. 16.]

104. If any person be discovered either in or after committing or attempting to commit any such offence as in the preceding enactment mentioned, all officers and servants and other persons on behalf of the company, or such other company or party as aforesaid, and all constables, gaolers and peace officers, may lawfully apprehend and detain such person until he can conveniently be taken before some justice, or until he be otherwise discharged by due course of law.

offenders.

105. No person shall be entitled to carry or to require the company to carry upon the railway any aquafortis, oil of vitriol, gunpowder, lucifer matches or any other goods which in the judgment of the company may be of a dangerous nature; and if any person send by the railway any such goods without distinctly marking their nature on the outside of the package containing the same, or otherwise giving notice in writing to the book-keeper or other servant of the company with whom the same are left, at the time of so sending, he shall forfeit to the company twenty pounds for every such offence; and it shall be lawful for the company to refuse to take any parcel that they may suspect to contain goods of a dangerous nature, or require the same to be opened to ascertain the fact.

And with respect to the Regulating of the Use of the Railway, be it enacted as follows :—

108. It shall be lawful for the company, from time to time, subject to the provisions and restrictions in this and the special act contained, to make regulations for the following purposes ; (that is to say,)

Power to make bye-laws.

109. For better enforcing the observance of all or any of such regulations, it shall be lawful for the company, subject to the provisions of an act passed in the fourth year of the reign of her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for regulating Railways,"* to make bye-laws, and from time to time to repeal or alter such bye-laws, and make others, provided that such bye-laws be not repugnant to the laws of that part of the United Kingdom where the same are to have effect, or to the provisions of this or the special act ; and such bye-laws shall be reduced into writing, and shall have affixed thereto the common seal of the company ; and any person offending against any such bye-law shall forfeit for every such offence any sum not exceeding five pounds, to be imposed by the company in such bye-laws as a penalty for any such offence ; and if the infraction or non-observance of any such bye-law, or other such regulation as aforesaid, be attended with danger or annoyance to the public, or hindrance to the company in the lawful use of the railway, it shall be lawful for the company summarily to interfere to obviate or remove such danger, annoyance or hindrance, and that without prejudice to any penalty incurred by the infraction of any such bye-law (e).

[4th August, 1845.]

Whereas provisions have been introduced in various acts of Parliament, during the present session of Parliament, relating to railways, giving to railway companies general powers of granting or accepting a lease, sale, or transfer of their own or other lines of railway; and it is expedient that such powers should be restrained; be it therefore enacted, That it shall not be lawful for the company or proprietors of any railway, by virtue of any powers contained in any act passed in the present session, to make or grant, or for any other railway company or party, by virtue of any such powers, to accept a sale, lease, or other transfer of any railway, unless under the authority of a distinct provision in some act of Parliament to that effect, specifying by name the railway to be so leased, sold, or transferred, and the company or party by whom such lease, sale, or transfer may be respectively made, granted, or accepted.

[25th June, 1850.]

Whereas for some time past arrangements have subsisted between several railway companies for the transmission without interruption of the through traffic in passengers, animals, minerals, and goods passing over different lines of railway, for the purpose of affording, in respect to such passengers, animals, minerals, and goods, the same or the like facilities as if such lines had belonged to one company, which arrangements are commonly known as and in this act are designated as "the clearing system," and which arrangements are conducted under the superintendence of a committee appointed by the boards of directors of such several railway companies, which committee is in this act designated "the committee," and the business of such committee has heretofore been and is now carried on at a building appropriated for the purpose in Seymour Street, adjoining the Euston station of the London and North Western Railway Company: And whereas the clearing system has been productive of great convenience to the public, and of a considerable saving of expense in the transmission of passengers, animals, minerals, and goods over the lines of the several railway companies parties to such association; but considerable difficulty has been experienced in carrying into effect the objects of the association, in consequence of the committee not possessing the power of prosecuting or defending actions or suits, or taking other legal proceedings: And whereas George Carr Glyn, Esquire, is the present chairman, and Kenneth Morison is the present secretary of the committee: And whereas the purposes aforesaid cannot be effected without the authority of Parliament: May it therefore please your Majesty that it may be enacted; and be it enacted by (&c. &c.), That the several companies which at the time of the passing of this act are parties to the clearing system, and every other company which shall in manner hereafter mentioned become party to the same, shall be subject to the provisions of this act.

26 & 27 VICT. CAP. 92 (THE RAILWAYS CLAUSES ACT, 1863).

An Act for consolidating in one Act certain Provisions frequently inserted in Acts relating to Railways. [28th July, 1863.]

Whereas "The Railways Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845,"† and "The Railways Clauses Consolidation (Scotland) Act, 1845,"‡ respectively, were passed in order to comprise in one general act such provisions relating to railways in England or Ireland, or in Scotland, respectively, as were at the times of the passing of those acts usually introduced into acts of Parliament authorizing the construction of railways:

† Ante, p. 96.

‡ 8 & 9 Vict. c. 33.

And whereas sundry provisions of the like nature, but not comprised in the said general acts respectively, are now frequently introduced into acts of Parliament relating to railways, and it is expedient to comprise such last-mentioned provisions also in one general act, such act to be applicable to England or Ireland, or to Scotland, as the case may require, and that as well for the purpose of avoiding the necessity of repeating such provisions in special acts relating to railways, as for ensuring greater uniformity in the provisions themselves :

Be it therefore enacted (&c. &c.) as follows :

Short title.
Division of act into parts.

1. This act may be cited as "The Railways Clauses Act, 1863."

2. This act shall be deemed to be divided into five parts, as follows :

Part I. relating to construction of a railway (sect. 3) ;

Part II. relating to extension of time (sect. 20) ;

Part III. relating to working agreements (sect. 22) ;

Part IV. relating to steam vessels (sect. 30) ;

Part V. relating to amalgamation (sect. 36).

PART I.

CONSTRUCTION OF A RAILWAY.

Application of Part I.

3. This part of this act shall apply to the railway authorized to be constructed by any special act hereafter passed and incorporating this part of this act.

Interpretation
clause.

In this part of this act—

All terms used have the same meanings as the same terms have when used in "The Railways Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845,"* and "The Railways Clauses Consolidation (Scotland) Act, 1845," respectively :

The term "tidal river" means any part of a river within the flow and ebb of the tide at ordinary spring tides :

The term "tidal water" means any part of the sea or any part of a river within the flow and ebb of the tide at ordinary spring tides :

The term "tidal lands" means such parts of the bed, shore, or banks of a tidal water as are covered and uncovered by the flow and ebb of the tide at ordinary spring tides.

† Ante, p. 120.

The provisions respecting the recovery of penalties contained in the said Railways Clauses Consolidation Acts respectively, † as the case may require, shall be incorporated with this part of this act.

Alteration of Engineering Works.

Power to alter
works.

4. Notwithstanding anything in the said Railways Clauses Consolidation Acts respectively contained, the company, in the construction of the railway, may deviate from the line or level of any arch, tunnel, or viaduct, described on the deposited plans or sections so as the deviation be made within the limits of deviation shown on those plans, and subject to the limitations contained in sections eleven, twelve, and fifteen ‡ of those acts respectively, and so as the nature of the work described be not altered, and may also substitute any engineering work not shown on the deposited plans or sections for an arch, tunnel or viaduct as shown thereon : Provided that every such substitution be authorized by a certificate of the Board of Trade ; and the Board of Trade may grant such certificate in case it appears to them, on due inquiry, that the company has acted in the matter with good faith, and that the owners, lessees and occupiers of the lands in which the substitution is intended to be made consent thereto, and also that the safety and convenience of the public will not be diminished thereby.

‡ Ante, p. 100.

Provided that nothing in the present section shall affect any power given to the company or to the Board of Trade by section eleven, twelve, fourteen, or fifteen of the last-mentioned acts respectively.

Level Crossings.

5. Where the company is authorized by the special act to carry the railway across a turnpike road or public carriage road on a level, it shall not be lawful for the company in shunting trains to pass any train over the level crossing, or at any time to allow any train, engine, carriage or truck to stand across the same.

Level crossings, trains not to be shunted over.
[See ch. IX s. 6.]

6. For the greater convenience and security of the public, the company shall erect and permanently maintain a lodge at the point where the railway crosses on the level the turnpike road or public carriage road: and the company shall be subject to and shall abide by all such regulations with regard to the crossing thereof on the level, or with regard to the speed at which trains may pass the level crossing, as may from time to time be made by the Board of Trade.

Company to erect lodge at point of crossing.

If the company fails to erect, or to maintain, such lodge, or to appoint or keep a proper person to watch or superintend the level crossing, or to observe or abide by any such regulation as aforesaid, they shall for every such offence be liable to a penalty not exceeding twenty pounds, and also to a penalty of ten pounds for every day during which the offence continues after the penalty of twenty pounds is incurred.

Penalty.

7. The Board of Trade may, if it appears to them necessary for the public safety, at any time after the passing of the special act, require the company, within such time as the Board of Trade directs, and at the expense of the company, to carry the turnpike road or public carriage road either under or over the railway by means of a bridge or arch, instead of crossing the same on the level, or to execute such other works as, under the circumstances of the case, may appear to the Board of Trade best adapted for removing or diminishing the danger arising from the level crossing.

Board of Trade may require bridge instead of level crossing.

Where the road is so carried either under or over the railway, it shall not be necessary for the company to erect or maintain a lodge at the point where the road is crossed, or to appoint a person to watch or superintend the crossing thereat, nor shall they be liable to any penalty for failure so to do.

8. If the Board of Trade certifies that the public safety requires that additional lands be taken by the company for the purpose of the work directed by the Board of Trade to be executed, the company may, subject to the provisions of "The Lands Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845," or "The Lands Clauses Consolidation (Scotland) Act, 1845," as the case may require, enter upon, take and use all or any part of the lands specified in the certificate of the Board of Trade as being necessary for the purpose of the work; and the Board of Trade before issuing the certificate shall cause at least three months' notice to be given to any person who may be entitled to claim under the last-mentioned acts, or otherwise, compensation in respect of the taking of such lands or in respect of such work.

Power to company to take additional land for such work.

Certificate of Board of Trade.

Junctions.

9. Where the company is authorized by the special act to make a junction between the railway and any other railway, then and in every such case all interferences with the works of the other railway, necessary or convenient for effecting the junction, shall be made under the superintendence and to the reasonable satisfaction of the engineer for the time being of the company or person to whom the other railway belongs; and in case of any difference arising as to the mode of effecting the junction, the same shall be determined by a referee to be appointed by the Board of

Junction with other railways to be made under the direction of the engineer of those railways.

10. With respect to any lands belonging to the company or persons to whom the other railway belongs, which the company are by the special act authorized to use, enter upon, or interfere with, for the purposes of the junction, the company shall not, except by agreement, or unless otherwise provided in the special act, purchase and take the same but the company may purchase and take, and such other railway company or person may and shall sell and grant accordingly, an easement or right of using the same for the purposes of the junction.

Not to take lands of other company further than necessary.

11. Nothing relative to the junction in this act contained shall be deemed to authorize the company for the purposes of the junction to take or enter upon any lands belonging to the company or person to whom the other railway belongs, or to alter or interfere with any railway, or any of the works thereof, further or otherwise than is necessary for making the junction and inter-communication between the railways, as shown on the deposited plans and sections of the railway to which the special act relates, without the previous consent in writing in every instance of such other railway company or such person.

Signals.

12. The company or person with whose railway the junction is made may from time to time erect such signals and conveniences incident to the junction, either on their or his own lands or on the lands of the company making the junction, and may from time to time appoint and remove such watchmen, switchmen, or other persons as may be necessary for the prevention of danger to, or interference with, the traffic at and near the junction. The working and management of such signals and conveniences, wherever situate, shall be under the exclusive regulation of the company or person with whose railway the junction is made; and all the expenses of erecting and maintaining those signals and conveniences, and of employing those watchmen, switchmen, and other persons, and all incidental current expenses, shall, at the end of every half-year, be repaid by the company making the junction, and in default thereof may be recovered from them in any court of competent jurisdiction.

Paid for by company making junction, and worked by other company.

Protection of Navigation.

Lights on works across tidal lands

13. Where the company is authorized by the special act to construct, alter, or extend any work on, in, over, through, or across tidal lands or a tidal water, the company shall, on or near the work, during the whole time of the constructing, altering, or extending thereof, exhibit and keep burning at their own expense, every night from sunset to sunrise, such lights (if any) as the Board of Trade from time to time requires or approves; and (notwithstanding the enactments for the time being in force respecting lighthouses) shall also on or near the work, when completed, always maintain, exhibit, and keep burning, at their own expense, every night from sunset to sunrise, such lights (if any) for the guidance of ships as the Board of Trade from time to time requires or approves.

Penalty.

If the company fails to comply in any respect with the provisions of the present section, they shall for each night in which they so fail be liable to a penalty not exceeding twenty pounds.

Bridges over tidal water.

14. Where the company is authorized or required by the special act to construct a bridge over a navigable tidal water, and the special act does not make express provision respecting the span or spans thereof, then the company shall construct the same with a span or spans of such headway and waterway, and with such opening span or spans (if any), and according to such plan, as the Board of Trade directs or approves.

15. Where the company constructs a bridge with an opening span, it shall not be lawful for the company to detain any vessel, barge, or boat at the bridge for a longer time than may be necessary for admitting a carriage or engine traversing the railway and approaching the bridge to cross the bridge, and for opening the bridge to admit the vessel, barge, or boat to pass; and the company shall be subject to and shall abide by such regulations with regard to the user of the bridge as may from time to time be made by the Board of Trade.

Detainer of vessels passing through opening span.

If the company detains a vessel, barge, or boat longer than the time aforesaid, or fails in any respect to abide by any such regulation as aforesaid, they shall for every such offence be liable to a penalty not exceeding twenty pounds, without prejudice to any remedy against them for any loss or damage sustained by any person.

Penalty.

16. Where the railway cuts off access between the land and a tidal water or tidal lands, then and in every such case the company shall, during the construction of the railway, and from time to time thereafter, make, and shall permanently maintain, and allow to be used by all persons, at all times, free of toll or other charge, all such footways and carriageways over, under, or across the railway, or on a level therewith, as the Board of Trade from time to time directs or approves: Provided always, as follows:—

Access to shore under or across railway.

Free footways and carriageways.

- (1.) The company shall not be obliged to make a footway or carriageway over lands for the use of an owner or occupier who has agreed to receive and has been paid compensation for the severance thereof from the tidal water or tidal lands:
- (2.) The company shall not be obliged to make or to allow to be made a footway or carriageway in such manner as would interfere with the working or using of the railway:
- (3.) The expense of the making and maintenance of a footway or carriageway required to be made after the construction of the railway shall be defrayed by the persons or body interested in the tidal water or tidal lands for whose benefit or convenience the same is required.

Where the footway or carriageway is made across the railway on the level, then the manner of the making and watching of the level crossing shall be subject to the approval of the Board of Trade; and where the level crossing is made after the construction of the railway, then all expenses attending the watching thereof shall be defrayed by the persons or body interested in the tidal water or tidal lands for whose benefit or convenience the same is required.

17. Where the company is authorized by the special act to construct a railway skirting a public navigable tidal river or channel, the company shall not make any deviation of the railway from the continuous centre line thereof marked on the plan deposited by them at the Board of Trade, even within the limits of deviation shown on that plan, in such manner as to diminish the navigable space, without the previous consent of the Board of Trade, or otherwise than in such manner as is expressly authorized by the Board of Trade.

Prohibition of deviation of certain works without consent of Board of Trade.

If any deviation is made in contravention of the present section, the Board of Trade may abate and remove the work in the construction whereof the deviation is made, or any part thereof, and restore the site thereof to its former condition, at the expense of the company; and the amount of such expense shall be a debt due from the company to the crown, and be recoverable accordingly with costs, or the same may be recovered, with costs as a penalty is recoverable from the company.

18. If a work constructed by the company on, in, over, through or across tidal lands, or a tidal water is abandoned, or suffered to fall into decay, the Abatement of work abandoned or decayed.

Board of Trade may abate and remove the work, or any part of it, and restore the site thereof to its former condition, at the expense of the company; and the amount of such expense shall be a debt due from the company to the crown, and be recoverable accordingly, with costs, or the same may be recovered, with costs, as a penalty is recoverable from the company.

Survey of works by Board of Trade.

19. If at any time the Board of Trade deems it expedient, for the purposes of the special act or of this part of this act, to order a survey and examination of a work constructed by the company on, in, over, through or across tidal lands or tidal water, or of the intended site of any such work, the company shall defray the expense of the survey and examination; and the amount thereof shall be a debt due from the company to the crown, and be recoverable accordingly, with costs, or the same may be recovered, with costs, as a penalty is recoverable from the company.

EXTENSION OF TIME.

Parties aggrieved by extension of time may have compensation
damage

20. Where a railway is authorized to be constructed by a special act passed either before or after the passing of this act, and the time limited by the special act for the exercise of powers of compulsory purchase of lands, or of powers for construction of the railway and works, is extended by a special act hereafter passed and incorporating this part of this act,—then and in every such case the justices, arbitrators, umpires or juries, as the case may be, who award or assess the compensation to be made by the company to the owners or occupiers of, or other persons interested in, lands taken or used for the purposes of the railway and works, or injuriously affected by the construction thereof, shall, in estimating the amount of such compensation, have regard to, and assess compensation for, the additional damage (if any) sustained by those owners, occupiers or other persons, by reason of the extension of time.

Existing contracts and notices to take lands not to be affected.

21. The extension of time shall not affect any contract entered into or notice given by the company before the passing of the special act granting the extension, for purchasing, taking or using any lands which the company was entitled to purchase, take or use; but every such contract and notice shall be construed and take effect, and the same proceedings may be had thereunder, and all parties thereto shall be entitled to the same rights and remedies in respect thereof, at law and in equity, as if the extension had not been granted.

PART III.

WORKING AGREEMENTS.

Restrictions on agreements between companies

[See vol. I.
ch. XIV. s. 2.]

22. Where two or more companies are authorized by a special act hereafter passed and incorporating this part of this act, to agree among themselves with respect to all or any of the following purposes (u); namely,—

The maintenance and management of the railways of the companies respectively, or any one or more of them, or any part thereof respectively, and of the works connected therewith respectively, or any of them;

The use and working of the railways or railway, or of any part thereof, and the conveyance of traffic thereon;

(u) See also 27 & 28 Vict. c. 120, s. 3 et seq., post.

The fixing, collecting and apportionment of the tolls, rates, charges, receipts and revenues levied, taken or arising in respect of traffic :— then and in every such case the authority so to agree, or the agreement when entered into, shall not in any manner affect any of the tolls, rates or charges which the companies parties thereto are from time to time respectively authorized to demand and receive from any person or from any other company ; but all such persons and companies shall, notwithstanding the agreement, be entitled to the use and benefit of the railways of the several companies parties to the agreement, on the same terms and conditions, and on payment of the same tolls, rates and charges as they would be if such authority had not been given or the agreement had not been entered into.

23. The agreement shall not, save so far as its terms and conditions are authorized by "The Railways Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845,"* or by "The Railways Clauses Consolidation (Scotland) Act, 1845," as the case may require, or by any other general statute or law from time to time in force with respect to the companies parties to the agreement, have any operation unless and until it is sanctioned by such proportion of the votes of the shareholders and stockholders entitled to vote in that behalf at meetings of the several companies parties thereto, present (personally or by proxy) at a general meeting of each company specially convened for the purpose (in manner hereinafter mentioned), as is prescribed in the special act, and if no proportion is prescribed, then by three-fifths of such votes.

Sanction of shareholders to agreements.
* Sect. 87, p. 120.

Every such meeting shall be convened by circular addressed to each such shareholder and stockholder, and served in the manner prescribed by "The Companies Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845,"† or "The Companies Clauses Consolidation (Scotland) Act, 1845," as the case may require, with respect to notices requiring to be served by the company upon the shareholders, and also by advertisement inserted once at least in each of two consecutive weeks in some newspaper published or circulating in the county prescribed in the special act, and if no county is prescribed, then in the county in which the head office of the company is situate, the last of such advertisements to be published not less than seven days before the meeting.

† Sect. 130

24. Before the companies enter into the agreement notice of their intention to do so shall be given by them or one of them, in a form to be approved by the Board of Trade (v), inserted once at least in each of three successive weeks in some newspaper published or circulating in the county prescribed in the special act, and if no county is prescribed, then in the county or one of the counties in which each railway to the maintenance, management, use or working whereof the proposed agreement relates, or some portion of that railway, is situate ; and the notice shall set forth within what time and in what manner any company or person aggrieved by the proposed agreement, and desiring to object thereto, may bring the objection before the Board of Trade (v).

Public notice of intention to enter into such agreement.

25. The agreement shall not have any operation until it is approved by the Board of Trade (v) and the Board of Trade (v) shall not approve the agreement without being satisfied of its having received such sanction of meetings of the respective companies as aforesaid.

Approval of Railway Commissioners.

26. The companies parties to the agreement may, in accordance therewith and for the purposes thereof, appoint a joint committee, composed of such number of the directors of each company as the companies think proper, and from time to time may vary and renew the joint committee as occasion requires, and may regulate the proceedings of the joint committee, and may delegate to the joint committee all such of the powers of the companies as the companies think necessary for carrying into effect the purposes of the agreement; and the joint committee shall have and may exercise the powers so from time to time delegated to them in like manner as the same powers might be had and exercised by the companies respectively or their respective directors.

Agreements between companies may be modified by Railway Commissioners.

27. At the expiration of the first or any subsequent period of ten years after the making of the agreement, the Board of Trade (w) may, if they are of opinion that the interests of the public are prejudicially affected thereby, cause the same to be revised; and the Board of Trade (w) may require the companies parties thereto to publish such notices of any intended revision of the agreement as the Board of Trade (w) may direct; and the Board of Trade (w) may modify the agreement in such manner as may seem expedient for the protection of the interests of the public, and may declare the modification to be part of the agreement, and the same shall be read and take effect accordingly.

Working agreements between a company and an individual.

28. Where a company is authorized by a special act hereafter passed, and incorporating this part of this act, to agree with a person being the proprietor of a railway with respect to all or any of the purposes specified in this part of this act, then and in every such case the provisions of this part of this act shall apply, mutatis mutandis, to the company in relation to such authority and to the agreement entered into by virtue thereof.

Alteration of agreement.

29. For the purposes of this part of this act, any alteration of an agreement by the parties thereto shall be deemed an agreement.

PART IV.

Provision for securing equality of treatment.

30. Where a railway company incorporated either before or after the passing of this act is authorized [by a special act hereafter passed and incorporating this part of this act] to build, or buy or hire, and to use, maintain and work, or to enter into arrangements for using, maintaining or working steam vessels for the purpose of carrying on a communication between any towns or ports, and to take tolls in respect of such steam vessels,—then and in every such case tolls shall be at all times charged to all persons equally, and after the same rate in respect of passengers conveyed in a like vessel passing between the same places under like circumstances; and no reduction or advance in the tolls shall be made in favour of or against any person using the steam vessels in consequence of his having travelled or being about to travel on the whole or any part of the company's railway, or not having travelled or not being about to travel on any part thereof; or in favour of or against any person using the railway in consequence of his having used or being about to use or his not having used or not being about to use the steam vessels; and where an aggregate sum is charged by the company for conveyance of a passenger by a steam vessel and on the railway, the ticket shall have the amount of toll charged for conveyance by the steam vessel distinguished from the amount charged for conveyance on the railway.

Application of Railway and Canal Traffic Act.

31. The provisions of "The Railway and Canal Traffic Act, 1854" (y), so far as the same are applicable, shall extend to the steam vessels, and to the traffic carried on thereby.

(w) Now the Railway Commissioners; see 36 & 37 Viet. c. 48, s. 10, post.

(x) See also 31 & 32 Viet. c. 119, s. 16, post, which, being identical with the present section and section 31 (except as regards the words enclosed in brackets), would seem to render those sections superfluous.

(y) 17 & 18 Viet. c. 31, ante, p. 175; and see note to sect 30.

32. The company may from time to time make bye-laws in relation to passengers, animals and goods conveyed in or upon the steam vessels, and as to the embarkation and disembarkation thereof respectively, and may enforce the observance of the same by penalties, in the same manner as they may with respect to passengers, animals and goods conveyed upon their railways; such bye-laws to be sanctioned and authenticated in the same manner as is required by any special or other act with respect to bye-laws relating to the company's railway, and being published by being painted on boards, or printed on paper and pasted on boards, and hung up or affixed and continued on some conspicuous part of every steam vessel and landing-place of the company; and such bye-laws, and all penalties in respect of the breach thereof, shall be enforced and recovered in the same manner as is provided with respect to bye-laws relating to the company's railway, and to penalties in respect of the breach thereof.

Company may make bye-laws for regulating steam vessels.

33. All tolls and charges for the steam vessels due and payable to the company on any account whatsoever, and all costs, damages and expenses by the special act directed to be paid in respect of the steam vessels, may be levied by distress; and in England or Ireland any justice, and in Scotland the sheriff, may, on application by or on behalf of the company, issue his warrant accordingly.

Recovery of money by distress.

The justice or sheriff who issues the warrant of distress may order that the costs of the proceedings for the recovery of the toll or sum shall be paid by the person liable to pay the toll or sum, and the costs shall be ascertained by the justice or sheriff, and shall be included in the warrant of distress for the recovery of the toll or sum.

34. Any number of names and sums may be included in any warrant of distress or notice obtained or given by the company for any of the purposes of this part of this act, or of the provisions of the special act with respect to the steam vessels, and may be stated either in the body of the warrant or notice, or in a schedule thereto.

Several names in one warrant.

35. In every seventh year after the passing of the special act reckoned from the first day of January next after its passing, the Board of Trade (z), if they are of opinion that the interests of the public are prejudicially affected by the exercise of the powers of the company relative to steam vessels, may give to the company notice in writing thereof, and of the reasons on which that opinion is founded; and if the company does not before the beginning of the then next session of Parliament make provision to the satisfaction of the Board of Trade (z) for protection of the interests of the public, or if the injury done to the interests of the public is in the opinion of the Board of Trade (z) incapable of being remedied by the company, then the Board of Trade (z), at the beginning of the session of Parliament then next following, shall report to both houses of Parliament such their opinion, and the reasons on which that opinion is founded; and at the expiration of twelve calendar months after the presentation to the houses of Parliament of that report, the powers of the company relative to steam vessels, or such of them as are specified in the report, shall, unless Parliament in the meantime otherwise provides, cease to be exercised.

Provision for cesser of powers as to steam vessels, on report from Railway Commissioners.

PART V.

36. This part of this act shall apply where two or more railway companies, respectively incorporated either before or after the passing of this Application of Part V.

(z) Now the Railway Commissioners; see 36 & 37 Viet. c. 48, s. 10, post.

act, are amalgamated by a special act hereafter passed and incorporating this part of this act.

Definition of cases of amalgamation (a).

37. For the purposes of this part of this act, companies shall be deemed amalgamated by a special act, in either of the following cases :

- (1.) Where by the special act two or more companies are dissolved, and the members thereof respectively are united into and incorporated as a new company :
- (2.) Where by the special act a company or companies is or are dissolved, and the undertaking or undertakings of the dissolved company or companies is or are transferred to another existing company, with or without a change in the name of that company :

And in this part of this act, such special act is referred to as the amalgamating act ; the company incorporated or continued by or under the amalgamating act is referred to as the amalgamated company ; and the time prescribed in the amalgamating act for the amalgamation taking effect, and if no time is prescribed, then the time of the passing of the amalgamating act, is referred to as the time of amalgamation.

Acts relating to dissolved companies to apply to amalgamated company.

39. The special acts relating to or affecting the dissolved company, or their undertaking, in force at the passing of the amalgamating act, shall, except so far as they are thereby expressed to be varied or repealed, remain in full force ; and all rights and powers thereby conferred on and vested in the dissolved company in relation to their undertaking may be enjoyed and exercised by the amalgamated company in relation to the dissolved undertaking ; and all matters to be done, continued or completed, or which but for the amalgamation would, might or could be done, continued or completed, by the dissolved company, or their directors, officers or servants, under or by virtue of those acts, shall or may be done, continued or completed by the amalgamated company, and their directors, officers and servants, as the case may be ; and every special act, so far as it relates to or affects the dissolved company or their undertaking, shall be read and construed as if the name of the amalgamated company had been used therein in relation to that undertaking instead of the name of the dissolved company.

Saving debts and claims of dissolved companies

40. Except as may be otherwise provided in the special act, all debts and money due from or to the dissolved company, or any persons on their behalf, shall be payable and paid by or to the amalgamated company ; and all tolls, rates, duties and money due or payable by virtue of any act relating to the dissolved company from or to that company shall be due and payable from or to the amalgamated company, and shall be recoverable from or by the amalgamated company by the same ways and means, and subject to the same conditions, as the same would or might have been recoverable from or by the dissolved company if the amalgamating act had not been passed.

41. All deeds, conveyances, grants, assignments, leases, purchases, sales, mortgages, bonds, covenants, agreements, contracts and securities which before the amalgamation have been executed, made or entered into by, with, to, or in relation to the dissolved company, or the directors thereof, and which are in force at the time of amalgamation, and all obligations and liabilities which before the amalgamation have been incurred by or to, or which but for the amalgamation might or would have arisen in relation to, the dissolved company or the directors thereof, shall be as valid and of as full force and effect in favour of, against or in relation to the amalgamated company as if the same had been executed, made or entered into by, with or to, or in relation to or had been incurred by or to or had arisen in relation to, the amalgamated company by name.

Saving conveyances, contracts &c

42. All causes and rights of action or suit accrued before the time of amalgamation, and then in any manner enforceable by, for or against the dissolved company, shall be and remain as good, valid and effectual for or against the amalgamated company as they would or might have been for or against the dissolved company affected thereby, if the amalgamating act had not been passed.

Causes and rights of action reserved.

43. Nothing in the amalgamating act or in this part of this act shall cause the abatement, discontinuance or determination of or in anywise prejudicially affect any action, suit or other proceeding at law or in equity commenced by or against the dissolved company, either solely or jointly with any other company or with any person, before the time of amalgamation, and then pending; but the same may be continued, prosecuted or enforced by or against the amalgamated company, either solely or, as the case may require, jointly with such other company or with such person; and all persons committing offences against any of the provisions of any special act relating to the dissolved company before the amalgamation may be prosecuted, and all penalties incurred by reason of such offences may be sued for and recovered, in like manner in all respects as if the amalgamating act had not been passed,—the amalgamated company being in respect of all such matters considered as identical with the dissolved company.

Actions not to abate.

No submission to arbitration of any matter in dispute between the dissolved company and any other company or any person, under which any reference is pending and incomplete at the time of amalgamation, and no award theretofore made and then remaining in force, shall be revoked or prejudicially affected by anything in the amalgamating act or in this part of this act contained; but every such submission and award shall be as valid and effectual for or against the amalgamated company as it would have been for or against the dissolved company.

Saving submissions and awards relating to dissolved companies.

Unexecuted works of dissolved companies may be completed.

46. Where the dissolved company has under any special act entered into any contract for the purchase of or taken or used any lands, which at the time of amalgamation have not been effectually conveyed to the dissolved company, or the purchase-money in respect of which has not been duly paid by the dissolved company,—then and in every such case the contract, if in force at the time of amalgamation, shall thereafter be completed by, and such lands shall be conveyed to, the amalgamated company, or as the amal-

dissolved companies to be
for books, &c.

48. All officers and persons who, at the time of amalgamation, have in their possession or under their control any books, documents, papers or effects belonging to the dissolved company, or to which the dissolved company would but for such dissolution have been entitled, shall be liable to account for and deliver up the same to the amalgamated company, or to such persons as the amalgamated company may appoint to receive the same, in the same manner, and subject to the same consequences on refusal or neglect as if such officers and persons had been appointed by and become possessed of such books, documents, papers or effects for the amalgamated company.

dissolved companies to be
company.

49. All clerks, officers and servants who at the time of amalgamation are in the employment of the dissolved company shall thereupon become clerks, officers or servants, as the case may be, of the amalgamated company, with the same rights, and subject to the same obligations and incidents in respect of such employment as they would have had or been subject to as the clerks, officers or servants of the dissolved company, and shall so continue unless and until they respectively are duly removed from such employment by the amalgamated company, or until the terms of their employment are duly altered by the amalgamated company.

Books, &c., to be evidence.

50. All books and documents which would have been evidence in respect of any matter for or against the dissolved company shall be admitted as evidence in respect of the same or the like matter for or against the amalgamated company.

Resolutions of dissolved companies to remain in force.

51. All resolutions of any general meeting or board of directors of the dissolved company, or of any duly constituted and authorized committee thereof, so far as the same are applicable and remain in force, shall, notwithstanding the dissolution, continue to be operative, and shall apply to the amalgamated company, and to the directors, officers and servants of the amalgamated company, until duly revoked or altered by the amalgamated company or under their authority.

Payment of calls.

52. All calls made by the dissolved company, and not paid at the time of amalgamation, shall be payable to and may be enforced by the amalgamated company, as if such calls had been made by the amalgamated company.

53. All registers of shares, stock, mortgages and bonds of the dissolved company, and all registers of transfers thereof respectively, and all shareholders' and stockholders' address-books, and all certificates of shares or stock of and in the dissolved company, which are valid and subsisting at the time of amalgamation, shall continue to be valid and subsisting, and shall have the same operation and effect as before the dissolution, unless and until new or altered registers, books and certificates respectively are substituted in their stead; and all transfers, sales or dispositions of stock or shares made before the dissolution and not then completed shall have the same operation and effect as if made after the dissolution.

Registers, book and certificates relating to dissolved companies to subsist until replaced.

54. All the byelaws, rules and regulations of the dissolved company relating to the management, use or control of their undertaking shall, notwithstanding the dissolution, continue to be in force and applicable to and in respect of the undertaking, and shall and may be enforced by and available to the amalgamated company in their own name, as well for the recovery of penalties as for all other purposes, as if the same respectively had been originally made by the amalgamated company, until the expiration of twelve months after the time of amalgamation, or until other byelaws, rules and regulations are duly made by the amalgamated company in their stead, whichever first happens.

Bye-laws to remain in force

55. Notwithstanding the dissolution of the dissolved company, and the amalgamation, everything before the time of amalgamation done, suffered and confirmed respectively, under or by virtue of any special act relating to the dissolved company, shall be as valid as if the amalgamating act had not been passed; and the dissolution and amalgamation, and the amalgamating act, and this part of this act, respectively, shall accordingly be subject and without prejudice to everything so done, suffered and confirmed respectively, and to all rights, liabilities, claims and demands, present or future, which if the dissolution and amalgamation had not taken place and the amalgamating act had not been passed, would be incident to or consequent on anything so done, suffered and confirmed respectively; and with respect to all things so done, suffered and confirmed respectively, and to all such rights, liabilities, claims and demands, the amalgamated company shall to all intents represent the dissolved company; and the generality of this present provision shall not be deemed to be restricted by any other of the provisions of this part of this act, or by any provision of the amalgamating act that does not expressly refer to this present provision, and expressly restrict the operation thereof.

26 & 27 VICT. CAP. 118.

An Act for consolidating in One Act certain Provisions frequently inserted in Acts relating to the Constitution and Management of Companies incorporated for carrying on Undertakings of a Public Nature.
[28th July, 1863.]

Whereas "The Companies Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845,"* and "The Companies Clauses Consolidation (Scotland) Act, 1845,"† respectively, were passed in order to comprise in one general act such provisions relating to the constitution and management of joint stock companies incorporated for the purpose of carrying on undertakings of a public nature in England or Ireland, or in Scotland, respectively, as were at the times of the passing of † 8 & 9 Vict. c. 17.

those acts usually introduced into acts of parliament relating to such companies : And whereas sundry provisions of the like nature, but not comprised in the said general acts respectively, are now frequently introduced into acts of Parliament relating to such companies, and it is expedient to comprise such last mentioned provisions also in one general act, such act to be applicable to England or Ireland, or to Scotland as the case may require, and that as well for the purpose of avoiding the necessity of repeating such provisions in the acts relating to such undertakings, as for insuring greater uniformity in the provisions themselves : Be it therefore enacted, by (&c., &c.), as follows :—

Short title.

Division of act into parts.

1. This act may be cited as “The Companies Clauses Act, 1863.”

2. This act shall be deemed to be divided into four parts, as follows :—

Part I. relating to cancellation and surrender of shares (Sect. 3);

Part II. relating to additional capital (Sect. 12);

Part III. relating to debenture stock (Sect. 22);

Part IV. relating to change of name (Sect. 36).

PART I.

CANCELLATION AND SURRENDER OF SHARES.

Application of Part I.

3. This part of this act shall apply to every company incorporated either before or after the passing of this act, which obtains a special act incorporating this part of this act.

Power to company to cancel forfeited shares.

* Page 38, ante.

4. Where any share of the capital of the company is after the passing of this act declared forfeited under and in pursuance of the provisions with respect to the forfeiture of shares for non-payment of calls contained in “The Companies Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845,”* and “The Companies Clauses Consolidation (Scotland) Act, 1845,” respectively, and the forfeiture is confirmed by a meeting in accordance with the same provisions respectively, and notice of the forfeiture has been given,—then and in every such case, if the directors of the company are unable to sell the share for a sum equal to the arrears of calls and interest and expenses due in respect thereof, the company at any general meeting held not less than two months after such notice is given may, in case payment of the arrears of calls, interest and expenses due in respect thereof is not made by the registered holder of the share before the meeting is held, resolve that the share instead of being sold shall be cancelled, and the share shall thereupon be cancelled accordingly.

Evidence for cancellation of forfeited shares.

5. A declaration in writing made by some credible person, in England or Ireland before a justice, and in Scotland before any sheriff or justice, stating that a sum of money sufficient to pay the arrears of calls, interest and expenses due in respect of the share, could not at the time of the cancellation of the share be obtained for the same upon the stock exchange prescribed in the special act, and if no stock exchange is prescribed then upon the stock exchange, as to England of the city of London, and as to Scotland of the city of Edinburgh, and as to Ireland of the city of Dublin, shall be sufficient evidence of the fact so declared.

Payment of calls in arrear notwithstanding cancellation.

6. Where it is so resolved that any share shall be cancelled, the holder thereof shall from and after the passing of the resolution be precluded from all right and interest therein and in respect thereof ; but the cancellation shall not affect the liability of the last registered holder of the share to pay to the company all arrears of calls, interest and expenses due in respect of the share at the time of the cancellation, or the power of the company to enforce payment thereof by action or otherwise.

7. Provided always, that if the company enforces the payment of the arrears of calls, interest and expenses under the last preceding provision, the value of the share at the time of the cancellation thereof shall be deducted from the amount so then due; provided also, that if payment of all arrears of calls, interest and expenses is made before such meeting as aforesaid is held, the share shall revert to the person to whom it belonged at the time of forfeiture, and shall be re-entered on the company's register accordingly.

Value of forfeited shares to be deducted from amount due in respect thereof.

8. Where any share is declared forfeited, or where any sum payable on any share remains unpaid, the company, with the consent in writing of the registered holder of the share, and with the sanction of a general meeting, may resolve that the share shall be cancelled, and immediately thereupon the share shall be cancelled, and all liabilities and rights with respect to the share shall thereupon be absolutely extinguished.

Company may cancel forfeited shares with consent of holders.

9. The company may from time to time accept, on such terms as they think fit, surrenders of any shares which have not been fully paid up.

Surrender of shares

10. The company shall not pay or refund to any shareholder any sum of money for or in respect of the cancellation or surrender of any share.

No money to be paid for cancellation or surrender.

11. The company may from time to time, in lieu of any shares that have been cancelled or surrendered, issue new shares of such amounts as will allow the same to be conveniently apportioned or disposed of according to the resolution of any ordinary or extraordinary meeting of the company, and may from time to time fix the amounts and times of payment of the calls on any such new shares, and dispose thereof on such terms and conditions as may be so resolved upon: Provided, that the aggregate nominal amount of the new shares shall not exceed the aggregate nominal amount of the shares in lieu of which the new shares are issued, after deducting the amount actually paid up in respect of the shares cancelled or surrendered.

Power to create shares in lieu of cancelled, forfeited, &c., shares.

PART II. (b).

ADDITIONAL CAPITAL.

New Ordinary Shares or Stock.

12. Where any company, incorporated either before or after the passing of this act for the purpose of carrying on any undertaking, is authorized by any special act hereafter passed, and incorporating this part of this act, to raise any additional sum or sums by the issue of new ordinary shares, or by the issue of new ordinary stock, or (at the option of the company) by either of those modes,—then and in every such case the company, with the sanction of such proportion of the votes of the shareholders and stockholders entitled to vote in that behalf at meetings of the company, present (personally or by proxy) at a meeting of the company specially convened for the purpose, as is prescribed in the special act, and if no proportion is prescribed, then of three-fifths of such votes, may, for the purpose of raising the additional sum or sums, from time to time create and issue (according as the authority given by the special act extends to shares only, or to stock only, or to both) such new ordinary shares, of such nominal amount, and subject to the payment of calls of such amounts and at such times, as the company thinks fit, or such new ordinary stock as the company thinks fit.

Creation and issue of new ordinary shares or new ordinary stock

Preference Shares or Stock.

Creation and issue of new preference shares or new preference stock.

13. Where any such company is authorized by any special act hereafter passed and incorporating this part of this act to raise any additional sum or sums by the issue of new preference shares, or by the issue of new preference stock, or (at the option of the company) by either of those modes,—then and in every such case the company, with the like sanction as aforesaid, may for the purpose of raising such additional sum or sums from time to time create and issue (according as the authority given by the special act extends to shares only, or to stock only, or to both) such new shares or new stock, either ordinary or preference, and either of one class and with like privileges, or of several classes and with different privileges, and of the same or different amounts, and respectively with any fixed, fluctuating, contingent, preferential, perpetual, terminable, deferred or other dividend or interest not exceeding the rate prescribed in the special act, and if no rate is prescribed then not exceeding the rate of five pounds per centum per annum, and subject (as to any such new shares) to the payment of calls of such amounts and at such times, as the company from time to time thinks fit :

Saving for previous preference shareholders.

Provided always, that any preference assigned to any shares or stock so issued under the special act shall not affect any guarantee, or any preference or priority in the payment of dividend or interest, on any shares or stock, that may have been granted by the company under or confirmed by any previous act, or that may be otherwise lawfully subsisting.

Preference shares to be entitled to dividends only out of the profits of each year.

14. The preference shares or preference stock so issued shall be entitled to the preferential dividend or interest assigned thereto, out of the profits of each year, in priority to the ordinary shares and ordinary stock of the company ; but if in any year ending on the day prescribed in the special act, and if no day is prescribed, then on the thirty-first day of December, there are not profits available for the payment of the full amount of preferential dividend or interest for that year, no part of the deficiency shall be made good out of the profits of any subsequent year, or out of any other funds of the company.

Terms, &c., to be stated on certificates.

15. The terms and conditions to which any preference share or preference stock is subject shall be clearly stated on the certificate of that preference share or portion of preference stock (c).

General provisions as to new Shares. or Stock.

Unissued stock may be cancelled.

16. If, after having created new shares or new stock, the company determines not to issue the whole of the new shares or new stock, they may cancel the unissued new shares or new stock.

If ordinary stock at a premium, new stock to be offered to existing ordinary shareholders.

17. If, at the time of the issue of new shares or new stock, the ordinary shares or ordinary stock of the company are or is at a premium, then, unless the company before the issue of the new shares or new stock otherwise determines, the new shares or new stock then issued shall be of such amount as will conveniently allow the same to be apportioned among the then holders of the ordinary stock and ordinary shares, respectively, in proportion, as nearly as conveniently may be, to the ordinary shares and ordinary stock held by them respectively, and shall be offered to them at par in that proportion : Provided, that it shall not be obligatory on the company so to apportion or offer any new shares or new stock unless the amount of every new share or portion of new stock to be so offered would if so apportioned be at least the sum prescribed in the special act, and if no sum is prescribed then at least ten pounds.

(c) See also 29 & 30 Vict. c. 108, s. 14, post.

18. The offer of new shares or new stock shall be made by letter under the hand of the treasurer or secretary of the company given to every such shareholder or stockholder as aforesaid, or sent by post addressed to him according to his address in the shareholders' or stockholders' address book, or left for him at his usual or then last named place of abode in England, Scotland or Ireland (as the case may require); and every such offer made by letter sent by post shall be considered as made on the day on which the letter in due course of delivery ought to be delivered at the place to which it is addressed.

Offer to be made by letter.

19. The new shares or portions of new stock so offered shall vest in and belong to the shareholders or stockholders who accept the same or their nominees.

New stock to vest on acceptance.

20. If any shareholder or stockholder fails for the time prescribed in the special act, and if no time is prescribed then for one month, after the offer to him of new shares or new stock, to signify his acceptance of the same or any part thereof, then and in every such case at the expiration of that period he shall be deemed to have declined the offer of such new shares or new stock or such part thereof as aforesaid, and the same may be disposed of by the company as hereinafter provided:

Failure to accept.

Provided, that where a shareholder or stockholder, from absence abroad or other cause satisfactory to the directors of the company, omits to signify within the time aforesaid his acceptance of the new shares or new stock offered to him, the directors, if they think proper, may permit him to accept the same, notwithstanding that such time has elapsed.

Power to enlarge time for acceptance.

21. Subject to the foregoing provisions, the company may from time to time dispose of new shares and new stock at such times, to such persons, on such terms and conditions, and in such manner as the directors think advantageous to the company, but so that not less than the full nominal amount of any share or portion of stock be payable or paid in respect thereof (d).

Power to dispose of unappropriated stock.

DEBENTURE STOCK (e).

22. Where any company, incorporated either before or after the passing of this act for the purpose of carrying on any undertaking, is authorized by any special act hereafter passed, and incorporating this part of this act, to create and issue debenture stock,—then and in every such case the company, with the sanction of such proportion of the votes of the shareholders and stockholders entitled to vote in that behalf at meetings of the company, present (personally or by proxy) at a meeting of the company specially convened for the purpose, as is prescribed in the special act, and if no proportion is prescribed, then of three-fifths of such votes, may from time to time raise all or any part of the money which for the time being they have raised, or are authorized to raise, on mortgage or bond, by the creation and issue, at such times, in such amounts and manner, on such terms, subject to such conditions, and with such rights and privileges, as the company thinks fit, of stock to be called debenture stock, instead of and to the same amount as the whole or any part of the money which may for the time being be owing by the company on mortgage or bond, or which they may from time to time have power to raise on mortgage or bond, and may attach to the stock so created such fixed and perpetual preferential interest not exceeding the rate

Creation and issue of debenture stock.

(d) Words in italics repealed, 30 & 31 Vict. c. 127, s. 27, post.

(e) See 32 & 33 Vict. c. 48, post.

prescribed in the special act, and if no rate is prescribed, then not exceeding the rate of four pounds per centum per annum (f), payable half-yearly or otherwise, and commencing at once, or at any future time or times, when and as the debenture stock is issued, or otherwise, as the company thinks fit.

Priority of
stock.

23. Debenture stock, with the interest thereon, shall be a charge upon the undertaking of the company, prior to all shares or stock of the company, and shall be transmissible and transferable in the same manner and according to the same regulations and provisions as other stock of the company, and shall in all other respects have the incidents of personal estate.

Priority of interest on debenture
stock.

24. The interest on debenture stock shall have priority of payment over all dividends or interest on any shares or stock of the company, whether ordinary or preference or guaranteed, and shall rank next to the interest payable on the mortgages or bonds for the time being of the company legally granted before the creation of such stock; but the holders of debenture stock shall not, as among themselves, be entitled to any preference or priority.

Payment of arrears may be enforced by appointment of receiver or judicial factor.

25. If within thirty days after the interest on any such debenture stock is payable the same is not paid, any one or more of the holders of the debenture stock holding, individually or collectively, the sum in nominal amount thereof prescribed in the special act, and if no sum is prescribed, then a sum equal to one-tenth of the aggregate amount which the company is for the time being authorized to raise by mortgage, by bond, and by debenture stock, or the sum of ten thousand pounds, whichever of the two last-mentioned sums is the smaller sum, may (without prejudice to the right to sue in any court of competent jurisdiction for the interest in arrear) require the appointment in England or Ireland of a receiver, and in Scotland of a judicial factor.

Mode of appointing receiver or judicial factor.

26. Every such application for a receiver shall be made to two justices, and every such application for a judicial factor shall be made to the court of session; and on any such application the justices or court (as the case may be), by order in writing, after hearing the parties, may appoint some person to receive the whole or a competent part of the tolls or sums liable to the payment of the interest, until all the arrears of interest then due on the debenture stock, with all costs, including the charges of receiving the tolls or sums, are fully paid; and upon such appointment being made all such tolls or sums shall be paid to and received by the person so appointed; and all money so received shall be deemed so much money received by or to the use of the several persons interested in the same, according to their several priorities.

The receiver or judicial factor shall distribute rateably and without priority, among all the proprietors of debenture stock to whom interest is in arrear, the money which so comes to his hands, after applying a sufficient part thereof in or towards satisfaction of the interest on the mortgages and bonds of the company.

As soon as the full amount of interest and costs has been so received, the power of the receiver or judicial factor shall cease, and he shall be bound to account to the company for his acts or intromissions or the sums received by him, and to pay over to the company any balance that may be in his hands.

Arrears may be
action.

27. If the interest on debenture stock is in arrear for thirty days next after any of the respective days whereon the same is payable, the holder for the time being thereof may (without prejudice to his power to apply for the appointment of a receiver or judicial factor) recover the arrears with costs by action or suit against the company in any court of competent jurisdiction.

28. The company shall cause entries of the debenture stock from time to time created to be made in a register to be kept for that purpose, wherein they shall enter the names and addresses of the several persons and corporations from time to time entitled to the debenture stock, with the respective amounts of the stock to which they are respectively entitled; and the register shall be accessible for inspection and perusal at all reasonable times to every mortgagee, bondholder, debenture stockholder, shareholder, and stockholder of the company, without the payment of any fee or charge.

Registration of debenture stock

29. The company shall deliver to every holder of debenture stock a certificate stating the amount of debenture stock held by him; and all regulations or provisions for the time being applicable to certificates of shares in the capital of the company shall apply, mutatis mutandis, to certificates of debenture stock.

Certificate.

30. Nothing herein or in the special act authorizing the issue of debenture stock contained shall in any way affect any mortgage or bond at any time legally granted by the company before the creation of such stock, or any power of the company to raise money on mortgage or bond, but the holders of all such mortgages and bonds shall, during the continuance thereof respectively, be entitled to the same priorities, rights, and privileges in all respects as they would have been entitled to if the special act authorizing the issue of debenture stock had not been passed.

Mortgages not affected by this act

31. Debenture stock shall not entitle the holders thereof to be present or vote at any meeting of the company, or confer any qualification, but shall, in all respects, not otherwise by or under this act or the special act provided for, be considered as entitling the holders to the rights and powers of mortgagees of the undertaking other than the right to require repayment of the principal money paid up in respect of the debenture stock.

Holders of debenture stock not to vote.

32. Money raised by debenture stock shall be applied exclusively either in paying off money due by the company on mortgage or bond, or else for the purposes to which the same money would be applicable if it were raised on mortgage or bond instead of on debenture stock.

Application of money raised.

33. Separate and distinct accounts shall be kept by the company, showing how much money has been received for or on account of debenture stock, and how much money borrowed or owing on mortgage or bond, or which they have power so to borrow, has been paid off by debenture stock, or raised thereby, instead of being borrowed on mortgage or bond.

Separate accounts of debenture stock.

34. The powers of borrowing and re-borrowing by the company shall, to the extent of the money raised by the issue of debenture stock, be extinguished.

Borrowing powers, extinction of.

35. The provisions of this part of this act shall be deemed to apply to mortgage preference stock, and to funded debt, as the case may require, in all respects as if mortgage preference stock or funded debt were mentioned throughout this part of this act wherever debenture stock is mentioned therein.

Mortgage preference stock.

PART IV.

CHANGE OF NAME.

36. Where by any special act hereafter passed and incorporating this part of this act the name of any company incorporated either before or after the passing of this act for the purpose of carrying on any undertaking is changed,—then and in every such case from the passing of the special act the company by their new name shall have and may exercise the powers

Continuance of powers on change of name then vested in the company by their original name; and all acts relating to the company by their original name shall be read and interpreted as if throughout those acts, wherever the original name of the company or any reference to the company by their original name occurs, the new name of the company or a reference to the company by their new name were substituted.

Actions, &c.,
not to abate

37. No action, suit, bill, process, writ, indictment, information or other proceeding, whether civil or criminal, which at or immediately before the passing of the special act is commenced and is then pending,—either at the suit or instance of the company, by their original name, against any other corporation or any person, or at the suit or instance of any other corporation or any person against the company, by their original name,—shall abate, determine, or be otherwise impeached or affected for or by reason of the change of the name of the company; nor shall any notice, tender, requisition, warrant, summons, pleading, civil or criminal writ or other process, record, deed, contract, agreement, writing or instrument then or thereafter to be made, issued, written or commenced, be deemed to be vacated, discharged, invalidated, prejudiced or affected by reason of the company or their undertaking being therein respectively called by the original name of the company or undertaking; and it shall not be necessary in any bill, suit, indictment, information, proceeding, notice, tender, requisition, warrant, summons, pleading, civil or criminal writ, or other process, or in any record, deed, contract, agreement, writing or other instrument or matter, to aver that the company had been called or known for any period by the original name of the company, or that their undertaking had been called or known within that period by the original name of the undertaking, and that by the special act effecting the change the names of the company and their undertaking were changed, and that after the passing of that special act the company had been called or known by their new name, and their undertaking by its new name; but it shall be deemed true, lawful, and sufficient therein to aver the style and describe the company by their new name, and their undertaking by its new name, in the same manner as if the company had been originally incorporated, called, or known by their new name, and as if their undertaking had been originally called or known by its new name.

of rights.

38. Notwithstanding the change of the name of the company, everything before the passing of the special act effecting the change done, suffered or confirmed under or by virtue of any other act shall be as valid as if the special act effecting the change were not passed; and the change of name and last-mentioned special act respectively shall accordingly be subject and without prejudice to everything so done, suffered or confirmed before the passing of the last-mentioned special act, and to all rights, liabilities, claims and demands, then present or future, which, if the change of name had not happened and such last-mentioned special act had not been passed, would be incident to or consequent on anything so done, suffered or confirmed.

preserved.

39. Notwithstanding the change of the name of the company, all deeds, instruments, purchases, sales, securities and contracts before the passing of the special act effecting the change made under any other act, or with reference to the purposes thereof, shall be as effectual to all intents in favour of, against and with respect to the company as if the name of the company had remained unchanged.

27 & 28 VICT. CAP. 71.

An Act for amending and extending the Railways (Ireland) Act, 1851, and the Railways (Ireland) Act, 1860. [25th July, 1864.]

Whereas it is expedient that "The Railways Act (Ireland), 1851," and "The Railways Act (Ireland), 1860," should be amended, and the provisions thereof extended, as hereinafter mentioned: Be it therefore enacted, by (&c. &c.), as follows:

1. Whereas by the twenty-sixth section of "The Railways Act (Ireland), 1851," it is provided that where the party named in any certificate of the amount of the price or compensation ascertained by any award (or any party claiming under the party so named) should be dissatisfied with the amount in such certificate certified to be payable, and where any party claiming any interest in any monies paid into court should be dissatisfied with the amount of the price or compensation in respect of such monies, and where any party interested in land adjoining any railway should be dissatisfied with any award so far as respects any works for the accommodation of lands thereby awarded to be made and maintained by the company, or which such party might claim to have so made and maintained, it should be lawful for such party, at the assizes for the county in which the lands are situate, or, where the lands are situate in the county of Dublin or county of the city of Dublin, in the term next following the giving of such certificate, or the payment of such money into court, or (if the claim be only in respect of accommodation works) the making of the award, or where such assizes are holden or such term begins within less than twenty-one days after the giving of such certificate, or the payment of such money, or the making of the award, then at the next subsequent assizes, or in the next subsequent term (as the case might be), upon giving ten days' notice in writing previously to such assizes or term respectively to the secretary of the company of the amount or the accommodation works intended to be claimed, to have a traverse for damages entered in the crown book in respect of such claim, and thereupon such traverse should be tried in such manner, subject to such regulations and with such consequences, as in the said act in that behalf respectively mentioned :

31 & 32 VICT. CAP. 110.

An Act to enable her Majesty's Postmaster General to acquire, work and maintain Electric Telegraphs. [31st July, 1868.

Whereas the means of communication by electric telegraphs within the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland are insufficient, and many important districts are without any such means of communication:

And whereas it would be attended with great advantage to the state, as well as to merchants and traders, and to the public generally, if a cheaper, more widely extended, and more expeditious system of telegraphy were established in the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and to that end it is expedient that her Majesty's postmaster general be empowered to work telegraphs in connection with the administration of the post office:

May it therefore please your Majesty that it may be enacted ; and be it enacted by (&c. &c.), as follows :

Preliminary.

1. This act may be cited as "The Telegraph Act, 1868."

2. The Telegraph Act, 1863, shall be incorporated with this act, except so far as the same, or any part thereof, may be expressly varied, altered, or be inconsistent with this act ; and the term "the company" in the Telegraph Act, 1863, shall, in addition to the meaning assigned to it in that act, mean the postmaster general.

Short title.

Provisions of 26 & 27 Viet.
c. 112, incorporated.

3. Terms to which meanings are assigned by the Telegraph Act, 1863, have in this Act the same respective meanings ; and the word "land" in such last-mentioned act shall, in addition to the meaning thereby assigned to it, include any term, estate, easement, interest, right or privilege in, over, or affecting land, and shall include the works, tubes, wires, posts and other property purchased or acquired by the postmaster general.

Interpretation of terms.

In this act—

The term "the undertaking" shall mean the whole or any part of the electric and other telegraphs, wires, posts, pipes, tubes and other works, instruments, materials, lands, tenements, hereditaments and buildings, parliamentary, prescriptive, and other rights, powers, privileges, patents and all other property whatsoever of any company, corporation or persons engaged in the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland in transmitting messages for money or other consideration by means of electric or other telegraphs :

The term "any company" shall mean any company, corporation or persons now engaged in the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland in transmitting, or authorized to transmit, messages for money or other consideration, by means of electric or other telegraphs, or mechanical agencies, and each and every of those companies.

9. Whereas the railway companies in the United Kingdom are for the most part either themselves owners of telegraphs which are used for the conveyance of public messages, and which are also essential for the safe conduct of the traffic, on their respective undertakings, or they have contracts for various terms of years with telegraph companies, whose telegraphic apparatus is placed in the stations and along the railways and canals of the railway companies, by which contracts provision is made with respect to the matters aforesaid : And whereas with certain railway companies agreements have been entered into by the postmaster general subject to the approbation of Parliament), which agreements are referred to in schedules to this act, and it is expedient that, with respect to certain other railway companies, namely, the London and North Western, the Midland, the Lancashire and Yorkshire, the Great Northern, the Manchester, Sheffield and Lincolnshire, the North Staffordshire, the Great Eastern, the London, Brighton and South Coast, the Metropolitan, the Metropolitan District, the Metropolitan and St. John's Wood, the Highland, the Sutherland, the Leven and East of Fife, the Glasgow and South Western, and the Great North of Scotland, the provisions hereinafter contained be made as to the undertakings belonging separately to the said companies or held by them jointly with any other company, or held by them respectively on lease : Be it therefore enacted as follows :—

general to enter into contracts with certain railway companies.

(1.) The postmaster general shall give to each railway company three months' notice before he acquires the undertakings of any of the telegraph companies with which the railway company has agreements; and on the expiration of such notice such agreements shall cease and determine:

- (2.) On such acquisition as aforesaid all the posts, wires, instruments and other telegraphic apparatus belonging to the railway company, and also all posts, wires, instruments and other telegraphic apparatus belonging to the telegraph companies on the railway company's lines and canals which are necessary for establishing a complete system of telegraphy in connection with the working of trains and the traffic of the lines and canals, shall become the absolute property of the railway company, and shall be handed over to them by the postmaster general free of charge in efficient working order, so that the railway company may be in a position at once to take up and carry on their own telegraph work on their own system, and thereafter the said posts, wires, instruments and other telegraphic apparatus shall be maintained and worked by the railway company:
- (3.) On such acquisition as aforesaid the postmaster general shall be entitled to use from telegraph stations not on the lines of railway all the wires belonging to the respective telegraph companies on the line, and employed exclusively in the transmission of the public telegraph business, which are erected on the poles to be handed over to the railway company under paragraph (2); and he, at his cost, shall also be entitled to call upon the railway company to erect and maintain additional wires on the said poles, provided they are sufficiently strong and high for the purpose; and also to erect new poles at places to be agreed upon with wires over any of the lines and canals of the company, but so that such new poles shall not interfere in any way with the convenience or working of the railway or canals of the company, or obstruct the working of the traffic thereon. The railway company shall maintain all the posts and wires used for public messages, the postmaster general paying for the same as may be agreed or settled by arbitration:
- (4.) The postmaster general may require the railway company to affix wires to existing posts (if they can bear them), and the company may have a like power to affix wires to the posts belonging from time to time to the postmaster general, if sufficient for the purpose, and the cost of maintenance of such posts shall be divided between the postmaster general and the company, in proportion to the number of wires belonging to each on each post:
- (5.) The railway company may shift the poles, wires and apparatus belonging to the postmaster general when necessary for the purposes of their works or traffic; but in all such cases the postmaster general shall pay to the railway company the actual costs incurred in shifting such poles and apparatus, but if such poles support the wires of the railway company and of the postmaster general, the cost of shifting the same shall be apportioned according to the number of wires belonging to or respectively used by the railway company and the postmaster general:
- (6.) The postmaster general shall pay the railway company the following sums by way of compensation:—
 - a. Twenty-years' purchase of the amount of the net annual receipts (if any) of public telegraph messages received and forwarded by the railway company on their own account, reckoned on the basis of the receipts derived therefrom over a continuous period of twelve months prior to the 30th June, 1868 :

- b.* Twenty times the amount of the estimated annual increase, calculated upon the average increase of the preceding three years of the said receipts from telegraphic messages, or where the business has been commenced within three years calculated upon the increase during such shorter period, such annual amount in case of difference to be settled by arbitration :
- c.* All rents and annual or other payments payable to the railway company by public telegraph companies during the still unexpired periods embraced in their respective agreements, and at the terms mentioned in said agreements respectively :
- d.* Such sums as shall be agreed upon, or in default of agreement as shall be settled by arbitration, in respect of the loss by the railway company of the privilege of granting other wayleaves and making future arrangements with telegraph or other companies, and in respect of granting a monopoly to the postmaster general for the conveyance of telegraphs over their railways as herein provided for :
- e.* Such sums as shall be agreed upon, or in default of agreement as shall be settled by arbitration, as the value of the railway company's reversionary interest (if any) in the telegraph receipts from public messages on the expiration of the agreements with the respective telegraph companies :
- f.* Such sums as shall be agreed upon, or in default of agreement as shall be settled by arbitration, for the loss occasioned by removal of any clerks now provided by the telegraph company, and for any extra cost which the railway company may incur in working their telegraph for railway purposes as a separate system :
- g.* The postmaster general shall transmit to their respective destinations all messages of the railway company in any way relating to the business of the company to and from any "foreign stations" in the United Kingdom free of charge :
- h.* On such acquisition as aforesaid the postmaster general shall, as herein provided, have a perpetual right of way for his poles and wires over the whole of the railway company's system, and in consideration thereof he shall pay to the railway company such sum per mile per wire over the whole of the said system, by way of yearly rent, as shall be determined by agreement between the parties, or failing agreement, as shall be fixed by arbitration :

The arbitrator, in determining the amounts to be paid to the railway company under this act, shall have regard to the agreements which subsist between the railway company and any telegraph company, and also to a compulsory sale being required from the railway company ; and in estimating the amount to be paid under any one part of this section shall have regard to the advantages to be obtained and the disadvantages to be sustained by the railway company under any other part of this section :

- (7.) The railway company shall, if required by the postmaster general so to do, from time to time, at such times and under such regulations as shall be agreed upon, receive messages for transmission by the public or private telegraph wires (but if the latter, the railway messages to have priority), and shall at the postmaster general's sole risk and expense transmit the same either to their place of destination, if upon the company's lines, or to some convenient post office as shall be arranged, and in respect of such receipt and transmission the company shall act as agents of the postmaster general, and shall receive in respect thereof such remuneration as shall be agreed upon, or in case of difference as shall be from time to time settled by arbitration. The postmaster general to provide the necessary instruments at the railway company's stations for the public wires, such instruments to be maintained by the railway company at the expense of the postmaster general :

Arrangements with coal-masters, &c.

- (8.) The railway company may, notwithstanding anything in this act contained, and without payment to the postmaster general, from time to time make arrangements with coalmasters, ironmasters and traders generally upon the company's system for the erection and working of private telegraphs between coalpits, ironworks, factories, warehouses, and offices in connection with the stations of the company or over their line ; but such telegraphs shall be used for the transaction of private business only, and no money payment shall be made or received in respect thereof except by way of annual rent or payment for wayleave and other accommodation :
- (9.) Except as aforesaid, the railway company shall not transmit or permit the transmission of any telegraphic message through their wires :
- (10.) All matters of difference between the postmaster general and railway companies arising under this act shall be settled by arbitration, in conformity with the enactments of "The Railway Companies Arbitration Act, 1859,"* with respect to the settlement of disputes by arbitration ; and the provisions of that act with respect to arbitration shall for these purposes be incorporated with this act :
- (11.) Notwithstanding anything specified in this act or in any agreement by this act confirmed, the umpire to be appointed in any arbitration between the postmaster general and any railway company shall, in default of appointment by the arbitrators, be nominated by the chief justice of her Majesty's Court of Common Pleas at Westminster for the time being.

Issue of preferred and deferred ordinary stock.

- (1.) Preferred and deferred ordinary stock shall be issued only in substitution for equal amounts of paid-up ordinary stock, and by way of division of portions of ordinary stock into two equal parts :

- (7.) In respect of dividend to the extent of the maximum aforesaid, preferred ordinary stock shall at the time of its creation, and at all times afterwards, have priority over deferred ordinary stock created or to be created, and shall rank pari passu with the undivided ordinary stock and the ordinary shares of the company created or to be created ; and in respect of dividend, preferred ordinary stock shall at all times and to all intents rank after all preference and guaranteed stock and shares of the company created or to be created :
- (8.) In each year after all holders of preferred ordinary stock for the time being issued have received in full the maximum dividend aforesaid, all holders of deferred ordinary stock for the time being issued shall, in respect of all dividend exceeding that maximum paid by the company in that year on ordinary stock and shares, rank pari passu with the holders of undivided ordinary stock and of ordinary shares of the company for the time being issued :
- (9.) If, nevertheless, in any year ending on the 31st day of December there are not profits available for payment to all the holders of preferred ordinary stock of the maximum dividend aforesaid, no part of the deficiency shall be made good out of the profits of any subsequent year, or out of any other funds of the company :
- (10.) Preferred ordinary stock and deferred ordinary stock from time to time shall confer such right of voting at meetings of the company, and shall confer and have all such other rights, qualifications, privileges, liabilities and incidents, as from time to time attach and are incident to undivided ordinary stock of the company :
- (11.) The terms and conditions on which any preferred ordinary stock or deferred ordinary stock is issued shall be stated on the certificate thereof :
- (12.) Preferred ordinary stock and deferred ordinary stock shall respectively be held on the same trusts, and subject to the same charges and liabilities, as those on and subject to which the ordinary stock in substitution for which the same are issued was held imme-

If the arbitrator dies, or, in the judgment of the Board of Trade, becomes incapable or unfit, the Board of Trade may appoint another arbitrator.

Remuneration of arbitrator.

31. The Board of Trade may fix the remuneration of any arbitrator or umpire appointed by them in pursuance of this or any other act in any case where a company is one of the parties, and may, if they think fit, frame a scale of remuneration for arbitrators or umpires so appointed by them, and no arbitrator or umpire so appointed by them shall be entitled to any larger remuneration than the amount fixed by the Board of Trade.

Costs, &c., of arbitrations.

32. The provisions of sections 18 to 29, both inclusive, of "The Railway Companies Arbitration Act, 1859,"† shall, so far as is consistent with the tenor thereof, apply to an arbitrator appointed by the Board of Trade, and to his arbitration and award, notwithstanding that one of the parties between whom he is appointed to arbitrate may not be a railway company ; and in construing those sections for the purpose of this act the word "companies" shall be construed to mean the parties to the arbitration.

* Ante, p. 4.

36. Whenever in pursuance of any notice under the act of the session of the first and second years of the reign of her present Majesty, chapter ninety-eight, "to provide for the Conveyance of Mails by Railways,"* or otherwise, the mails or post letter bags are conveyed and forwarded by a company on their railway by a special train, the postmaster general may by the same or any other notice in writing require that the whole of such special train shall be appropriated to the service of the post office exclusively of all other traffic except such as he may sanction, and the remuneration to be paid for such service shall be settled as prescribed by the 6th section of that act.

37. All requisitions, notices and documents which relate to a company, if purporting to be signed by the postmaster general or some secretary or assistant secretary to the post office, or by some officer appointed for the purpose by the postmaster general, shall, until the contrary is proved, be deemed to have been so signed, and to have been given or made by the postmaster general. . . .

Service of requisitions, &c., by postmaster general

38. "The Railway Companies Powers Act, 1864," shall take effect and apply in the following cases in the same manner as if they were specified in section three of that act; (that is to say,)

Extension of scope of Railway Companies Powers Act, 1864.

Where a company desire to make new provisions or to alter any of the provisions of their special act, or of "The Companies Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845,"* so far as it is incorporated therewith, with respect to all or any of the matters following; namely,

They may be served by the Board of Trade on any company in the manner in which notices may be served under the Companies Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845;* and all notices, returns and other documents required to be made, delivered or sent by a company to the Board of Trade shall be left at the office of, or transmitted through the post addressed to, the Board of Trade.

Service of requisitions, &c., by Board of Trade.

* Ante, p. 33.

40. Every penalty imposed by this act shall be recovered and applied in the same manner as penalties imposed by the Railways Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845 (d), and the Railways Clauses Consolidation (Scotland) Act, 1845, (as the case may require), are for the time being recoverable and applicable.

Recovery, &c., of penalties.

41. Whenever, in the case of any lands purchased or taken otherwise than by agreement for the purposes of any public railway, any question of compensation in respect thereof, or any question of compensation in respect of lands injuriously affected by the execution of the works of any public railway, is, under the provisions of "The Lands Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845," to be settled by the verdict of a jury empannelled and summoned as in that act mentioned, the company or the party entitled to the compensation may, at any time before the issuing by the company to the sheriff (e) as by that act directed, apply to a judge of any of the superior courts of common law at Westminster, who shall, if he think fit, make an order for trial of the question in one of the superior courts upon such terms and in such manner as to him shall seem fit; and the question between the parties shall be stated in an issue to be settled in case of difference by the judge, or as he shall direct, and such issue may be entered for trial and tried accordingly in the same manner as any issue joined in an ordinary action at such place as the judge shall direct; and the proceedings in respect of such issue shall be under and subject to the control and jurisdiction of the court as in ordinary actions therein, but so nevertheless that the jury shall, where the issue relates to the value of lands to be purchased, and also to compensation claimed for injury done or to be done to lands held therewith, deliver their verdict separately in manner provided by the forty-ninth* section of "The Lands Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845."

* Ante, p. 70.

Company may obtain judge's order instead of issuing warrant.

42. Whenever a company is called upon or liable under the provisions of "The Lands Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845," to issue their warrant to the sheriff in the case of any disputed compensation, and the company shall obtain a judge's order as in the last preceding section mentioned, the obtaining of such an order and notice thereof to the opposite party shall be a satisfaction of the company's duty in respect of the issue of the warrant.

Effect of verdict of jury and judgment of court.

43. The verdict of the jury and judgment of the court upon any issue authorized by this act shall, as regards costs and every other matter incident to or consequent thereon, have the same operation and be entitled to the same effect as if that verdict and judgment had been the verdict of a jury and judgment of a sheriff upon an inquiry conducted upon a warrant to the sheriff issued by the company under "The Lands Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845."

Interpretation.

+ Ante, p. 6.

44. In so far as any expression used in any of the three preceding sections of this act has any special meaning assigned to it by "The Lands Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845,"† each such expression shall in this act have the meaning so assigned to it.

Fees to masters for determining questions of disputed compensation.

45. Wherever under the provisions of "The Lands Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845," or of any act incorporating, altering or amending the same, the costs of any proceedings for determining a question of disputed compensation are settled by one of the masters of the Court of Queen's Bench in England or Ireland, it shall be lawful for such masters to receive and take in respect of each folio in length of every bill of costs so settled a fee of 1s. and no more; and such fee shall be taken in money and not in stamps, and may be retained by the said masters for their own use and benefit.

Be it therefore enacted, by (&c.), as follows :

1. This act may be cited as the Post Office (Parcels) Act, 1882.

2. In the event of any regulations being made by the Treasury in pursuance of the post office acts and providing for the conveyance of parcels by post on different conditions from ordinary postal packets, the following provisions shall, subject to the provisions of this act, have effect :

(t) The act was continued by the Expiring Laws Continuance Act, 1887, until the 31st December, 1888, but was not continued further by the general Expiring Laws Continuance Act, 1888, as a Government bill upon the subject was, at the time of the passing of that act, still before Parliament. This bill having been dropped in the autumn sitting, the act is specially continued until the 31st December, 1889, by 51 & 52 Vict. c. 58, p. 368, post.

- (3.) In the case of a revision the amount of railway remuneration shall be a sum to be paid to the companies collectively in manner provided by this act, and if such amount is not determined by agreement between the Postmaster-General and the railway companies, parties to the arrangement under this act, the amount shall be referred to arbitration in manner provided by this act.

(2.) The receipt of the secretary to the London Railway Clearing Committee shall be a full discharge for all sums paid by the Postmaster-General in respect of railway remuneration, and the Postmaster-General shall not be required to take any part in or otherwise be responsible for the division amongst the railway companies of the amount so paid.

THIRD SCHEDULE

APPORTIONMENT AMONG THE RAILWAY COMPANIES.

1. All sums paid by the Postmaster-General under this Act to the railway companies parties to the arrangements under this Act shall be apportioned amongst the railway companies entitled to share therein by the London Railway Clearing Committee half-yearly up to the thirtieth day of June and the thirty-first day of December in each year, or to such other half-yearly days as the parcels accounts between the companies may for the time being be made up by the London Railway Clearing Committee.

2. The share of each railway company shall bear the same ratio to the whole sum divisible as that company's gross receipts from local and through parcels traffic for each half-yearly period bear to the gross receipts from local and through parcels traffic of all the companies for the same period: Provided that where upon an arbitration with any company not a party to the arrangement under this Act any sum is awarded to be paid to such company, such sum shall be so paid in lieu of the share ascertained as aforesaid.

Each company shall render to the London Railway Clearing Committee the necessary returns of their parcels traffic certified by their accountant, such returns to be subject to audit and inspection of books by the London Railway Clearing Committee.

3. If at any time after the expiration of three years from the passing of this Act, or if at any time in pursuance of regulations of the Treasury the weights or rates of postage for parcels differ from those mentioned in the Second Schedule to this Act, any one or more of the companies consider that the apportionment of the receipts from parcels traffic above provided by this Act (hereinafter called "the prescribed apportionment") is inequitable, such company or companies (without prejudice to any right conferred by this Act on a company not represented by the committee) may forward to the London Railway Clearing Committee a statement in writing of the grounds of objection to the prescribed apportionment, and thereupon the following provisions shall have effect:

- (a.) The secretary to the London Railway Clearing Committee shall convene a special meeting of the general managers of the railway companies parties to the arrangement under this Act (hereinafter called "the conference") for the purpose of taking such statement into consideration, and shall give not less than fourteen days' notice of such special meeting.
- (b.) The conference shall at such special meeting take the said statement into consideration and determine by a majority of its members present at such meeting whether a prima facie case has been shown for altering the prescribed apportionment.
- (c.) If the conference determine that a prima facie case has not been shown for altering the prescribed apportionment no further proceedings shall be taken, and the prescribed apportionment shall continue in force until further complaint be made under this article.
- (d.) If the conference determine that a prima facie case has been shown for altering the prescribed apportionment, it shall proceed either at such meeting or any adjournment or adjournments thereof, or at any other meeting specially convened for the purpose as hereinbefore provided, to consider a fair and equitable revision of the prescribed apportionment.
- (e.) The conference may by a majority of its members present at any such meeting and representing companies whose aggregate share capital is for the time being not less than three fourths of the aggregate share capital represented at such meeting determine upon a revision of the prescribed apportionment.
- (f.) If the conference, for the space of three months after they have decided that a prima facie case for revision has been shown, fail to determine by the requisite majority upon a revision of the prescribed apportionment, then the question of revising the prescribed apportionment shall be referred to an arbitrator appointed under this schedule, who shall have power to determine whether any, and if any, what revision of the prescribed apportionment is required to remedy any inequality or injustice which may in his opinion be established upon due inquiry before him.
- (g.) The conference or the arbitrator shall, in considering a revision of the prescribed apportionment, have power to deal with any complaint of inequality or injustice which may be submitted to them or him by any of the companies, and may adopt in revising the prescribed apportionment such basis of division or such data as to them or him shall seem just.
- (h.) Any decision of the conference or of the arbitrator shall be final and conclusive upon the companies, and shall, unless any further alteration is made in the weights and rates of postage of the parcels in pursuance of regulations of the Treasury, continue in force for the period of three years and thereafter until any further complaint shall be made under this enactment.

(i) The selection by the Postmaster-General of any route or routes for the transmission of parcels in preference to any competing route or routes shall in no case be a reason for revising the prescribed apportionment.

4. Parcels traffic for the purposes of the apportionment shall (unless and till otherwise determined by the conference, who shall have power to add to or take from the following list of excepted articles), include all such traffic as according to the practice for the time being of the London Railway Clearing Committee is included in that expression, except—

Mails, other than parcels; fish, meat, and poultry for markets; milk; carriages; cattle, horses, dogs, and other animals; corpses; and specie.

5. The conference shall have power from time to time to make, and, if necessary, to revoke and alter all such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the purpose of giving full effect to this Act with respect to—

(a.) The forms to be used by the companies in dealing with parcels traffic as above defined;

(b.) The returns to be made by the companies for the purposes of this Act;

(c.) The verification of any such returns; and (d.) Any matters of detail necessary or proper for carrying this schedule into effect; and all such rules and regulations shall be binding on the companies.

6. The arbitrator to determine any question between the companies under the provisions of this schedule shall be appointed when such question arises by the Lord Chief Justice of England, on the application of the London Railway Clearing Committee, and the Railway Companies Arbitration Act, 1859, shall apply to any such arbitration.

Where two or more companies are concerned, the certificate shall state whether both or all, or one or more, and which of them is in default.

(4.) A company on whom an order is made by the Board of Trade under this section may within six months after the making of the order appeal to the Railway Commissioners, who shall have the same power in the matter as if it had been originally referred to their decision.

(5.) The Board of Trade or the Railway Commissioners, as the case may be, may rescind or vary any order made by them under this section.

4. (1.) Where any act of Parliament allows a number of miles greater than the actual number of miles to be reckoned for the purpose of calculating the fares on any part of a railway, the mileage so allowed shall be deemed for the purposes of this act to be the mileage of that part of the railway.

Jurisdiction.

Jurisdiction of Railway Commissioners transferred to the Commission.

8. There shall be transferred to and vested in the commissioners all the jurisdiction and powers which at the commencement of this act were vested in, or capable of being exercised by the railway commissioners, whether under the Regulation of Railways Act, 1873, or any other act, or otherwise, and any reference to the railway commissioners in the Regulation of Railways Act, 1873, or in any other act, or in any document, shall, from and after the commencement of this act, be construed to refer to the Railway and Canal Commission established by this act.

Jurisdiction of Commissioners under special Acts

* Page 176.

9. Where any enactment in a special act—

(a) contains provisions relating to traffic facilities, undue preference, or other matters mentioned in section two of the Railway and Canal Traffic Act, 1854 * ; or

(b) requires a company to which this part of this act applies to provide any station, road, or other similar work for public accommodation ; or

(c) otherwise imposes on a company to which this part of this act applies any obligation in favour of the public or any individual ; or where any act contains provisions relating to private branch railways or private sidings, the commissioners shall have the like jurisdiction to hear and determine a complaint of a contravention of the enactment as the commissioners have to hear and determine a complaint of a contravention of section two of the Railway and Canal Traffic Act, 1854, as amended by subsequent acts.

Jurisdiction over tolls and rates.

[See vol. I.,
ch. XII., s. 4.]

10. Where any question or dispute arises, involving the legality of any toll, rate, or charge, or portion of a toll, rate, or charge, charged or sought to be charged for merchandise traffic by a company to which this part of this act applies, the commissioners shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine the same, and to enforce payment of such toll, rate, or charge, or so much thereof as the commissioners decide to be legal.

Jurisdiction to order traffic facilities, notwithstanding agreements.

[See vol. I.,
ch. XII., s. 8 (b).]

11. Nothing in any agreement, whether made before or after the passing of this act, which has not been confirmed by act or by the Board of Trade, or by the commissioners under the Regulation of Railways Act, 1873, or this act, shall render a company to which this part of this act applies unable to afford, or shall authorise such company to refuse, such reasonable facilities for traffic as may in the opinion of the commissioners be required in the interests of the public, or shall prevent the commissioners from making or enforcing any order with respect to such facilities.

Power to award damages.

12. Where the commissioners have jurisdiction to hear and determine any matter, they may, in addition to or in substitution for any other relief, award to any complaining party who is aggrieved such damages as they find him to have sustained ; and such award of damages shall be in complete satisfaction of any claim for damages, including repayment of overcharges, which, but for this act, such party would have had by reason of the matter of complaint.

Provided that such damages shall not be awarded unless complaint has been made to the commissioners within one year from the discovery by the party aggrieved of the matter complained of.

The commissioners may ascertain the amount of such damages either by trial before themselves, or by directing an inquiry to be taken before one or more of themselves or before some officer of their court.

No damages where rates published under certain conditions.

13. In cases of complaint of undue preference no damages shall be awarded if the commissioners shall find that the rates complained of have, for the period during which such rates have been in operation, been duly published in the rate books of the railway company kept at their stations in accordance with section fourteen of the Regulation of Railways Act, 1873*, as amended by this act, unless and until the party complaining shall have given written notice to the railway company requiring them to abstain from or remedy the matter of complaint, and the railway company shall have failed, within a reasonable time, to comply with such requirements in such a manner as the commissioners shall think reasonable.

14. The commissioners may order two or more companies to which this part of this act applies to carry into effect an order of the commissioners, and to make mutual arrangements for that purpose, and may further order the companies or, in case of difference, any of them, to submit to the commissioners for approval a scheme for carrying into effect the order, and when the commissioners have finally approved the scheme, they may order each of the companies to do all that is necessary on the part and within the power of such company to carry into effect the scheme, and may determine the proportions in which the respective companies are to defray the expense of so doing, and may for the above purposes make, if they think fit, separate orders on any one or more of such companies.

Orders on two or more companies.

Provided that nothing in this section shall authorize the commissioners to require two companies to do anything which they would not have jurisdiction to require to be done if such two companies were a single company.

15. For the purposes of section eight of the Regulation of Railways Act, 1873*, and any other enactment relating to the reference to the Railway Commission of any difference between companies which under the provisions of any general or special act is required or authorised to be referred to arbitration, the provisions of any agreement confirmed or authorised by any such act shall be deemed to be provisions of such act.

Amendment of s. 8 of Act of 1873, as to references to arbitration.

16.—(1.) Where the Board of Trade or the commissioners, in the exercise of any power given by any general or special act, on application order a company to which this part of this act applies, to provide a bridge, subway, or approach, or any work of a similar character, the Board of Trade or the commissioners, as the case may be, may require as a condition of making the order that an agreement to pay the whole or a portion of the expenses of complying with the order shall be entered into by the applicants or some of them, or such other persons as the Board of Trade or commissioners think fit, and any of the following local authorities, namely, any sanitary authority, highway board, surveyor of highways acting with the consent of the vestry of his parish, or any other authority having power to levy rates, shall have power, if such authority think fit, to enter into any such agreement as is sanctioned by the Board of Trade or commissioners for the purpose of the order.

Power to apportion expenses between railway company and applicants for works.

(2.) In such case any question respecting the persons by whom or the proportions in which the expenses of complying with the order are to be defrayed may, on the application of any party to the application, or on a certificate of the Board of Trade, be determined by the commissioners.

(3.) In this section the expression "parish" shall have the same meaning as the same expression has in the acts relating to highways; and the expression "the consent of the vestry of his parish" shall, in any place where there is no vestry meeting, mean the consent of a meeting of inhabitants contributing to the highway rates, provided that the same notice shall have been given of such a meeting as would be required by law for the assembling of a meeting in vestry.

Appeals.

Appeals on questions of law to superior court of appeal.

17.—(1.) No appeal shall lie from the commissioners upon a question of fact, or upon any question regarding the locus standi of a complainant.

(2.) Save as otherwise provided by this act, an appeal shall lie from the commissioners to a superior court of appeal.

(3.) An appeal shall not be brought except in conformity with such rules of court as may from time to time be made in relation to such appeals by the authority having power to make rules of court for the superior court of appeal (f).

(4.) On the hearing of an appeal the court of appeal may draw all such inferences as are not inconsistent with the facts expressly found, and are necessary for determining the question of law, and shall have all such powers for that purpose as if the appeal were an appeal from a judgment of a superior court, and may make any order which the commissioners could have made, and also any such further or other order as may be just, and the costs of and incidental to an appeal shall be in the discretion of the court of appeal, but no commissioner shall be liable to any costs by reason or in respect of any appeal.

Appeal to House of Lords

(5.) The decision of the superior court of appeal shall be final: Provided that where there has been a difference of opinion between any two of such superior courts of appeal, any superior court of appeal in which a matter affected by such difference of opinion is pending may give leave to appeal to the House of Lords, on such terms as to costs as such court shall determine.

No prohibition,
&c.

(6.) Save as provided by this act, an order or proceeding of the commissioners shall not be questioned or reviewed, and shall not be restrained or removed by prohibition, injunction, certiorari, or otherwise, either at the instance of the Crown or otherwise.

Supplemental.

General powers and enforcement of orders.

18.—(1.) For the purposes of this act the commissioners shall have full jurisdiction to hear and determine all matters whether of law or of fact, and shall as respects the attendance and examination of witnesses, the production and inspection of documents, the enforcement of their orders, the entry on and inspection of property, and other matters necessary or proper for the due exercise of their jurisdiction under this act, or otherwise for carrying this act into effect, have all such powers, rights, and privileges as are vested in a superior court: Provided that no person shall be punished for contempt of court, except with the consent of an ex officio commissioner.

(2.) The commissioners may review and rescind or vary any order made by them; but, save as is by this act provided, every decision or order of the commissioners shall be final.

Costs.

19. The costs of and incidental to every proceeding before the commissioners shall be in the discretion of the commissioners, who may order by whom and to whom the same are to be paid, and by whom the same are to be taxed and allowed.

Power to make rules.

20.—(1.) The commissioners may from time to time, with the approval of the Lord Chancellor and the President of the Board of Trade, make, rescind, and vary general rules for their procedure and practice under this act, and generally for carrying into effect this part of this act.

(2.) All rules made under this section shall be laid before Parliament within three weeks after they are made, if Parliament is then sitting, and if Parliament is not then sitting within three weeks after the beginning of the then next session of Parliament, and shall be judicially noticed, and shall have effect as if they were enacted by this act (g).

(f) No Rules of Court as to appeal have as yet (March, 1889) appeared.

21.—(1.) There shall be attached to the Railway and Canal Commission such officers, clerks, and messengers as the Lord Chancellor, with the consent of the Treasury as to number, from time to time appoints.

Appointment of officers, clerks, &c.

(2.) There shall be paid to each of such officers, clerks, and messengers, such salaries as the Treasury from time to time determine.

22. The salaries of the appointed commissioners, and of all officers, clerks, and messengers attached to the Railway and Canal Commission, and all the expenses of the said commission of and incidental to the carrying out of this act, shall be paid out of moneys to be provided by Parliament.

Salaries, expenses, &c.

23. This part of this act shall apply to any railway company, and to any canal company, and to any railway and canal company.

Company to which Part I. applies.

PART II.

TRAFFIC.

24.—(1.) Notwithstanding any provision in any general or special act, every railway company shall submit to the Board of Trade a revised classification of merchandise traffic, and a revised schedule of maximum rates and charges applicable thereto, proposed to be charged by such railway company, and shall fully state in such classification and schedule the nature and amounts of all terminal charges proposed to be authorised in respect of each class of traffic, and the circumstances under which such terminal charges are proposed to be made. In the determination of the terminal charges of any railway company regard shall be had only to the expenditure reasonably necessary to provide the accommodation in respect of which such charges are made, irrespective of the outlay which may have been actually incurred by the railway company in providing that accommodation.

Revised classification of traffic and schedule of rates.

[See vol. I., ch. XII., s. 4.]

(2.) The classification and schedule shall be submitted within six months from the passing of this act, or such further time as the Board of Trade may, in any particular case, permit, and shall be published in such manner as the Board of Trade may direct.

(3.) The Board of Trade shall consider the classification and schedule, and any objections thereto, which may be lodged with them on or before the prescribed time and in the prescribed manner, and shall communicate with the railway company and the persons (if any) who have lodged objections, for the purpose of arranging the differences which may have arisen.

(4.) If, after hearing all parties whom the Board of Trade consider to be entitled to be heard before them respecting the classification and schedule, the Board of Trade come to an agreement with the railway company as to the classification and schedule, they shall embody the agreed classification and schedule in a provisional order, and shall make a report thereon, to be submitted to Parliament, containing such observations as they think fit in relation to the agreed classification and schedule.

Embodiment of agreed classification in Provisional Order.

(5.) When any agreed classification and schedule have been embodied in a provisional order, the Board of Trade, as soon as they conveniently can after the making of the provisional order (of which the railway company shall be deemed to be the promoters), shall procure a bill to be introduced into either House of Parliament for an act to confirm the provisional order, which shall be set out at length in the schedule to the bill.

Bill.

Determination of classification by Board of Trade on default of company, or failure to agree.

(6.) In any case in which a railway company fails within the time mentioned in this section to submit a classification and schedule to the Board of Trade, and also in every case in which a railway company has submitted to the Board of Trade a classification and schedule, and after hearing all parties whom the Board of Trade consider to be entitled to be heard before them, the Board of Trade are unable to come to an agreement with the railway company as to the railway company's classification and schedule, the Board of Trade shall determine the classification of traffic which, in the opinion of the Board of Trade, ought to be adopted by the railway company, and the schedule of maximum rates and charges, including all terminal charges proposed to be authorized applicable to such classification which would, in the opinion of the Board of Trade, be just and reasonable, and shall make a report, to be submitted to Parliament, containing such observations as they may think fit in relation to the said classification and schedule, and calling attention to the points therein on which differences which have arisen have not been arranged.

(7.) After the commencement of the session of Parliament next after that in which the said report of the Board of Trade has been submitted to Parliament, the railway company may apply to the Board of Trade to submit to Parliament the question of the classification and schedule which ought to be adopted by the railway company, and the Board of Trade shall on such application, and in any case may, embody in a Provisional Order such classification and schedule as in the opinion of the Board of Trade ought to be adopted by the railway company, and procure a Bill to be introduced into either House of Parliament for an act to confirm the Provisional Order, which shall be set out at length in the schedule to the bill.

Petition against Bill.

(8.) If, while any bill to confirm a Provisional Order made by the Board of Trade under this section is pending in either House of Parliament, a petition is presented against the bill or any classification and schedule comprised therein, the bill, so far as it relates to the matter petitioned against, shall be referred to a Select Committee, or if the two Houses of Parliament think fit so to order, to a joint committee of such Houses, and the petitioner shall be allowed to appear and oppose as in the case of a private bill.

Employment of skilled persons upon the classifications.

(9.) In preparing, revising, and settling the classifications and schedules of rates and charges, the Board of Trade may consult and employ such skilled persons as they may deem necessary or desirable; and they may pay to such persons such remuneration as they may think fit and as the Treasury may approve.

The statutory rates.

(10.) The Act of Parliament confirming any Provisional Order made under this section shall be a public general act, and the rates and charges mentioned in a Provisional Order as confirmed by such act shall, from and after the act coming into operation, be the rates and charges which the railway company shall be entitled to charge and make.

Amendment of classification.

(11.) At any time after the confirmation of any Provisional Order under this section any railway company may, and any person, upon giving not less than twenty-one days' notice to the railway company may, apply in the prescribed manner to the Board of Trade to amend any classification and schedule by adding thereto any articles, matters, or things, and the Board of Trade may hear and determine such application, and classify and deal with the articles, matters, or things referred to therein in such manner as the Board of Trade shall think right. Every determination of the Board of Trade under this sub-section shall forthwith be published in the "London Gazette," and shall take effect as from the date of the publication thereof.

Mails.

(12.) Nothing in this section shall apply to any remuneration payable by the Postmaster-General to any railway company for the conveyance of mails, letter bags, or parcels under any general or special act relating to the conveyance of mails, or under the Post Office (Parcels) Act, 1882.*

(13.) Nothing in this section shall apply to any remuneration payable by the Secretary of State for War to any railway company for the conveyance of War Office stores under the powers conferred by the Cheap Trains Act, 1883.†

Recital of s 2 of Act of 1854.

25. Whereas by section two of the Railway and Canal Traffic Act, 1854, it is enacted that every railway company and canal company, and railway and canal company shall, according to their respective powers, afford all reasonable facilities for the receiving and forwarding and delivering of traffic upon and from the several railways and canals belonging to or worked by such companies respectively, and for the return of carriages, trucks, boats, and other vehicles; and that no such company shall make or give any undue or unreasonable preference or advantage to or in favour of any particular person or company, or any particular description of traffic, in any respect whatsoever, or shall subject any particular person or company, or any particular description of traffic, to any undue or unreasonable prejudice or disadvantage in any respect whatsoever; and that every railway company and canal company and railway and canal company having or working railways or canals which form part of a continuous line of railway, or canal or railway and canal communication, or which have the terminus station or wharf of the one near the terminus station or wharf of the other, shall afford all due and reasonable facilities for receiving and forwarding by one of such railways or canals all the traffic arriving by the other, without any unreasonable delay, and without any such preference or advantage or prejudice or disadvantage as aforesaid, and so that no obstruction may be offered to the public desirous of using such railways or canals or railways and canals as a continuous line of communication, and so that all reasonable accommodation may by means of the railways and canals of the several companies be at all times afforded to the public in that behalf:

And whereas it is expedient to explain and amend the said enactment;

Be it therefore enacted, that—

Subject as herein-after mentioned, the said facilities to be so afforded are hereby declared to and shall include the due and reasonable receiving, forwarding, and delivering by every railway company and canal company and railway and canal company, at the request of any other such company, of through traffic to and from the railway or canal of any other such company at through rates, tolls, or fares (in this act referred to as through rates); and also the due and reasonable receiving, forwarding, and delivering by every railway company and canal company and railway and canal company at the request of any person interested in through traffic, of such traffic at through rates: Provided that no application shall be made to the commissioners by such person until he has made a complaint to the Board of Trade under the provisions of this act as to complaints to the Board of Trade of unreasonable charges, and the Board of Trade have heard the complaint in the manner herein provided.

Forwarding, &c., of through traffic
at through rates.
[See vol. I.,
ch. XI., s. 8 (7).]

Provided as follows:

- (1.) The company or person requiring the traffic to be forwarded shall give written notice of the proposed through rate to each forwarding company, stating both its amount and the route by which the traffic is proposed to be forwarded; and when a company gives such notice it shall also state the apportionment of the through rate. The proposed through rate may be per truck or per ton:
- (2.) Each forwarding company shall, within ten days, or such longer period as the commissioners may from time to time by general

Provisiones as to

order prescribe, after the receipt of such notice, by written notice inform the company or persons requiring the traffic to be forwarded, whether they agree to the rate and route; and if they object to either, the grounds of the objection:

- (3.) If at the expiration of the prescribed period no such objection has been sent by any forwarding company, the rate shall come into operation at such expiration:
- (4.) If an objection to the rate or route has been sent within the prescribed period, the matter shall be referred to the commissioners for their decision:
- (5.) If an objection be made to the granting of the rate or to the route, the commissioners shall consider whether the granting of a rate is a due and reasonable facility in the interest of the public, and whether, having regard to the circumstances, the route proposed is a reasonable route, and shall allow or refuse the rate accordingly, or fix such other rate as may seem to the commissioners just and reasonable:
- (6.) Where, upon the application of a person requiring traffic to be forwarded, a through rate is agreed to by the forwarding companies or is made by order of the commissioners, the apportionment of such through rate, if not agreed upon between the forwarding companies, shall be determined by the commissioners:
- (7.) If the objection be only to the apportionment of the rate, the rate shall come into operation at the expiration of the prescribed period, but the decision of the commissioners, as to its apportionment, shall be retrospective; in any other case the operation of the rate shall be suspended until the decision is given:
- (8.) The commissioners, in apportioning the through rate, shall take into consideration all the circumstances of the case, including any special expense incurred in respect of the construction, maintenance, or working of the route, or any part of the route, as well as any special charges which any company may have been entitled to make in respect thereof:
- (9.) It shall not be lawful for the commissioners in any case to compel any company to accept lower mileage rates than the mileage rates which such company may for the time being legally be charging for like traffic carried by a like mode of transit on any other line of communication between the same points, being the points of departure and arrival of the through route.

Steam vessels.

Where a railway company or canal company use, maintain, or work, or are party to an arrangement for using, maintaining, or working steam vessels for the purpose of carrying on a communication between any towns or ports, the provisions of this section shall extend to such steam vessels, and to the traffic carried thereby.

Costs.

When any company, upon written notice being given as aforesaid, refuses or neglects without reason to agree to the proposed through rates, or to the route, or to the apportionment, the commissioners, if an order is made by them upon an application for through rates, may order the respondent company or companies to pay such costs to the applicants as they think fit.

Allowance of less than maximum.

26. Subject to the provisions in the last preceding section contained, the commissioners shall have full power to decide that any proposed through rate is just and reasonable, notwithstanding that a less amount may be allotted to any forwarding company out of such through rate than the maximum rate such company is entitled to charge, and to allow and apportion such through rate accordingly.

27.—(1.) Whenever it is shown that any railway company charge one trader or class of traders, or the traders in any district, lower tolls, rates, or charges for the same or similar merchandise, or lower tolls, rates, or charges for the same or similar services, than they charge to other traders, or classes of traders, or to the traders in another district, or make any difference in treatment in respect of any such trader or traders, the burden of proving that such lower charge or difference in treatment does not amount to an undue preference shall lie on the railway company.

Undue preference.
Burden of proof.
[See vol. I, ch. XII, s. 8 (c).]

(2.) In deciding whether a lower charge or difference in treatment does or does not amount to an undue preference, the court having jurisdiction in the matter, or the commissioners, as the case may be, may, so far as they think reasonable, in addition to any other considerations affecting the case, take into consideration whether such lower charge or difference in treatment is necessary for the purpose of securing in the interests of the public the traffic in respect of which it is made, and whether the inequality cannot be removed without unduly reducing the rates charged to the complainant: Provided that no railway company shall make, nor shall the court, or the commissioners, sanction any difference in the tolls, rates, or charges made for, or any difference in the treatment of, home and foreign merchandise, in respect of the same or similar services.

Consideration whether lower charge necessary to secure traffic.

Foreign merchandise.

(3.) The court or the commissioners shall have power to direct that no higher charge shall be made to any person for services in respect of merchandise carried over a less distance than is made to any other person for similar services in respect of the like description and quantity of merchandise carried over a greater distance on the same line of railway.

No higher charge for less distance.

28. The provisions of section two of the Railway and Canal Traffic Act, 1854, and of section fourteen of the Regulation of Railways Act, 1873, and of any enactments amending and extending those enactments, shall apply to traffic by sea in any vessels belonging to or chartered or worked by any railway company, or in which any railway company procures merchandise to be carried, in the same manner and to the like extent as they apply to the land traffic of a railway company.

Extension of enactments as to undue preference to goods carried by sea.

29.—(1.) Notwithstanding any provision in any general or special act, it shall be lawful for any railway company, for the purpose of fixing the rates to be charged for the carriage of merchandise to and from any place on their railway, to group together any number of places in the same district, situated at various distances from any point of destination or departure of merchandise, and to charge a uniform rate or uniform rates of carriage for merchandise to and from all places comprised in the group from and to any point of destination or departure.

Group rates may be chargeable by railway companies.

[See vol. I, ch. XII, ss. 5 and 7.]

(2.) Provided that the distances shall not be unreasonable, and that the group rates charged and the places grouped together shall not be such as to create an undue preference.

(3.) Where any group rate exists or is proposed, and in any case where there is a doubt whether any rates charged or proposed to be charged by a railway company may not be a contravention of section two of the Railway and Canal Traffic Act, 1854, and any acts amending the same, the railway company may, upon giving notice in the prescribed manner, apply to the commissioners, and the commissioners may, after hearing the parties interested and any of the authorities mentioned in section seven of this act, determine whether such group rate or any rate charged or proposed to be charged as aforesaid does or does not create an undue preference. Any person aggrieved, and any of the authorities mentioned in section seven of this act, may, at any time after the making of any order under this section, apply to the commissioners to vary or rescind the order, and the commissioners, after hearing all parties who are interested, may make an order accordingly.

Power to dock companies and harbour boards to complain of undue preference.

30. Any port or harbour authority or dock company which shall have reason to believe that any railway company is by its rates or otherwise placing their port, harbour, or dock, at an undue disadvantage as compared with any other port, harbour, or dock to or from which traffic is or may be carried by means of the lines of the said railway company, either alone or in conjunction with those of other railway companies, may make complaint thereof to the commissioners, who shall have the like jurisdiction to hear and determine the subject-matter of such complaint as they have to hear and determine a complaint of a contravention of section two of the Railway and Canal Traffic Act, 1851, as amended by subsequent acts.

[See vol. I., ch. XII., s. 4.]

31.—(1.) Whenever any person receiving or sending or desiring to send goods by any railway is of opinion that the railway company is charging him an unfair or an unreasonable rate of charge, or is in any other respect treating him in an oppressive or unreasonable manner, such person may complain to the Board of Trade.

(2.) The Board of Trade, if they think that there is reasonable ground for the complaint, may thereupon call upon the railway company for an explanation, and endeavour to settle amicably the differences between the complainant and the railway company.

(3.) For the purpose aforesaid, the Board of Trade may appoint either one of their own officers or any other competent person to communicate with the complainant and the railway company, and to receive and consider such explanations and communications as may be made in reference to the complaint; and the Board of Trade may pay to such last-mentioned person such remuneration as they may think fit, and as may be approved by the Treasury.

(4.) The Board of Trade shall from time to time submit to Parliament reports of the complaints made to them under the provisions of this section, and the results of the proceedings taken in relation to such complaints, together with such observations thereon as the Board of Trade shall think fit.

(5.) A complaint under this section may be made to the Board of Trade by any of the authorities mentioned in section seven of this act, in any case in which, in the opinion of any such authorities, they or any traders or persons in their district are being charged unfair or unreasonable rates by a railway company; and all the provisions of this section shall apply to a complaint so made as if the same had been made by a person entitled to make a complaint under this section.

Annual returns by railway companies to contain such statistics as the Board of Trade shall require.

32.—(1.) The returns required of a railway company under section nine of the Railways Regulation Act, 1871, shall include such statements as the Board of Trade may from time to time prescribe, and the forms referred to in that section may from time to time be altered by the Board of Trade in such manner as they think expedient for giving effect to this section, and the said section nine of the Railways Regulation Act, 1871, shall apply accordingly.

(2.) The Board of Trade may from time to time alter the times fixed by the said act or by the Railways Regulation Act (Returns of Signal Arrangements, Workings, &c.), 1873, for the forwarding of any of the returns required by the said act or this act.

Classification table to be open for inspection.

33.—(1.) The book, tables, or other document in use for the time being containing the general classification of merchandise carried on the railway of any company, shall, during all reasonable hours, be open to the inspection of any person without the payment of any fee at every station at which merchandise is received for conveyance, or where merchandise is received at some other place than a station then at the station nearest such place, and the said book, tables, or other document as revised from time to time shall be kept on sale at the principal office of the company at a price not exceeding one shilling.

(2.) Printed copies of the classification of merchandise traffic, and schedule of maximum tolls, rates, and charges of every railway company authorised, as provided by this act, shall be kept for sale by the railway company at such places and at such reasonable price as the Board of Trade may by any general or special order prescribe.

(4.) Any company allowing traffic to pass from a canal on to any other canal or any railway, or from a railway on to a canal, shall be deemed to be a forwarding company, and the allowing of traffic so to pass shall be deemed to be the forwarding of traffic within the meaning of the above-mentioned acts.

(5.) Powers of Commissioners over canal tolls, rates and charges where a railway company or its officers own or control the traffic of a canal.

(1.) The commissioners may, on the application of any person interested in the traffic of the canal, make an order requiring the tolls, rates, and charges levied on the traffic of or for the conveyance of merchandise on the canal, to be altered and adjusted in such a manner that the same shall be reasonable as compared with the rates and charges for the conveyance of merchandise on the railway :

(2.) If within such time as may be prescribed by the order of the commissioners, the tolls, rates, and charges levied on the traffic of or for the conveyance of merchandise on the canal are not altered and adjusted as required by such order, the commissioners may themselves by an order make such alterations in and adjustment of the tolls, rates, and charges levied on the traffic of or for the conveyance of merchandise on the canal as they shall think just and reasonable, and the tolls, rates, and charges as altered and adjusted by the order of the commissioners shall be binding on the company or persons owning or having the control over the traffic of, or the tolls, rates, and charges levied on the traffic of, or for the conveyance of merchandise on the canal :

(3.) No application shall be made to the commissioners under this section until the Board of Trade have certified that the applicant is a fit person to make the application, and that the application is a proper one to be submitted for the adjudication of the commissioners ; and no order shall be made by the commissioners under this section unless notice of the application has been served upon such company and persons, and in such manner as the Board of Trade may direct :

(4.) The commissioners may at any time, upon the application of any company or person affected by any order made under this section, and after notice to and hearing such companies and persons as the commissioners may by any general rules or special order prescribe, rescind or vary any order made under this section.

(2.) Every canal company shall within such time as may be prescribed by the Board of Trade, and afterwards from time to time whenever required by the Board of Trade, not being oftener than once in every year, forward to the Board of Trade in such form and manner as the Board may from time to time prescribe, such returns as the Board of Trade may require for the purpose of showing the capacity of such canal for traffic, and the capital, revenue, expenditure, and profits of the canal company.

(3.) When the canal of a canal company, or any part thereof, is intended to be stopped for more than two days, the company shall report to the Board of Trade, stating the time during which such stoppage is intended to last, and when the same is re-opened the company shall so report to the Board of Trade.

(4.) A company failing to comply with this section, shall be liable, on summary conviction, to a fine not exceeding five pounds for every day during which their default continues, and any director, manager, and officer of the company who knowingly and wilfully authorizes or permits the default shall be liable, on summary conviction, to the like fine.

Bye-laws of canal companies.

Every canal company shall, before such date as the Board of Trade may prescribe, forward to the Board of Trade true copies, certified in such manner as the Board of Trade direct, of any bye-laws or regulations of such company which are in force at the commencement of this act; and the bye-laws of any canal company, copies of which are not forwarded to the Board of Trade as provided by this section, shall from and after the said date cease to have any operation, save in so far as any penalty may have been already incurred under the same.

(2.) A bye-law or regulation of any canal company hereafter to be made under any power which has before or at the time of the passing of this act been, or which may hereafter be, conferred on any canal company, shall not have any force or effect until two months after a true copy of such bye-law or regulation, certified in such manner as the Board of Trade direct, has been forwarded to the Board of Trade, unless the Board of Trade before the expiration of such period have signified their approbation thereof.

(3.) The Board of Trade may, at any time after any existing or future bye-laws or regulations of a canal company have been forwarded to them, notify to the company their disallowance thereof, or of any of them, and in case such bye-laws or regulations are in force at the time of the disallowance, the time at which the said bye-laws or regulations shall cease to be in force. A bye-law or regulation disallowed by the Board of Trade shall not after such disallowance have any force or effect whatever, save (as regards any bye-law or regulation which may be in force at the time of the disallowance thereof) in so far as any penalty may have been then already incurred under the same.

(4.) The Board of Trade may from time to time make, rescind, and vary such regulations as they think fit with respect to the publication by canal companies of their bye-laws and regulations, and with respect to the publication by canal companies of their intention to apply to the Board of Trade for the allowance of any intended bye-laws and regulations. Any regulations so made which are for the time being in force, shall have effect as if they had been enacted in this act.

42.—(1.) No railway company, or director, or officer of a railway company shall, without express statutory authority, apply or use or authorise or permit the application or use of any part of the company's funds for the purpose of acquiring either in the name of the railway company, or of any director or officer of the railway company, or other person, any canal interest, or of enabling any director or officer of the railway company, or other person, to purchase or acquire any canal interest, or of guaranteeing or repaying to any director or officer of the railway company or other person who has purchased or acquired any canal interest the sums of money expended or liability incurred by such director, officer, or person, in the purchase or acquisition of such canal interest, or any part of such money or liability.

(2.) In the event of any contravention of the provisions of this section, the canal interest purchased in such contravention shall be forfeited to the Crown, and the directors or officers of the company who so applied or used, or authorised or permitted such application or use of the company's funds, shall be liable to repay to the company the sums so applied or used and the value of the canal interest so forfeited; and proceedings to compel such repayment may be taken by any shareholder in the company.

43.—(1.) Any canal company may make and enter into contracts and arrangements with any other canal company or canal companies for the passage over and along their respective canals, or any of them, of boats, barges, vessels, and other through traffic, and for the use, by such traffic, of the wharves, landing places, and other works of any such canal, upon payment of such through tolls, rates, and charges, and subject to such conditions and restrictions as may be agreed upon between such companies; and for the collection and recovery by any one of the companies on behalf of themselves and the other companies interested of the tolls, rates, and charges payable in respect of such through traffic; and for the division and apportionment of the tolls, rates, and charges; and any such contract may contain provisions for the erection and maintenance of or otherwise for providing warehouses, offices, and other buildings and conveniences, and any other provisions for the purpose of carrying into effect any such arrangement, and any company may apply their funds or moneys for the same purpose.

(2.) Notwithstanding any enactments providing for the charge of equal tolls, rates, and charges, such through tolls, rates, and charges as above mentioned may respectively be computed at a lower toll or rate per mile than the tolls, rates, or charges charged for the passage over and along the same canals of like traffic, not being through traffic, without necessitating or occasioning any reduction of the last-mentioned tolls, rates, or charges.

(3.) Any like contracts and arrangements existing at the passing of this act shall be, and from the respective dates of the making thereof shall be deemed to have been, as valid as if the same had been made after the commencement of this act.

44. For the purpose of facilitating through traffic upon canals, any canal companies upon whose canals through tolls, rates, or charges may be in operation, may establish a canal clearing system, on such principles, in such manner, and subject to such regulations as to the admission of other companies to such system, the retirement of members, the appointment of a committee to conduct the business of the system, and of a secretary or other necessary officers, the mode of conducting business, and such other regulations for carrying into effect such system as may from time to time be approved by the Board of Trade in writing under the hand of the secretary or one of the assistant secretaries of that Board; and any company may apply any funds or money belonging to them, for the purpose of establishing or carrying into effect any such system, and the provisions of sections eleven to twenty-six inclusive of the Railway Clearing Act, 1850,* shall, mutatis mutandis, apply to any canal clearing system when so established.

45.—(1.) Where, on the application of a canal company, it appears to the Board of Trade that any canal or part of a canal belonging to the applicants (hereinafter referred to as an unnecessary canal) is at the time of making the application unnecessary for the purposes of public navigation, or where, on the application of any local authority, or of three or more owners of lands adjoining or near to any canal or part of a canal, it appears to the Board of Trade that that canal or part of a canal (hereinafter referred to as a derelict canal) has for at least three years previously to the making of the application been disused for navigation, or, by reason of the default of the proprietors thereof, has become unfit for navigation, or that the lands adjoining or near thereto have suffered injury by water that has escaped from the derelict canal, and that the proprietors of the derelict canal decline or are unable to effect the repairs necessary to prevent further injury, the Board of Trade may by warrant signed by their secretary authorise the abandonment by the existing proprietors of such unnecessary canal or such derelict canal, and after the granting of the warrant, and the due publication as required by the Board of Trade of a notice of the granting thereof, the Board of Trade may make an order releasing the canal company or other the proprietors of the unnecessary or derelict canal from all liability to maintain the same canal, and from all statutory and other obligations in respect thereof, or of or consequent on the abandonment thereof.

(2.) In the case of an unnecessary canal no warrant of abandonment shall be granted unless the Board of Trade are satisfied—

- (b.) That the application has been expressly authorised by a resolution of a majority of the shareholders of the canal company owning the canal present and voting at an extraordinary or special general meeting of that company;
- (c.) That such public and other notices of the application have been given as the Board of Trade may require;
- (d.) That compensation (the amount thereof to be determined in case of difference as the Board of Trade may prescribe) has been made to all persons entitled to compensation by reason of the proposed abandonment of the canal.

(3.) In the case of a derelict canal the warrant may be granted on the condition that the canal or any part thereof, with all or any of the powers relating thereto, be transferred to any person, body of persons, or local authority, and where any such condition is imposed the Board of Trade may, if they think fit, frame and embody in a provisional order a scheme for the management of the canal or any part thereof.

(4.) The provisional order may provide for the constitution of a body to manage the canal or any part thereof, for the transfer to that body or any local authority of the canal or any part thereof, and of all or any of the powers relating thereto, for the limitation or discharge of any liabilities affecting the canal or the owners thereof for the time being, and for any other matters which may appear to the Board of Trade to be necessary or proper for carrying this section into effect.

(5.) The Board of Trade may submit to Parliament for confirmation any provisional order made by it in pursuance of this section, but any such order shall be of no force unless and until it is confirmed by act of Parliament.

(6.) If while the bill confirming any such order is pending in either House of Parliament, a petition is presented against any order comprised therein, the bill, so far as it relates to the order, may be referred to a select committee, and the petitioner shall be allowed to appear and oppose as in the case of private bills.

(7.) In this section the expression "local authority" means any one of the local authorities mentioned in section seven of this act.

(8.) For the purpose of giving effect to the provisions of this section, the Board of Trade may require the applicants to furnish any evidence in their possession or under their control relative to the application, and may at the expense of the applicants appoint and send an officer to inspect the canal referred to in the application, and to obtain information and evidence in the neighbourhood thereof relative to the proposed abandonment, and may from time to time make regulations as to the mode of making applications, and the nature and mode of publication of notices, and generally as to the conduct of proceedings.

46. In this part of this act the expression "canal company" shall include a "railway and canal company," so far as relating to any canal of any such last-mentioned company.

51 & 52 VICT. CAP. 31.

An Act to make better provision respecting National Defence.

[13th August, 1888.]

4.—(1) Whenever an order for the embodiment of the militia is in force (l), it shall be lawful for her Majesty the Queen, by order signified under the hand of a secretary of state, to declare that it is expedient for the public service that traffic for naval and military purposes shall have on the railways in the United Kingdom, or such of them as is mentioned in the order, precedence over other traffic (m).

Power of government when militia embodied to have precedence in railway traffic.

(2) When any such order is in force as respects a railway, an officer of any part of her Majesty's naval or military forces acting under the authority of a secretary of state or the admiralty may, by warrant under his hand addressed to the railway company working that railway, require that such

(l) By s. 18 of the Militia Act, 1882, 45 & 46 Vict. c. 49, such order may be made "in case of imminent national danger or of great emergency," by the Queen in council by proclamation, the occasion first being communicated to Parliament, if sitting.

(m) Compare 34 & 35 Vict. c. 86, "the Regulation of the Forces Act, 1871," s. 18, ante, p. 305, whereby on emergency the Government may take possession of any railroad or railroad plant.

traffic as may be specified in the warrant shall be received and forwarded on the railway in priority to any other traffic, and the company shall comply with such warrant, and shall, so far as may be necessary, suspend the receiving and forwarding of all other traffic on such railway.

Penalty for refusal or obstruction.

(3) If a director of or person employed by a railway company refuses or fails to comply with the exigency of the warrant, or obstructs the carrying thereof into effect, he shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding fifty pounds, and any such officer as aforesaid may take such means as seem to him necessary for carrying (and if need be, by force) the warrant into effect.

(4) A warrant issued in pursuance of this section shall not be in force for more than one month after the date thereof unless renewed.

(5) An order made by her Majesty in pursuance of this section may be revoked by her Majesty at any time, and upon the militia being ordered to be disembodied shall cease to operate.

Remuneration.

(6) There shall be paid, out of moneys provided by parliament, to a railway company required to receive and forward traffic in pursuance of this section, such reasonable remuneration as may be agreed upon, or in default of agreement may be determined by arbitration.

Compensation.

(7) If any person suffers any loss by reason of anything done under the authority of a secretary of state or the admiralty in pursuance of this section, he may petition the secretary of state or the admiralty for compensation, and the secretary of state or admiralty may pay out of moneys provided by parliament such reasonable compensation as may seem just; but no such compensation shall be paid in respect of any loss arising under a contract which was made subsequently to the date of an order under this section, or which, though made before, might have been determined subsequently to that date.

According to the forms forwarded herewith, observing that the situations of works, &c., should be described in each by reference to the same fixed point; and that it will be convenient if the station nearest to the metropolis, for a main line, or the junction with the main line for a branch railway be adopted as such point of reference.

(a) The remaining bye-laws, and also the Scotch bye-laws are similar to the English set out in vol. I., at p. 509.

(b) See 5 & 6 Vict. c. 55, ante, p. 15, and vol. I. ch. X. sect. 7.

1. Permanent Way.—Whether the line be double throughout, or partly double and partly single, or single throughout with sidings; the distances from the fixed point adopted in the tables, at which the single portions commence and terminate—or, for a single line, at which the sidings commence and terminate; whether the land has been purchased for an additional line of rails, or whether any other arrangements have been made with a view to adding an additional line at a future period; the width of the line at formation level; the gauge; the width between the lines where double; the description of rails employed, with a diagram section, their length, and weight per yard; the description and weight of the chairs, where these are employed; the mode of fixing the chairs and securing the rails; the fastenings adopted for the joints of the rails; the description of sleepers, with their smallest and average scantling and length; their distances from centre to centre if transverse; and if longitudinal the details of any ties by which they are connected; the nature of the ballast, and its depth below the under surface of the sleepers; the description of points adopted; the number and positions of all facing points connected with the main line; and the names of the stations or other places at which engine-turntables are provided.
2. Fences.—Description of fencing adopted on each portion of the line, especially the height of the rails, and distance between post, if post and rail; the height, number of wires, distance between supports, and means of straining, in the case of wire fencing.
3. Drainage.—General description of the drainage employed; and if, on any part of the line, it has been attended with peculiar difficulty, a detailed description should be given.
4. Stations.—Their names, and their distances, at the commencement and termination, respectively, from the fixed point; the gradients on which they are situated and approached; the length of the platforms and their height above the level of the rails; and the positions of and distances between the home and the distant-signals.
5. Width of Line.—The minimum space allowed from a height of 2 feet 6 inches above the rails, between the sides of the widest carriages in use upon the railway and any fixed works, such as pillars and walls at stations, abutments, piers, supports, arches, girders, telegraph posts, sheds, &c., along the line. The minimum section of each tunnel should be appended, showing within it a section of the widest carriage to be used on the line.
6. Bridges and Viaducts.—Drawings in detail of all bridges and viaducts, either over or under the railway, accompanied by sufficient information to allow of the probable strength of each being ascertained by calculation; and by sections showing the distances between the girders and the sides of the widest carriages to be used on the line, when the girders are more than 2 feet 6 inches above the level of the rails.
7. Diagrams of all junction and station arrangements.

XI. Carriages to be used for the Conveyance of Cheap Train Passengers.—The following minimum dimensions should be observed in the construction of these carriages:—They should contain 20 cubic feet of space per passenger; the area of the glass windows should afford 60 superficial inches per passenger; they should be provided with proper means of ventilation, and with at least one lamp to each compartment of each carriage; the seats should be provided with backs, should be 15 inches broad, and should afford 18 inches in width per passenger. Drawings of these carriages, to a scale of not less than 4 feet to an inch, should be supplied, viz. :—

1. An outside elevation, showing the positions of the windows, ventilators, and lamps.
2. A transverse section.
3. An inside plan, showing the arrangements of the several seats, with references by letters, specifying the width and length of each seat, and the number of passengers to be accommodated on each; also a memorandum of the size of the windows and ventilators, stating whether they are fixed or constructed to open and close, and the positions of the lamps for lighting the carriages at night.

B.—MEMORANDUM OF IMPORTANT REQUIREMENTS.

1. The requisite apparatus should be provided at the period of inspection for ensuring an adequate interval of space between following trains.
2. Home-signals and distant-signals for each direction should be supplied at stations and junctions; with extra signals for such sidings as are used either for the arrival or for the departure of trains.
3. The levers by which points and signals are worked should be brought close together, into the position most convenient for the person working them, and should be interlocked. The points should be provided with double connecting rods. Point levers should be sufficiently long to enable the pointsmen to work them without risk or inconvenience, and should not be placed on the ground between the lines of rails. Any signal which is worked by a wire or rod should be so weighted as to fly to or remain at "danger" on the fracture of the wire or rod.
4. The levers by which points and signals are worked should, as a rule, be brought together under cover upon a properly constructed stage, with glass sides inclosing the apparatus. They should be so arranged that while the signals are at danger the points shall be free to move; that a signalman shall be unable to lower a signal for the approach of a train, until after he has set the points in the proper direction for it to pass; that it shall not be possible for him to exhibit at the same moment any two signals that can lead to a collision between two trains; and that, after having lowered his signals to allow a train to pass, he shall not be able to move his points so as to cause an accident, or to admit of a collision between any two trains. The facing points should be provided with apparatus which will ensure the points being in their proper positions before the signals are lowered, and which will prevent the signalman from shifting the points whilst a train is passing them, and, as an additional precaution, means should generally be provided for detecting any failure in the connections between the signal cabins and the points. Every signalman should be able to see the arms and the lights of the home as well as of the distant signals, and the working of the points or of the indicators showing their position, the back lights of the lamps being made as small as possible, having regard to efficiency. When the front lights are visible to the signalman in his cabin no back lights should be provided. The fixed lights in the signal-cabins should be screened off, so as not to be mistakeable during fogs for the signals exhibited to control the running of trains. If, from any unavoidable cause, the arm or light of any signal cannot be seen by the signalman, a repeater should be provided in the cabin. Clocks should be placed in conspicuous positions for the use of the signalmen.
5. Facing points should be avoided as far as possible, but when used they should be secured by facing point locks and locking bars; the length of the locking bars should exceed the greatest distance between the adjacent wheels of passengers' carriages, and the stock rails should be tied to gauge with iron or steel ties. When facing points cannot be dispensed with, they should be placed as near as possible to the levers by which they are worked or bolted, and in no instance at a greater distance than 180 yards from those levers. All points, whether facing or trailing, should be worked or bolted by rods and not by wires.

6. It being necessary that a uniform system of signals should be adopted on all railways, the semaphore arms should, at junctions, be on separate posts or on brackets; and at stations, when there is more than one arm on one side of a post, they should be made to apply,—the first or upper arm to the line on the left, the second arm to the line next in order from the left, and so on; but in cases where the main or more important line is not the one on the left, separate signal posts should be provided, or the arms should be on brackets. The distant-signals should be distinguished by notches cut out of the ends of the semaphore arms where such are employed. In no case should a distant-signal arm be placed above a home-signal arm on the same post for trains going in the same direction. In the case of sidings, a low and short arm, distinct from the arm or arms for the passenger lines, may be employed.

7. The junctions between passenger lines and goods and mineral lines and sidings should be protected by home and distant signals. The sidings should be so arranged, that the shunting carried on at them shall present the least possible obstruction to the passenger lines. There should be safety points upon each goods and mineral line and siding, with the points closed against the passenger lines and interlocked with the signals. In the case of sidings joining single lines on favourable gradients, where the train staff and ticket system is in use for working the traffic, a key attached to the staff may be used for opening the sidings, and signals may be dispensed with.

8. When a junction is situated near to a passenger station, or is connected with goods or mineral sidings, the platforms and sidings should be so arranged as to prevent, as far as possible, any necessity for shunting over the junction.

9. The junctions of all railways should, in ordinary cases be formed as double-line junctions.

10. The lines of railway leading to the passenger platforms should be so arranged that the engines, as they arrive at and depart from a station, shall always be in front of the passenger trains; and that, in the case of double lines or of passing places on single lines, each line shall have its own platform.

11. Platforms should be continuous, and not less than 6 feet wide for stations of small traffic, nor less than 12 feet wide for important stations; the descent at the ends of the platforms should be by ramps, and not by steps. Pillars or columns, for the support of roofs or other fixed works, should not be nearer to the edge of the platform than 6 feet. It is considered desirable that the height of the platforms above the rails should not be less than 2 feet 6 inches. The lines should be laid down so as to leave as little space as possible between the edges of the platforms and those of the continuous footboards on the carriages. Shelter should be provided on every platform, and conveniences where necessary.

Foot-bridges over or subways under the line should be provided for passengers to cross the railway at all stations of any importance.

12. When stations occur on or near a viaduct or bridge under the railway, a parapet or fence on each side should be provided, sufficient to prevent passengers falling from the viaduct or bridge in the dark. Viaducts under the railway should be provided with handrails and with projecting platforms for the protection and escape of the platelayers. Viaducts of timber and iron should be provided with manholes and other facilities for inspection.

13. The steps of staircases approaching stations, and of foot bridges over the lines, and of foot-subways, should not be less than 11 inches in the tread, nor more than 7 inches in the rise, and all such staircases should be provided with efficient handrails.

14. Clocks should be provided at all stations in positions visible from the line.

15. Turntables for the engines, of sufficient diameter to enable the longest engines and tenders in use on the line to be turned without being uncoupled, should be erected at terminal stations, and at junctions and other places at which the engines require to be turned, except in cases of short lines not exceeding 15 miles in length, where the stations are not at a greater distance than 3 miles apart, and the railway company is willing to give an undertaking to stop all trains at all stations. Care should be taken to keep all turntables at safe distances from the adjacent lines of rails, so that engines, waggons, or carriages, when being turned, may not foul other lines, or endanger the traffic upon them.

16. No station should be constructed, and no siding should join a passenger line, on a steeper gradient than 1 in 260, except where it is unavoidable. When the line is double, and the gradient at a station or siding-junction is necessarily steeper, and when danger is to be apprehended from vehicles running back, a catch-siding, with points weighted for the siding, should be provided further down the incline than the passenger platform, siding-junction, or goods-yard, to intercept runaway vehicles. Under similar circumstances, when the line is single, in the case, 1st, of a station, a second line should be laid down, a second platform should be constructed, and a catch-siding similarly provided; and in the case, 2nd, of a siding-junction, means should be provided for placing the whole train in sidings, clear of the main line before any shunting operations are commenced.

17. Cast-iron must not be used for railway under-bridges, except in the form of arched ribbed girders, where the material is in compression.

In a cast-iron arched bridge, or in the cast-iron girders of an over-bridge, the breaking weight of the girders should be not less than three times the permanent load due to the weight of the super-structure, added to six times the greatest moving load that can be brought upon it.

In a wrought-iron or steel bridge the greatest load which can be brought upon it, added to the weight of the super-structure, should not produce a greater strain on any part of the material than five tons, where wrought-iron is used, or six tons and a half, where steel is employed, per square inch.

The engineer responsible for any steel structure should forward to the Board of Trade a certificate to the effect that the steel employed is either cast steel, or steel made by some process of fusion subsequently rolled or hammered, and of a quality possessing considerable toughness and ductility, together with a statement of all the tests to which it has been subjected.

18. The heaviest engines, boiler trucks, or travelling cranes in use on railways afford a measure of the greatest moving loads to which a bridge can be subjected. These rules apply equally to the main and the transverse girders.

19. It is desirable that viaducts should, as far as possible, be wholly constructed of brick or stone, and in all such cases they should have parapet walls on each side, not under 4 feet 6 inches in height above the level of the rails, and not less than 18 inches thick.

Where it is not practicable to construct the viaducts of brick or stone, and iron or steel girders are made use of, it is considered best that in important viaducts the permanent way should be laid between the main girdlers. If, however, in such viaducts the main girders are placed below the level of the rails, substantial parapets not under 4 feet 6 inches in height must be provided. In important viaducts, substantial guards should be fixed outside, above the level of and as close to the rails as possible, but not so as to interfere with the steps or any of the working parts of the engine or trains.

Where iron is made use of for the construction of the abutments or piers which are intended to support or carry the iron girders of high bridges and viaducts, it must be distinctly understood that these abutments or piers should not consist of cast-iron columns of small size, such as 12, 15, or 18 inches in diameter.

In all large structures of this kind the stability of the work must be such as will provide for a wind pressure of 56 lbs. on the square foot.

20. All castings for use in railway structures should, where practicable, be cast in a similar position to that which they are intended to occupy when fixed.

21. The upper surfaces of the wooden platforms of bridges and viaducts should be protected from fire.

22. The joints of the rails should be secured by means of fish-plates, or by some other equally secure fastening. The weight of the cast-iron chairs on branch lines, or lines on which the traffic will be small and light, and where it will be worked by engines of ordinary construction, should not be less than 26 lbs. each; but on main lines, and where heavy traffic may be worked at high speeds, the chairs should weigh not less than 35 lbs.

23. When chairs are used to support the rails they should be secured to the sleepers, at least partially, by iron spikes or bolts. With flat-bottomed rails, when there are no chairs, or with bridge rails, flang or other through-bolts should be used, at least at the joints and at some intermediate places.

24. No standing work (other than a passenger platform) should be nearer to the side of the widest carriage in use on the line than 2 feet 4 inches, at any point between the level of 2 feet 6 inches above the rails and the level of the upper parts of the highest carriage doors. This applies to all arches, abutments, piers, supports, girdlers, tunnels, bridges, roofs, walls, posts, tanks, signals, fences, and other works, and to all projections at the side of a railway constructed to any gauge.

25. The intervals between adjacent lines of rails, or between lines of rails and sidings, should not be less than 6 feet.

26. At all level crossings of public roads the gates should be so constructed as to close across the railway, as well as across the road, at each side of the crossing, and a lodge or station house should be provided, as is required by Act of Parliament. The gates should not be capable of being opened at the same time for the road and the railway, and all sidings and connections should be placed so that the shunting can be done without interfering with the level crossing. When a level crossing occurs at a station, there should be a box, if there is not a lodge, at the gates, for the use of the gate-keeper, unless the gates are worked from a signal cabin. Wooden gates are considered preferable to iron gates for closing across the railway.

27. Where public roads are crossed on the level, signals in one or both directions, interlocked with the gates, and a foot-bridge over or a subway under the line may be required. At public footpath level crossings a foot-bridge over or a subway under the line may be required.

28. Mile-posts and quarter and half-mile posts and gradient-boards should be provided along the line.

29. Tunnels and long viaducts should in all cases be constructed with recesses for the escape of the platelayers.

30. In all curves where the radius is 10 chains or less, a check-rail should be placed inside the inner rail of the curve.

C.—MODES OF WORKING SINGLE LINES.

In the case of a line being single, a certificate, under the seal, and signed by the Chairman and Secretary of the Company, should be sent to the Board of Trade, through the inspecting officer, to the effect that one of the two following modes of working single lines will be adopted, namely:—

- I. That only one engine in steam, or two or more engines coupled together shall be allowed to be upon the single line at one and the same time.
- II. That the line shall be worked by TRAIN-STAFF, in the mode described in the following amended regulations, combined with the absolute block-telegraph system:—

Rules for Working the Single Line between A., B., C., &c.

1. Either a train-staff or a train-ticket is to be carried with each engine or train to and fro, and for this purpose

	Colour of Staff. and Ticket.	Form of Staff. and Ticket.
[One, two, or more] train-staffs and sets of train-tickets will be employed, viz.:—

One between A. and B.	.	.	.	Red.	Square.
One between B. and C.	.	.	.	Blue.	Round.

2. No engine or train is to be permitted to leave or pass either of the staff-stations, A., B., or C., unless the staff for the portion of line over which it is to travel is then at the station; and no engineman is on any account to leave or pass a staff-station without seeing such train-staff.

3. If no second engine or train is intended to follow, the staff is to be given to the engineman or guard.

4. If other engines or trains are intended to follow before the staff can be returned a train-ticket, stating "staff following," is to be given to the engineman of the leading engine, or the engineman or guard of the leading train, and so on with any other except the last, the staff itself being sent with the last. After the staff has been sent away, no other engine or train is to leave the staff-station under any circumstances whatever until its return.

5. The train-tickets are to be kept in a box fastened by an inside spring, and the key to open the box is the train-staff, so that a ticket cannot be obtained without the train-staff. The train-staff is to lock the box in being taken out of it.

6. The train-staffs, the train-tickets, and the ticket-boxes are to be painted or printed in different colours, red for the line between A. and B.; blue for that between B. & C., &c.; the inside springs and the keys on the staffs being so arranged that the red staff cannot open the blue box, nor the blue staff the red box, and so forth. This is to prevent mistakes.

7. The ticket-boxes are to be fixed by brackets in the booking-offices at the staff-stations, the brackets being turned up at the ends to receive the train-staffs when they are at the stations.

8. The station master, the clerk in charge, the inspector, or the person in charge for the time at a staff-station, is the sole person authorised to receive, exhibit, or deliver the staff or ticket.

9. The usual special train tail-signal, "engine following," is to be used when a ticket is given, for the guidance of the platelayers and gatekeepers upon the line.

10. When a ballast train has to work on the line, the staff is to be given to the engineman or guard in charge of it. This will close the line whilst the ballast train is at work. The ballast train must proceed afterwards to one of the staff-stations to open the line before the ordinary traffic can be resumed.

11. In the event of an engine or train breaking down between two staff-stations, the fireman is to take the train-staff to the staff station in the direction whence assistance may be expected, that the staff may be at that station on the arrival of an engine. Should the engine or train that fails be in possession of a train-ticket instead of the staff, assistance can only come from the station at which the train-staff has been left. The fireman will accompany any assisting engine to the place where he left his own engine.

N.B.—The train-staff may either be fixed in a socket on the engine or tender or carried over the shoulder by means of a cross-belt.

D.—PRECAUTIONS RECOMMENDED IN THE WORKING OF RAILWAYS.

1. There should be a break-vehicle with a guard in it at the tail of every train; this vehicle should be provided with a raised roof and extended sides, glazed to the front and back; and it should be the duty of the guard to keep a constant look-out from it along his train.

2. All passenger carriages should be provided with continuous footboards extending throughout the whole length of each carriage and as far as the outer ends of the buffer castings. As passenger carriages now pass from one company's line to another's, it is essential for the public safety that although the widths of the carriages on the different lines differ from each other, the widths across the carriages from the outside of the continuous footboard on one side to the outside of the continuous footboard on the opposite side should be identical for the carriages of all railway companies, so that the lines of rails may be laid at the proper distance from the edges of the passenger platforms.

3. There should be means of intercommunication between a guard at the tail of every passenger train and the engine driver, and between the passengers and the servants of the company, as required by the Legislature.

4. Continuous breaks under the control of the engine driver and each guard should be employed with all passenger trains. In the opinion of the Board of Trade, which has been fully expressed in recent correspondence, due security will not have been taken for the public safety until some system or systems of continuous breaks has or have been universally adopted, instantaneous in action, capable of being applied by engine driver or guard, and automatic in case of accident.

5. The tyres of all wheels should be so secured to the rims of the wheels as to prevent them from flying open when they are fractured.

6. The engines employed with passenger trains should be of a steady description, with not less than six wheels, with a long wheel-base, with the centre of gravity in front of the driving wheels, and with the motions balanced. They should not be run tender or tank first.

7. Records should be carefully kept of the work performed by the wearing parts of the rolling stock, to afford practical information in regard to them, and to prevent them from being retained in use longer than is desirable.

8. All lines should be worked on the block telegraph system. In case of junctions the block system should be employed for preventing trains, which can come into collision through overrunning signals, from approaching a junction simultaneously. The signal cabins should be commodious, and should be supplied with clocks, with record books, with a separate needle for signalling the trains on each line of rails, and with an extra needle or telephone for other necessary communications between the signalmen. The point levers, signal levers, and block instruments should be so placed in the cabins that signalmen when working them should have the best possible view of the railway.

9. When drovers or other persons are permitted to travel with goods or cattle trains, suitable vehicles should be provided for their accommodation near the front of such trains.

10. Luggage should not be carried on the roofs of railway carriages.

11. The names of the stations should be marked on the lamps, besides being shown on other conspicuous places.

ORDER IN COUNCIL UNDER THE 106TH SECTION OF THE EXPLOSIVES ACT, 1875 (a).

At the Court at Osborne House, Isle of Wight, the 5th day of August, 1875.

Present :

[See p. 323.]

The Queen's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

Whereas by the 106th section of the Explosives Act, 1875, it is enacted, that it shall be lawful for her Majesty from time to time by Order in Council to define, for the purposes of the said Act, the composition, quality and character of any explosive, and to classify explosives :

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the above-mentioned provision of the said Act, her Majesty is pleased by and with the advice of her Privy Council to order as follows :

For the purposes of the said Act explosives shall be divided into seven classes, as follows :—

Class 1	Gunpowder.
Class 2	Nitrate mixture.
Class 3	Nitro-compound.
Class 4	Chlorate mixture.
Class 5	Fulminate.
Class 6	Ammunition.
Class 7	Firework.

And when an explosive falls within the description of more than one class, it shall be deemed to belong exclusively to the latest of the classes within the description of which it falls.

CLASS 1.—Gunpowder Class.

The term “gunpowder” means exclusively gunpowder ordinarily so called.

CLASS 2.—Nitrate Mixture Class.

The term “nitrate mixture” means any preparation other than gunpowder ordinarily so called, formed by the mechanical mixture of a nitrate with any form of carbon or with any carbonaceous substance not possessed of explosive properties, whether sulphur be or be not added to such preparation, and whether such preparation be or be not mechanically mixed with any other non-explosive substance.

The nitrate mixture class comprises such explosives as pyrolithe, pudrolithe, poudre saxifragine and any preparation coming within the above definition.

CLASS 3.—Nitro-Compound Class.

The term “nitro-compound” means any mechanical compound possessed of explosive properties or capable of combining with metals to form an explosive compound, which is produced by the chemical action of nitric acid (whether mixed or not with sulphuric acid), or of a nitrate mixed with sulphuric acid upon any carbonaceous substance, whether such compound is mechanically mixed with other substances or not.

The nitro-compound class has two divisions :

Division 1 comprises such explosives as nitro-glycerine, dynamite, litho-fracteur, dualine, glyoxiline, methylic nitrate, and any chemical compound or mechanically mixed preparation which consists either wholly or partly of nitro-glycerine or of some other liquid nitro-compound.

(a) From the London Gazette of the 10th August, 1875.

Division 2 comprises such explosives as gun-cotton ordinarily so called, gun-paper, xyloidine, gun sawdust, nitrated gun-cotton, cotton gunpowder, Schultz's powder, nitro-mannite, picrates, picric powder, and any nitro-compound as before defined which is not comprised in the first division.

CLASS 4.—Chlorate Mixture Class.

The term "chlorate mixture" means any explosive containing a chlorate.

The chlorate mixture class has two divisions :

Division 1 comprises such explosives as Horsley's blasting powder, Brain's blasting powder, and any chlorate preparation which consists partly of nitro-glycerine or of some other liquid nitro-compound.

Division 2 comprises such explosives as Horsley's original blasting powder, Erkardt's powder, Reveley's powder, Hochstalter's blasting charges, Reichen's blasting charges, teutonite, chlorated gun-cotton, and any chlorate mixture as before defined which is not comprised in the first division.

CLASS 5.—Fulminate Class.

The term "fulminate" means any chemical compound or mechanical mixture, whether included in the foregoing classes or not, which from its great susceptibility to detonation is suitable for employment in percussion caps or any other appliances for developing detonation, or which, from its extreme sensibility to explosion and from its great instability (that is to say, readiness to undergo decomposition from very slight exciting causes) is especially dangerous.

This class consists of two divisions :

Division 1 comprises such compounds as the fulminates of silver and of mercury and preparations of these substances, such as are used in percussion caps ; and any preparation consisting of a mixture of a chlorate with phosphorus or certain descriptions of phosphorus compounds with or without the addition of carbonaceous matter, and any preparation consisting of a mixture of a chlorate with sulphur, or with a sulphuret with or without carbonaceous matter.

Division 2 comprises such substances as the chloride and the iodide of nitrogen, fulminating gold and silver, diazobenzol and the nitrate of diazobenzol.

CLASS 6.—Ammunition Class.

The term "ammunition" means an explosive of any of the foregoing classes when enclosed in any case or contrivance or otherwise, adapted or prepared so as to form a cartridge or charge for small arms, cannon or any other weapon, or for blasting, or to form any safety or other fuze for blasting, or for shells, or to form any tube for firing explosives, or to form a percussion cap, a detonator, a fog signal, a shell, a torpedo, a war rocket, or other contrivance other than a firework.

The term "percussion cap" does not include a detonator.

The term "detonator" means a capsule or case which is of such strength and construction, and contains an explosive of the fulminate-explosive class in such quantity that the explosion of one capsule or case will communicate the explosion to other like capsules or cases.

The term "safety fuze" means a fuze for blasting which burns and does not explode, and which does not contain its own means of ignition, and which is of such strength and construction, and contains an explosive in such quantity, that the burning of such fuze will not communicate laterally with other like fuzes.

The ammunition class has three divisions :

Division 1 comprises exclusively safety cartridges ; safety fuzes for blasting ; railway fog signals ; percussion caps.

Division 2 comprises any ammunition as before defined which does not contain its own means of ignition and is not included in Division 1,—such as cartridges for small arms which are not safety cartridges ; cartridges and charges for cannon, shells, mines, blasting, or other like purposes ; shells and torpedoes containing any explosives ; fuzes for blasting which are not safety fuzes ; fuzes for shells ; tubes for firing explosives ; war rockets which do not contain their own means of ignition.

Division 3 comprises any ammunition as before defined which contains its own means of ignition and is not included in Division 1,—such as detonators, cartridges for small arms which are not safety cartridges ; fuzes for blasting which are not safety fuzes ; fuzes for shells ; tubes for firing explosives which do contain their own means of ignition.

By ammunition containing its own means of ignition is meant ammunition having an arrangement, whether attached to it or forming part of it, which is adapted to explode or fire the same by friction or percussion.

CLASS 7.—Firework Class.

The term “firework” comprises firework composition and manufactured fireworks.

Division 1.—The term “firework composition” means any chemical compound or mechanically mixed preparation of an explosive or inflammable nature which is used for the purpose of making manufactured fireworks, and is not included in the former class of explosives, and also any coloured fire composition.

Division 2.—The term “manufactured firework” means any explosive of the foregoing classes, and any firework composition, when such explosive or composition is enclosed in any case or contrivance, or is otherwise manufactured so as to form a squib, cracker, serpent, rocket (other than a war-rocket), maroon, star, lance, wheel, Chinese fire, Roman candle, or other article adapted for the production of pyrotechnic effects or pyrotechnic signals.

C. L. PEEL.

BYELAWS UNDER THE EXPLOSIVES ACT, 1875.

BYELAWS made with the sanction of the Board of Trade for the Regulation of the Loading, Unloading, and Conveyance of Explosives on the Railways of the Railway Company (hereinafter called the Company) made under and in pursuance of the Explosives Act, 1875 (38 Vict. c. 17), and every other power and authority vested in the Company.

(a.) The words and expressions used in the following byelaws shall respectively have and include the several meanings assigned to them or defined in “The Explosives Act, 1875,” and in the order of her Majesty in Council, dated the 5th of August, 1875, made in pursuance of sect. 106 of the said Act, unless the subject or context otherwise requires.

(b.) The term “explosive” means and shall include and apply to every article and substance mentioned as or defined to be an explosive in and by the 3rd section of the said Act, or the said Order in Council, or any Order in Council which may hereafter be made in pursuance of the said Act.

(c.) Where by any of these bye-laws any time is prescribed or allowed for giving any notice to the company, or for the doing of any act by the company, such time shall be computed exclusively of Sunday, Christmas Day, Good Friday, and any statutory Bank Holiday.

1. No carriage containing any explosive which the company shall, by any notice or regulation for the time being in force, notify that they will not receive, forward, or carry, shall be delivered to the company for conveyance, or be brought, sent, or forwarded to or upon any railway of the company.

2. No person shall send to the company any consignment of explosive, unless he has given to the company forty-eight hours previous notice in writing of his intention to send such consignment, and stating the true name, description, and quantity of the explosive proposed to be conveyed, and his own name and address, and also the name and address of the proposed consignee, and has had an intimation in writing from the company that they are prepared to receive such consignment.

3. Consignments of explosive shall be sent to the company's forwarding station, and shall be received by their servants, only at such times during the hours of daylight, that is to say, between sunrise and sunset, as the company may appoint; and every consignment and package containing any explosives proposed to be conveyed on any railway of the company, shall immediately on the arrival thereof at the company's station, wharf, or railway, be delivered to and be received by the company's servants authorised to receive dangerous goods, and by no other person whatsoever.

4. No explosive shall be loaded or unloaded on the company's premises by the consignor or consignee thereof, or their servants, except between sunrise and sunset.

5. Safety cartridges and percussion caps and safety-fuze (for blasting), may be conveyed by passenger train, provided all due precautions be taken by the sender for the prevention of accident by fire or explosion; also railway fog signals for the company's own use; but, except as aforesaid, no explosive whatever shall be conveyed by passenger train.

6. Gunpowder, or any explosive made with gunpowder, included in the 2nd division of the 6th (ammunition) class of explosives, as classified by the said Order in Council of the 5th of August 1875, if packed in metallic cylinders of a pattern approved by the company, and similar in construction and security to those used by Government for the conveyance of small quantities of gunpowder by railway, may be conveyed along with ordinary goods traffic in a carriage not containing any article or substance liable to cause or communicate fire or explosion.

7. No explosive of the 5th (fulminate) class, nor any explosive of the 6th (ammunition) class, containing its own means of ignition, nor any explosive of the 7th (firework) class, shall be conveyed in the same carriage with any explosive not of the class and division to which it belongs, unless it be sufficiently separated therefrom to prevent any fire or explosion which may take place in one such explosive being communicated to another.

8. There shall not be conveyed in the same carriage with any explosive, any lucifer matches, fuzes, pipe-lights, acids, naphtha, paraffin, petroleum, to which the Petroleum Act, 1871, or any Act repealing or amending the same applies, or any other volatile spirit, or substance liable to give off an inflammable vapour at a temperature below 100° Fahrenheit, or liable to spontaneous ignition, or to cause or communicate fire or explosion.

9. On each side of every carriage containing any explosive there shall be affixed in conspicuous characters, by means of a securely attached label or otherwise, the word "explosive" or the name of the explosive with the word "explosive," except when containing gunpowder or ammunition packed in metallic cylinders as provided for in the 6th of these byelaws; and every carriage containing explosive shall be placed as far as practicable from the engine attached to the train.

10. Not more than five carriages containing explosive shall be loaded or unloaded at or on any railway station or wharf of the company, or be attached to or conveyed by any one train at any one time; and the quantity of explosive to be contained or loaded in any one such carriage at any one time shall not exceed 10,000 lbs. in weight; provided always that the quantity of explosive to be contained or loaded in any one such carriage, shall not exceed one ton in weight, unless the carriage shall be a covered van.

11. If the explosive to be conveyed is not effectually protected from accident by fire from without, by being placed in the interior of a carriage which is enclosed on all sides with wood or metal, then the explosive shall be completely covered with painted cloth, tarpaulin, or other suitable material so as to effectually protect it against communication of fire.

12. There shall not be any iron or steel in the interior of the portion of the carriage where the explosive is deposited, unless the same be covered either permanently or temporarily with leather, wood, cloth, sheet-lead, or other suitable material.

13. When the stowing of explosive in any carriage or the loading or unloading of any explosive is undertaken by any person other than the company, all due precautions shall be taken by such person by careful stowing and loading and unloading and otherwise to prevent and secure such explosive from being brought into contact with or endangered by any other article or substance liable to cause fire or explosion.

14. In loading or unloading any explosive, the casks and packages containing the same shall, as far as practicable, be passed from hand to hand and not rolled upon the ground, and in no case shall any such casks or packages be rolled, unless hides, cloths, or sheets have been previously laid down on the platform or ground over which the same are to be rolled. Casks or packages containing explosive shall not be thrown or dropped down, but shall be carefully deposited and stowed.

15. No person while employed in loading, stowing in any carriage, or unloading any explosive included in classes 1, 2, 3, 4, or 5 of the classification of explosives as classified by the said Order in Council, dated August 5th, 1875, shall wear boots or shoes with steel or iron nails, steel or iron heels, or tips of any kind, or have about his person any lucifer match, explosive, or means of striking a light; and all persons employed in the loading, stowing, or unloading of any explosive shall, while such loading, stowing, or unloading is going on, abstain from smoking.

16. Notice to admit.

40. Either party may give to the other party a notice in writing to admit any documents saving all just exceptions, and in case of neglect or refusal to admit after such notice, the costs of proving such documents shall be paid by the party so neglecting or refusing, whatever the result of the application may be, unless at the hearing the Commissioners certify that the refusal to admit was reasonable, and no costs of proving any document shall be allowed unless such notice be given, except where the omission to give the notice is in the opinion of the taxing officer a saving of expense.

Notice of Discontinuance.

Notice where application withdrawn or settled.

41. When any application made to the Commissioners has been withdrawn or settled, the applicant shall immediately thereupon give notice thereof to the Registrar.

Witnesses.

Attendance of witnesses.

42. The attendance of witnesses with or without documents shall be enforced by subpoena which may be sued out by either party requiring the attendance of such witness. Such subpoena shall be according to Forms No. 6 or 7 in the First Schedule hereto, and shall be sealed by the Registrar with the seal of the Commission, and may be served in any part of the United Kingdom. The witnesses shall be entitled to the same protection as when subpoenaed or cited to attend a superior court, and the laws and practice in force for the time being relating to witnesses in a superior court shall apply to them in proceedings before the Commissioners.

Appointing Date of Hearing.

43. The applicant, at the time of filing his reply (if any), or if the defendant made default in putting in his answer, or at any time after the pleadings are closed, may apply to the Registrar to fix a date for the hearing. If the applicant does not within six weeks after the close of the pleadings, or within such extended time as the Commissioners may allow, apply to the Registrar to fix a date for the hearing, the defendant may do so. No such application shall be made without two days' previous notice in writing to the opposite party. If either of the parties fail to appear on the application to fix a day for hearing, notice of the day appointed shall be served within a time to be named by the Registrar.

Application to fix date of hearing.

The parties shall leave with the Registrar, six days before the day fixed for the hearing, any maps, plans, time-tables, and special Acts or other documents referred to in the application, answer, reply, or other pleading, or which may be useful in explaining or supporting the same.

Depositing maps, plans, &c.

The Hearing.

44. If the applicant does not appear at the time and place appointed for the hearing, the Commissioners may dismiss the application, and if the defendant does not appear at such time and place, and the Commissioners are satisfied that the notice of the hearing was duly served, they may hear and determine the application ex parte, and if at any adjournment of the hearing the parties or either of them do not appear, the Commissioners may decide the case in their absence.

Power of Commissioners to proceed ex parte.

Evidence at the Hearing.

45. The witnesses at the hearing shall be examined viâd voce, but the Commissioners may at any time, and whether before or at the hearing, for sufficient reason order that any particular facts may be proved by affidavit, or that the affidavit of any witness may be read at the hearing on such conditions as they may think reasonable, or that any witness, whose attendance ought for some sufficient cause to be dispensed with, be examined by interrogatories or otherwise before a person to be appointed by them for that purpose, provided that when it appears to the Commissioners that the other party bonâ fide desires the production of a witness for cross-examination, and that such witness can be produced, an order shall not be made authorising the evidence of such witness to be given by affidavit.

To be viâd voce, except in certain cases, and whether before or at the hearing.

Depositions taken before a person authorised to take them may be read at the hearing without calling the deponents unless the Commissioners otherwise order.

Commissioners may require further evidence.

46. The Commissioners may require further evidence to be given either vide voce, or by affidavit, or by deposition taken before a person appointed by them for that purpose.

Hearing to proceed from day to day.

47. The hearing of the case when once commenced shall proceed, so far as in the judgment of the Commissioners may be practicable and convenient, from day to day.

View.

Power of Commissioners to view.

48. In any case in which, in the opinion of the Commissioners, a view is necessary or desirable, it may be had by one or more Commissioners as they may direct.

Judgment of Commissioners.

Judgment of Commissioners.

49. After hearing the case the Commissioners may dismiss the application, or make an order thereon in favour of the defendants, or reserve their decision, or make such other order upon the application as may be warranted by the evidence, and may seem to them just.

May be in writing and sent or delivered to the parties.

50. The Commissioners may give their decision in writing, signed by them, and it may be sent or delivered to the respective parties, and it shall not be necessary to hold a court merely for the purpose of giving such decision.

Costs.

Costs, how taxed.

51. Costs shall be taxed upon the order of the Commissioners under which they are payable, and such costs shall, if required, be taxed by the Registrar or such other person as the Commissioners may direct.

Alteration or Rescission of Orders.

Alteration or rescission of orders.

52. Any application to the Commissioners to review and rescind or vary any decision or order previously made by them, and not being a decision or order upon an interlocutory application, nor under Rule 14 of these Rules, shall be made within twenty-eight days after the said decision or order shall have been communicated to the parties unless the Commissioners think fit to enlarge the time for making such application.

Any application to the Commissioners to review and rescind or vary any decision or order previously made by them upon an interlocutory application shall be made within four days after the said decision or order shall have been communicated to the parties, unless the Commissioners think fit to enlarge the time for making such application.

Every application under this Rule shall be made by motion; and no such motion shall be made without two clear days' previous notice in writing to the Registrar and to the parties affected thereby.

Interlocutory Applications.

53. Where not otherwise provided for in these Rules, all interlocutory applications shall, unless otherwise specially ordered, be heard by the Registrar upon summons duly served, and may be determined in a summary way. Such application may, if the Registrar thinks fit, be adjourned, either before or at the time of hearing before him, into Court for hearing before the Commissioners.

Interlocutory applications.

Any person affected by any order or decision of the Registrar in any matter involving questions of law may appeal therefrom to the ex officio Commissioner, and in any other matter to the Commissioners. Such appeal shall be by way of indorsement on the summons by the Registrar at the request of any party or by notice in writing to attend before the Commissioners without a fresh summons. Such notice shall be given to the Registrar and to the opposite party within four days after the decision complained of, or such further time as may be allowed by the Registrar or by the ex officio Commissioner, or the Commissioners.

An appeal from the Registrar's decision shall be no stay of proceedings unless so ordered by the Registrar or by the ex officio Commissioner, or the Commissioners.

Affidavits.

54. Affidavits shall be confined to such facts as the witness is able of his own knowledge to prove, except on interlocutory proceedings, on which statements as to his belief with the grounds thereof may be admitted. The costs of every affidavit which shall unnecessarily set forth matters of hearsay or argumentative matter or copies of or extracts from documents shall be paid by the party using or filing the same.

Affidavits, how framed.

55. Any affidavit used in any proceeding before the Commissioners may be sworn as follows:

Before whom sworn.

In the United Kingdom before any of the said Commissioners or the Registrar, or the officer appointed by the Commissioners to administer oaths in proceedings before them (and in these cases without the payment of any fee), or before a person authorised to administer oaths in any of the Superior Courts, or before a Commissioner empowered to take or receive affidavits, or before a justice of the peace for the county or place where it is sworn or made.

In Scotland, in addition to the above-mentioned persons, before any sheriff-depute or his substitute or a justice of the peace.

In any place out of the British dominions, before a British minister, consul, or vice-consul.

The Commissioners shall take judicial notice of the seal or signature, as the case may be, of any such court, judge, minister, consul, or vice-consul attached, appended, or subscribed to any such affidavit.

Filing of, and giving office copies of, and of other documents.

56. Affidavits used in any proceedings before the Commissioners shall be filed in their office, and office copies of the same and of other documents filed in their office may be procured by the parties on application to the Registrar.

Computation of Time.

Time, how computed.

57. In all cases in which any particular number of days, not expressed to be clear days, is prescribed by the Railway and Canal Traffic Acts, 1873 and 1888, or by these Rules, the same shall be reckoned exclusively of the first day and inclusively of the last day, unless the last day shall happen to fall on a Sunday, Christmas day, or Good Friday, or a day appointed for a public fast or thanksgiving, in which case the time shall be reckoned exclusively of that day also.

What days to be excluded.

58. The days between Thursday next before and the Wednesday next after Easter day, and the day appointed to be kept as the Queen's birthday, and Whit Monday and Whit Tuesday, and Christmas day, and the three following days, shall not be reckoned or included in any proceedings under the Railway and Canal Traffic Acts, 1873 and 1888.

Pleadings in the vacations.

59. The time between the 12th day of August and the 24th day of October in England and Ireland, and in Scotland between the 20th day of March and the 12th day of May, and between the 20th day of July and the 15th day of October, shall be reckoned in the computation of the times appointed or allowed by these Rules for filing, amending, or delivering, unless otherwise ordered.

60. The Registrar's office shall be open daily from 10 o'clock in the forenoon till 4 o'clock in the afternoon, or till such later time as the Commissioners may direct, except upon Saturday, when it shall be open from 10 o'clock in the forenoon till 2 o'clock in the afternoon, and except between the 12th day of August and the 24th day of October, when the office is to be open from 11 o'clock in the forenoon till 1 o'clock in the afternoon.

The office shall be closed on the following days, namely, Good Friday, Easter Eve, Monday and Tuesday in Easter week, Christmas day and the three following days, and the day appointed to be kept as the Queen's birthday, and Whit Monday and Whit Tuesday.

Sittings of the Court.

Vacations.

61. Every ex officio Commissioner shall be entitled to the same vacations as are observed in the Superior Court of which he is a member. During the periods observed as vacations in the Superior Courts the Lord Chancellor in England, the Lord President of the Court of Session in Scotland, and the Lord Chancellor in Ireland, may appoint any Judge of a Superior Court to take the place and perform the whole functions of the ex officio Commissioner for these parts of the United Kingdom respectively, in case of the ex officio Commissioner being absent or temporarily unable to fulfil his duties.

Adjournment.

62. The Commissioners may from time to time adjourn any proceedings before them.

Power of Commissioners to adjourn.

Amendment.

63. The Commissioners may at any stage of the proceedings allow any pleadings to be amended, or may order to be struck out any matters which may tend to prejudice, embarrass, or delay the fair hearing of the case, and all such amendments shall be made as may be necessary for the purpose of determining the real questions in controversy between the parties.

Power of Commissioners to amend.

Formal Objections.

64. No proceedings before the Commissioners shall be defeated by any formal objection.

Formal objections not to prevail.

Practice of Superior Courts, when applicable.

65. The general principles of practice in the Superior Courts may be adopted and applied at the discretion of the Commissioners to proceedings before them.

Discretion of Commissioners in cases not expressly provided for.

Where, in any complaint or other proceeding before the Commissioners, the defendant has his domicile or principal place of business or head office in England, such proceedings shall be deemed to be proceedings falling to be dealt with by the ex officio Commissioner for England, in so far as he is, by statute or any Rule of Court, charged with any duty in connection therewith, and in like manner, where the defendant has his domicile or principal place of business or head office in Scotland or Ireland, the proceedings shall be dealt with by the ex officio Commissioners for Scotland and Ireland respectively. Where there are in any proceedings more defendants than one having their domicile or principal place of business or head office in different parts of the United Kingdom, the Commissioners shall determine before which of the ex officio Commissioners such proceedings shall depend.

Subject to this rule, if any question should arise whether the Superior Court of England, Ireland, or Scotland is the Court with reference to which in the particular case the expression "superior court" in any of the said Rules is to be understood, the same shall be determined by the Commissioners, who shall make such order in that behalf as they shall think right under the circumstances, either with reference to the particular matter under consideration only or with reference to the future conduct of the proceedings in general, or any of them, or with reference to anything that has already been done.

Provided that if any steps or proceedings have been taken under the practice of one Superior Court, and the Commissioners shall think that the practice of any other Superior Court ought to be applied, they shall make such order as shall, as far as practicable, and as is just under the circumstances, prevent the steps already taken from being rendered nugatory, and any expense already incurred from being thrown away.

Enlargement or Abridgment of Time.

Power to enlarge or abridge time.

66. The Commissioners or the Registrar, subject to an appeal to the Commissioners, may enlarge or abridge the time appointed by these Rules, or fixed by any order, for doing any act or taking any proceeding upon such terms, if any, as the justice of the case may require, and any such enlargement may be ordered, although the application for the same is not made until after the expiration of the time appointed or allowed.

Enlarging
consent.

The time for delivering, amending, or filing any answer, reply, or other pleading or document may be enlarged by consent in writing, without application to the Commissioners. Such written consent shall be left with the Registrar at the time of filing the answer, reply, or other pleading or document.

Transmission of Documents and Fees by Post.

Documents,
&c., sent by

67. referred to in Rule 18 of these Rules.

2. Payment into Court shall be signified in the defence, and the claim or cause of action in satisfaction of which such payment is made shall be specified therein.

3. With a defence setting up a tender before action, the sum of money alleged to have been tendered must be brought into Court.

4. If the defendant pays money into Court before delivering his defence, he shall serve upon the plaintiff a notice specifying both the fact that he has paid in such money, and also the claim or cause of action in respect of which such payment has been made. Such notice shall be in the Form No. 3 in Appendix B., with such variations as circumstances may require.

Heading as in Form (b).

Take notice that the defendant has paid into Court £ , and says that that sum is enough to satisfy the plaintiff's claim [or the plaintiff's claim for, &c.]

Z., defendant's solicitor.

To Mr. X. Y., the plaintiff's solicitor.

5. In the following cases of payment into Court under this Order, viz. :-

(a.) When payment into Court is made before delivery of defence ;

(b.) When the liability of the defendant, in respect of the claim or cause of action in satisfaction of which the payment into Court is made is not denied in the defence ;

(c.) When payment into Court is made with a defence setting up a tender of the sum paid ;

(a) 28 days should intervene between the date of the newspaper containing the first insertion of this notice and the date here inserted. See Schedule IV.

(b) NOTE.—In proceedings before the Commissioners the heading of this form will be the same as the heading of the forms in the First Schedule.

the money paid into Court shall be paid out to the plaintiff on his request, or to his solicitor on the plaintiff's written authority, unless the Court or a Judge shall otherwise order.

6. When the liability of the defendant in respect of the claim or cause of action, in satisfaction of which the payment into Court has been made, is denied in the defence, the following rules shall apply :—

(a.) The plaintiff may accept in satisfaction of the claim or cause of action in respect of which the payment into Court has been made, the sum so paid in, in which case he shall be entitled to have the money paid out to him as hereinafter provided, notwithstanding the defendant's denial of liability, whereupon all further proceedings, in respect of such claim or cause of action, except as to costs shall be stayed; or the plaintiff may refuse to accept the money in satisfaction and reply accordingly, in which case the money shall remain in Court subject to the provisions hereinafter mentioned.

(b.) If the plaintiff accept the money so paid in he shall, after service of such notice in the Form No. 4 in Appendix B., as in Rule 7 mentioned, or after delivery of a reply accepting the money, be entitled to have the money paid out to himself on request, or to his solicitor on the plaintiff's written authority, unless the Court or Judge shall otherwise order.

(c.) If the plaintiff does not accept in satisfaction of the claim or cause of action in respect of which the payment into Court has been made, the sum so paid in, but proceeds with the action in respect of such claim or cause of action or any part thereof, the money shall remain in Court and be subject to the order of the Court or a Judge, and shall not be paid out of Court except in pursuance of an order. If the plaintiff proceeds with the action in respect of such claim or cause of action, or any part thereof, and recovers less than the amount paid into Court, the amount paid in shall be applied, so far as is necessary, in satisfaction of the plaintiff's claim, and the balance (if any) shall, under such order, be repaid to the defendant. If the defendant succeeds in respect of such claim or cause of action, the whole amount shall, under such order, be repaid to him.

7. The plaintiff, when payment into Court is made before delivery of defence, may within four days after the receipt of notice of such payment, or when such payment is first signified in a defence, may, before reply, accept in satisfaction of the claim or cause of action in respect of which such payment has been made the sum so paid in, in which case he shall give notice to the defendant in the Form No. 4 in Appendix B., and shall be at liberty, in case the entire claim or cause of action is thereby satisfied, to tax his costs after the expiration of four days from the service of such notice, unless the Court or a Judge shall otherwise order, and in case of non-payment of the costs within forty-eight hours after such taxation, to sign judgment for his costs so taxed.

[FORM No. 4 referred to in the foregoing Rules 6 and 7 (c).]

INCREASE OF RATES.

WHEREAS by sub-section 6 of section 33 of the Railway and Canal Traffic Act, 1888, it is enacted that where a railway company intend to make any increase in the tolls, rates, or charges published in the books required to be kept by the company for public inspection, under section 14 of the Regulation of Railways Act, 1873, or the Railway and Canal Traffic Act, 1888, they shall give by publication in such manner as the Board of Trade may prescribe at least fourteen days' notice of such intended increase, stating in such notice the date
